The Theaters

The coming week the Orpheum will offer a double weekly in the production for the first time here by Oscar Wilde's "The Picture of Dorian Gray," as dramatized by Edwards Davis, M. D.

With Mr. Davis comes Adele Blood in vaudeville; James Thornton, Apdalo's Zoo circus, a clever collection of animals, and the Imperial musicians, twelve soloists, in a musical potpourri. Marion Murray and company, Travato, Pringle and Whiting and Fanny Rice remain.

The announcement has been made by the Orpheum offices that Elbert Hubbard "the sage of East Aurora," editor of the Philistine and the Fra and prophet of the Philistines, will positively make a tour of the circuit, delivering a series of "Hear to Hear" talks. He will be here in February.

Workmen have begun work on the Orpheum stage in anticipation of the coming week after next of Annette Kellerman, "the perfect woman," and expert diver. Miss Kellerman uses a large tank, which when filled weighs 26 tons, and it is necessary that it be sunk in the floor. Such weight, with the ordinary stage supports eliminated, makes it needful to construct a special underpinning, and steel beams and heavy 4x4 uprights are being installed under the Orpheum stage to support the huge tank and its weight.

Club News

At the luncheon of the Federation club yesterday woman suffrage was the topic for discussion. President Merrill introduced the speaker of the day, J. H. Braly, president of the Political Equality League of Southern California, and in doing so expressed himself as strongly in favor of equal suffrage.

There was a large attendance both of members of the club and guests who were especially interested in the subject under consideration and Mr. Braly's remarks were received with enthusiasm. Taking as his subject "When Women Vote—Then a Completed Democracy," he said he believed in votes for women because he believed in Democracy; that Democracy has enfranchised men and its present duty is to complete the work by enfranchising women; that when the moral element resident in woman is permitted to express its influence through the ballot we will have complete Democracy and it will till then.

In reviewing the results of woman suffrage in the states and nations where it has been adopted, it was emphasized that in no single instance has the franchise been taken away or restricted.

In closing his remarks, he quoted the argument of Wendell Phillips, made more than forty years ago in a plea for woman's suffrage: "Either a woman is like a man, in which case she must inevitably be entitled to every right a man possesses; or she is unlike a man in which case no man can have any possible right to speak for her."

Dr. M. Evangelina Jordan, who has recently returned from participating in the program at the National Dental convention at Denver, spoke of the many evidences of the success of equal suffrage in Colorado, of the influence of the Professional Woman's club and of the beneficent influence of women as shown in the school laws, such as that requiring examinations as to the condition of the eyes, ears and teeth of every child entering the public schools. She also spoke of the National Association of Trained Nurses, many of whose members she see need of and are working for equal suffrage.

Speakers at the regular meeting of the Votes-for-Women club which will meet in the club rooms at 915 South Olive street this evening, will be W. J. Hamlin, J. W. O. Rech, Walter Leeds and J. P. Fransee. They are regular Republicans who voted against woman suffrage in the assembly and are candidates for re-election. They will tell the members of the club their reasons for voting as they did.

Members of the San Pedro Parent-Teacher association held a picnic at Sepamore grove yesterday. More than forty guests were present. Plans for the fall session were discussed.
