ANDERSON NOW IN GOOD GOV'T WORK

People's Lobby Man Selected to Succeed Bent as Secretary of Organization

CANDIDATES ABOVE PARTY

Woolwine Praised for Efficient and Uncompromising Fight Against Machine Rule

George Baker Anderson, newly elected secretary of the Los Angeles Good Government organization, succeeding Charles E. Bent, yesterday began actively to detail plans for the pending Good Government campaign in the interest of the "third" ticket endorsed by the Good Government county central committee Monday night.

Mr. Anderson, who is known throughout the state as "the people's lobby man," which popular institution he established at Sacramento during the last legislature to act as watchdog for the taxpayers of the state in lobbying against Southern Pacific legislation and other undesirable measures, stated yesterday that he is personally well pleased with the "third" ticket and regards its success as already assured beyond the slightest question.

Mr. Anderson is considered one of the shrewdest political "dopesters" in the state, and an election prophet of unusual perspicuity. He is a native of New York state, where for many years he was prominent in reform movements and became one of the best known newspaper men in the Empire state.

He has been prominent in California politics for about ten years and has participated in practically all of the larger reform movements in California since his earliest residence here. He is the founder of the Pacific Outlook, and as secretary of the Good Government league in San Francisco during the famous graft prosecution and the Heney campaign Mr. Anderson did some unusually effective work for better government and cleaner politics.

When the Good Government movement spread to Los Angeles Mr. Anderson was employed as editorial writer, adviser and publicity manager and took an active part in the recent victorious struggle to "clean out" the Republican party. To his labors, as much as to the efforts of the other one man, was due the remarkable victory achieved in the last direct primary election by the Republican reform or insurgent forces.

GUARD FOR TAXPAYERS. "The Good Government organization of Los Angeles county, which has highly honored me with the office of its secretary," said Mr. Anderson yesterday in a hearing before the county board of supervisors, "is one of the most fearless and commendable non-partisan political organizations in the west, representing principles which should inspire it with sympathy and loyal support of every honest and progressive citizen who is interested in the prosperity and development of the state, regardless of party influences."

"It is standing guard at the vault of the taxpayers, and as a sentinel to prevent the election to office by corrupt corporations and men who would betray the interests of the class bosses and the masses of honest, competent and patriotic men who will protect the public from the graft and corruption which in other years has run rampant through our government."

"To insure the successful operation of this function it is necessary, of course, for the members of the organization to be men who are neither Democrats nor Republicans, but merely patriotic citizens of Los Angeles, determined to take steps to insure the defeat of certain party nominees who are notoriously Southern Pacific allies. They were determined, too, to work together for the election of certain nominees who are known to be able, honest and conscientious."

"Such a man, for instance, is Thomas Lee Woolwine, who has been familiar to the noble and uplifting work that Mr. Woolwine has done in the interest of better government and cleaner politics. Who is there in Los Angeles who does not know what heroic sacrifices of time and business Mr. Woolwine has made to insure the success of the Good Government non-partisan spirit in this progressive community? He has laid aside his successful law practice; he has devoted himself constantly and energetically to the work of defeating the Southern Pacific machine, and he has stood as the champion of the people that even supposed a popular ally of Los Angeles county. On the other hand, of course, we all know Fredericks."

WOOLWINE SHOULD WIN. "There is no need for me to call attention to the conduct of the present district attorney's office; to the fact that his department of our county government represents the stronghold, the bulwark of the Southern Pacific political machine in Southern California. As the good government nominee for district attorney, against such a man as Fredericks, Mr. Woolwine should receive the unqualified support of Republicans and Democrats alike. And all of them should work for his success, boost him at every opportunity, leave no stone unturned to see that Mr. Woolwine, and not Fredericks, is the next district attorney of Los Angeles county. The interests of the taxpayers, the well being of the greatest city in the west, and the progress of the progressive people of this country, and the future prosperity and development of the county, which will be attended by many great and vital legal problems and litigation that may involve millions of dollars—all these things demand the election of a clean, honest, competent and conscientious man, such as Mr. Woolwine. "If there is any man in the state who has repeatedly manifested his machine affiliations and proved himself unfit to occupy the bench of the state supreme court, one of the highest offices in the gift of the people and involving tremendous responsibilities of public trust, that man is M. A. Melvin, the machine incumbent whom the push managed to nominate at the recent primary election. Judge M. C. Sloss, the other Republican nominee, is of course highly satisfactory to the good government forces, but we have no objection to his nomination. Hence I regard the action of the Good Government organization in endorsing William F. Lawlor and Benjamin F. Bledsoe as one of the most magnificent steps yet taken by two organizations, and everything possible will be done to insure the election of these nominees. The success of Lawlor and Bledsoe insures the defeat of Melvin and, naturally, insures also the success of Justice Sloss.

George B. Anderson, New Secretary of Good Government Organization

"We expect to wage a strenuous contest for the election of every nominee endorsed by the Good Government organization, and believe the people will stand by the organization in every instance. Coroner Hartwell, whose record has been too frequently exposed to require a review, probably will get the solid support of the machine, but we have endorsed a clean and competent man against him, Dr. A. C. Pratt, who has the added qualification of being a reputable physician, which is highly important in his hearing of the coroner's office, and I am satisfied Dr. Pratt will be elected by an overwhelming majority."

CANDIDATES ARE ENDORSED. "For judges, the Good Government organization is going to work and to snare for the election of Frank G. Finley, John Perry Wood and Albert Lee Stephens, the first two of whom are Republicans and the last a Democrat. It is the sense of the Good Government organization that Gavin Craig, the man who was endorsed and nominated by the Lincoln-Roosevelt league, should be defeated.

"I am already mapping out the plans for the campaign, and it will be a strenuous one. We are going to make a special effort to elect Walter J. Desmond for tax collector, Frank S. Forbes, Lucius P. Green, William Young and Sidney Reeve for Los Angeles justices of the peace; Joseph W. Chambers, William Frederickson, Stephen Monteleone and Warren Williams for Los Angeles police judges; and Edwin C. Mayhew for the state assembly in the Seventy-third district, against Henry Lyon, the notorious Southern Pacific machine nominee."

"We are looking to The Herald for a great deal of our success in the coming struggle, and with the co-operation of this commendable paper, of which the Democrats and the Republicans may justly feel proud, we are certain to achieve a clean victory."

REPUBLICANS FRIGHTENED INTO GETTING TOGETHER. SAN BERNARDINO, Sept. 20.—The Lincoln-Roosevelt league last night closed the breach between the Republican organizations, which developed last week, by the action in taking the campaign of Johnson out of the hands of the county organization, by endorsing the Republican county candidates. There has been much talk on the part of radical members of the league of bolting to the Democratic county candidates, but the realization of the fact that Bell is making a campaign that indicates his election has caused them to switch to the support of the county candidates with the hope that the organization will give its entire support to Johnson.

STOCK INCREASE PLANNED FOR OREGON SHORT LINE. Large Construction Schemes Indicated by Financial Move. NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Stockholders of the Oregon Short Line Railroad company, controlled by the Union Pacific railroad, will be asked to approve a proposition to increase the capital stock of the company from $27,500,000 to $300,000,000. It will come up for approval at a stockholders' meeting October 12 at Salt Lake City.

All of the stock of the Oregon Short Line is owned by the Union Pacific. Officials of the Harriman lines said today that should the increase, which amounts to $275,000,000, be granted no new stock would be issued in the near future, but that it would be held in reserve for emergency purposes, although the expectation is that the money will be used for new construction on the Oregon Short Line next year.

WELLBORN FINDS BELL A FAVORITE

All Parts of Northern California Show Remarkable Boosting for Democratic Ticket

NOT A REPUBLICAN YEAR

Energy and Uniformity of Purpose Strong Among All Democrats in the State

"Northern California is all Bell. I have never seen such a remarkable revolution in public sentiment as that which has taken place in San Francisco and Sacramento during the last three weeks. The Democratic party is better organized and on a more thorough working basis throughout the state than it has been in twenty years."

So stated Police Commissioner Chas. Wellborn, on his return from a visit to Sacramento and San Francisco late yesterday. Mr. Wellborn attended two political conferences in San Francisco, and incidentally attended to several legal matters in connection with his law business while in the bay cities. His business there, he says, brought him in contact with a number of the most prominent lawyers and business men in the north.

"Everywhere I went," said Mr. Wellborn, "I heard the name of Theodore Bell for governor. In San Francisco they have organized scores of Bell-Spellacy clubs that are marvels of political activity and enthusiasm. They are boosting the Democratic standard-bearers on every side, and the most remarkable feature of the Democratic boom is the falling out of the Republicans from the Democratic year, and the further fact that every indication in the north points to the inevitable election of Mr. Bell as the next governor, have had the usual effect of influencing many persons who at all times want to be with the 'majority' of the state. There are hundreds of others who are joining the Democratic ranks merely because they want to kill off the insurgent movement."

SAN FRANCISCO FOR BELL. "The election of Mr. Bell is conceded in San Francisco by every politician who is at all conversant with the situation, and the Republicans of the old-line element have no hesitancy in admitting it is a Democratic year from top to bottom."

"The northern California Democracy has but one fear. They are confident Mr. Bell will make a clean sweep in practically every county in the state, but conditions in Los Angeles county have been wrongly reported to the state central committee, I believe, and for this reason there are some meetings as to Los Angeles county. When I informed the northern Democratic leaders what we have been doing here, and the phenomenal change that has taken place since the direct primary election, they opened their eyes somewhat and shook my hand so vigorously I could scarcely see it."

"I have assured all the leaders in the north that, while we expect to have to put up a hard fight in this county, and realize that it is the most doubtful county in the state, the Democrats here are receiving such unprecedented support from the dissatisfied Republicans that the county will poll a far heavier vote for the head of the ticket than ever been given it before. I have assured them, as conditions here have led me to believe, that the Democrats of Los Angeles county will elect a large portion of their county ticket."

"The Good Government organization has endorsed some of our leading Democratic county candidates, which will insure their names going out at least two tickets, with the probability that these same Democratic candidates will receive the endorsement of the Progressive league, which will put their names on three different tickets, and thus enable them to draw votes from three different sources, which, unlike the vote in the primary election, will count to the total. It must be remembered, also, that the Lincoln-Roosevelt Republicans will vote for the Democratic nominees, and the regular Republicans and the regular Democrats are determined to knife the Lincoln-Roosevelt Republicans who are organized according to their platform, for the purpose of getting in line the new voters and interesting them in the fight for good government."

"Their efforts," said Mr. Fulwider, "will be to continue and sustain the good work already begun in this city, and extend it into the county. They organized a thorough and efficient business administration of all officers, and the extension of civil service to cover all appointments."

"The league is in no way affiliated with any other organization," continued Mr. Fulwider, explaining the prospects and purposes of the new organization. "It is an independent body, whose sole aim is to labor unceasingly for the cause of good government. The members of our league expect to endorse a ticket in the pending campaign and will do active work in every precinct in the county for the ticket they select."

"None but the best men will be considered, and every man's record will be thoroughly investigated in order that the league may stand squarely behind him without the necessity of an ultimate apology to the voters. I believe that we will endorse many, if not all, of the nominees endorsed by the Good Government organization, except that we may go further and endorse a full ticket, which, of course, we will have on the ticket at the general election, November 8, in an independent column, by petition."

"The league is to be a permanent organization and will stand and work for all projects in the city and county that are for the best interests of the community. We favor the consolidation of city and county government. Meetings will be held every Wednesday evening at 535 Stinson building. Once a month an open meeting and a dinner will be held at one of the downtown hotels."

Besides Mr. Fulwider, the president of the league, the officers are: C. A. Copper and W. E. Perrins, vice presidents; Isadore Morris, secretary; well known leaders in the fight against the machine and corrupt politics. Mr. Fulwider, the president, was born in Virginia and raised in Indiana, where his father, Dr. William H. Ful-

WIFE'S CHARGES GET MATE 60-DAY JAIL SENTENCE. Mrs. Frank A. Yoakum Accuses Husband of Desertion.

TWO RALLIES UNDERTAKEN BY WORKERS OF Y. W. C. A. Dr. Burdette and Prof. Francis to Address Young Women.

Drunkness, abuse and desertion of his wife caused Frank A. Yoakum of Seventy-first street and Compton avenue, to be sentenced to sixty days in the county jail yesterday by Justice Summerfield.

Justice Summerfield warned Yoakum that if he was ever brought up for a similar charge again he would get the limit of the law. "It's as easy to see a bargain in a used automobile, through want advertising, as it used to be—and still is—to secure a horse and carriage."
