Mrs. Dwight Hart, Who Has Returned from Delightful Trip Through Europe

Mrs. Dwight Hart, who has returned from a delightful trip through Europe for the summer, are at home again.

The Theaters

Kelsey and Shannon, well known in the legitimate, are going into vaudeville again and will be seen later at the Orpheum in a sketch called "The Woman and the Prince."

Gertrude Coghlan and her husband will succeed Minnie Dupree in "The Minister's Wife," now playing at the Orpheum, when Miss Dupree gives it up in October to return to the legitimate.

Some of the new acts put out by the Orpheum's own producing department recently, under the direction of Charles Foley, include Felice Morris and company in "A Call for Help," Mildred Morris and company in "Susan's Gentleman" and "The River of Light," two sketches by Alfred Hollingsworth, and a skit called "Back from Africa," the purport of which can be easily guessed.

The Riding Ronneys, here with the Barnum & Bailey show, will play the Orpheum circuit this winter.

La Pia, the sensational danseuse who will head the new Orpheum road show this season, made her American debut in New York last week. Variety says of her: "After looking at all others in that line, La Pia stands out head and shoulders above the best of them." She does spectacular dancing in a new way. Another her numbers are the Japanese, the pyramid, the fire dance and a sea dance that is said to be entrancing.

CHICO, Sept. 21.—Because the insurance company for which he was agent refused to accept the risk of issuing a policy on a drove of mules belonging to County Supervisor Charles Brown, N. C. Young is now in the city jail facing a charge of embezzlement. Young solicited insurance from Brown on his mules a few weeks ago, and accepted $180 as payment of the first premium. The first premium would have been rightfully Young's as his commission had not been for the fact that the insurance company declined to accept the application for a policy. Brown was so notified, and immediately demanded the return of the money from Young. Young, however, had spent the money, and his arrest followed.

Club News

Members of the executive board of the Matinee Musicians will meet this afternoon at Symphony hall to arrange details for the year's work. The first regular meeting of the club will be held the first Thursday in October when L. E. Bechmer will give an address. At the meeting this afternoon Mrs. Engelhof Rundel, chairman of the club extension work in the state federation of women's clubs will present arguments toward federating, and it is probable that the board will favor this suggestion.

The dramatic committee of the College Women's club will meet Saturday at 1 o'clock at the Y. W. C. A. building. Miss Elsie Ara Waggoner, chairman of the committee, is planning an active year for the workers in the dramatic section and it is probable that these young club women will have an important part in the program arranged for the state federation meeting next spring at Long Beach. The splendid performance given by the gifted fellow workers, hope to attain even more success this year.

Mrs. Jane Beatty, president of the High School Elks club, returned from San Francisco Tuesday evening. The club will hold its first meeting Tuesday, October 4, when a club breakfast will be served. The new year book is about ready for mailing, and probably will be in the hands of the members this week.

The opening meeting of the Wednesday Morning club will be held Wednesday afternoon, October 5. There will be a musical program, and the president's address, and tea will be served afterward at an informal social hour. The club year book is now at the printers and will be issued within a few days.

"Votes for Women" club will meet this evening at the headquarters, 915 South Olive street. The principal speaker will be Louis R. Works, who will have for his subject "Direct Legislation."

The marriage of Miss Shirley Dell Close, daughter of Mrs. Ernest S. Pickering to Dr. Joseph A. Wilkerson, was solemnized at noon yesterday in Christ Episcopal church, the Rev. Baker P. Lee officiating. The bride, who was unattended, was given into the keeping of the bridegroom by her father, Ernest S. Pickering, and wore a becoming tailored gown of apricot zebeline with a black tulle and carried a shower of lilies of the valley and roses. Dr. and Mrs. Wilkerson will leave the first of next week for Pennsylvania where they will make their home. Since the engagement of Miss Close was first made known many affairs have been given in her honor among them a five hundred party with which Miss Gladys Taylor entertained at her home in South Pasadena. The house was decorated with Ulrich Brunner roses and ferns and a special guest of honor prize, in the form of a salad spoon was given the bride-elect. Miss Close also captured the first prize which was a beautiful string of pearl beads. Supper was served after the game and covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Ernest S. Pickering, Mr. and Mrs. Lovell Page, Mrs. James Curry, Mrs. F. V. Taylor, Miss Flora Stephenson of Redlands, Miss Laura Babcock, Miss Viola Hanson of San Diego, Miss Josephine Madsen of Portland, Miss David Wetlin, Thomas E. Henley, Arthur Taylor, Charles Little, James Curry, Roger Thompson, Clifford Newhouse and Harry Thompson.

Mrs. Henry T. Schultz of East Thirty-second street entertained with a delightful shower in honor of Miss Viva Simpson whose engagement to Charles Barton has been recently announced. The house was decorated with carnations and ferns and in one room a bower of ferns and woodbine was arranged with a miniature well which contained the gifts of linen which the bride fished out. The guests included Mrs. E. C. Talbot, Mrs. John Hoke, Mrs. Hudson, Mrs. Kelly, Mrs. John C. Hyde, Mrs. Emma Hyde, Mrs. D. D. Webb, Mrs. Roy Longshore, Mrs. C. Bonny, Miss Viva Simpson, Miss Maida Hoke, Miss Edna Webb, Miss Bernice Longshore, Miss Maybelle Schultz and Miss M. Mitchell.

The Vincent Methodist church was the scene of an interesting wedding last evening when Miss Ida Cincha Rookledge became the bride of Earl N. Reber, the Rev. C. M. Crist reading the marriage lines in the presence of over one hundred guests. Preceding the ceremony a bridal hymn was sung by the church choir followed by a solo by Mrs. R. B. Sheldon. The bride was attired in a gown of white silk with the customary veil held in place by orange buds and carried a shower of bride's roses. Her only attendant, Mrs. Howard Ullery of Pomona in white crepe de chine, carried an arm bouquet of roses and ferns. The church was beautifully decorated by the members of the Philathea class of the church of which the bride is a member. White and green were used in great profusion, great bunches of asparagus ferns and white carnations were fastened on each pew and over the altar was erected an arch of ferns and flowers with a white floral ball suspended from the center. Ropes of ferns from the arch were hung to the front pews making a most artistic effect. The couple left for a wedding trip to San Francisco where they will be for two weeks and upon their return will be at home to their friends at

Music Notes

With an audience which will occupy every inch of seating space in its great chamber, from pit to dome, the Auditorium will be opened to its new season of musical and dramatic attractions tonight. A more propitious opening could hardly be asked under any circumstances, as the event will be the rendition of a magnificent concert program by Ellen Beach Yaw and her associate artists, and the occasion a benefit for the Jewish Orphans Home, whose main building was destroyed by fire August 1 last, and to whose immediate reconstruction, or at least the commencement thereof, the net proceeds of tonight's affair will be devoted.

Socially, this will be the most brilliant function since last season. The patronesses of the affair, who will occupy the boxes and loges are the most prominent society matrons of the city.

The Jewish clubs and fraternities will be out en masse, and the interest of the general public is also large. Miss Yaw has never given so fine a program here. It will include the Hindoo prayer and bell song, from Delibes' "Lakme," Widors' "Il Primo Amore," Brahms' "Vergebliches Ständchen," the mad scene from Thomas' "Hamlet," and "Le Rossignol," from Masses' "Les noces de Jeannette." Miss Yaw will also present three songs of her own, "Cradle Song," "Rose Child," and "Love's Lament."

Jay Plowe, flute virtuoso of international reputation, will give three solo selections. Mrs. Mary Newman, pianist, will be heard in a solo as well as in the accompaniments.

J. J. Falk, organist of Temple Baptist church, will be heard in several selections upon the great Auditorium organ.

Walter Cassidy, a young man who had been held in connection with the crime, was exonerated and released. The jury did not consider the statement of Eddy Shepard, the daughter of J. W. Shepard, who said she killed her father.
