

DE RUDIO, EXILED NOBLEMAN, DIES

Sickness Ends Adventurous Career of Italian Soldier of Fortune

BODY TO BE CREMATED HERE

Count Whose Life Ends in Los Angeles Once Tried to Kill French Empress

Count Charles C. de Rudio, soldier of fortune under many flags and an exile from France because of an attempt he made on the life of the Empress Eugenie, died at 7:30 o'clock yesterday morning at his home, 1339 New England street. He was 73 years old and a native of Italy.

Educated for a military career in Austria, he finished his education on the staff of the Italian patriot, Garibaldi, when he was but 20 years old. In 1858, with several others, he entered into a plot to slay the Empress Eugenie. De Rudio hurled a bomb beneath her carriage, was captured with his comrades and sentenced to die on the guillotine.

Queen Victoria, prompted by De Rudio's young English bride, interceded for him with the French empress, and his sentence was commuted. He was imprisoned at first in one of the French penal islands. His companions in the attempted assassination were beheaded.

De Rudio, with the aid of royalist friends, escaped and came to America. He enlisted in the Union army during the Civil War and was promoted for gallantry on the field. He was an officer in the Second Infantry at the close of the war when that regiment was sent into the south to preserve order.

De Rudio campaigned against the Indians in the west and was one of the few that escaped from the massacre of Custer's command by Sitting Bull at the Little Big Horn. He was a member of the Loyal Legion and honorary president of practically every Italian organization in Los Angeles.

The deceased leaves a widow, Mary Booth de Rudio, two sisters living in Italy, a son, Hercules Augustus of Signal, Ariz., and three daughters, Mrs. H. C. Scott, Mrs. N. B. Vickers, and Mrs. S. E. Adair, all in Los Angeles. There are three grandchildren.

De Rudio was a member of the Liberal club, and one of the old soldiers dying wishes was that he should be buried without religious ceremony.

Funeral services will take place at his home Thursday afternoon. Cremation will be in the Los Angeles crematory.

REPORTS COTTON GROWING ON INCREASE IN HAWAII

The cotton industry may in a few years take rank with sugar and pineapples as the leading products of the Hawaiian islands, it is reported that experiments that are now being made prove of any value, according to Conrad von Hamm of the firm of Von Hamm & Co., Honolulu, who is in Los Angeles on business, a guest at the Alexandria hotel. Mr. Von Hamm states that extensive experiments in raising cotton are now being watched with great interest by all the agriculturists there.

If the experiments are successful, according to Mr. Von Hamm, Hawaii will probably take rank as a cotton growing center as well as a producer of sugar and pineapples.

Mr. Von Hamm is at the head of the firm which controls the hotel situation of Honolulu, having the Alexander Young, the Moana and Royal Hawaiian hotels under its management. He has been east on a business trip and is now returning to San Francisco, from where he will sail in a few days for Honolulu.

GIVE YOUR STOMACH A NICE VACATION

Don't Do It By Starving It Either—Let a Substitute Do the Work.

The old adage, "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," applies as well to the stomach, one of the most important organs of the human system, as it does to the man himself.

If your stomach is worn out and rebels against the food you eat, beyond its limit, the only sensible thing you can do is to give it a rest. Employ a substitute for a short time and see if it will not more than repay you in results.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are a willing and most efficient substitute. They themselves digest every bit of food in the stomach in just the same way that the stomach itself would, were it well. They contain all the essential elements that the gastric juice and other digestive fluids of the stomach contain and actually act just the same and do just the same work as the natural fluids would do, were the stomach well and sound. They, therefore, relieve the stomach, just as one workman relieves another, and permit it to rest and recuperate and regain its normal health and strength.

This "vacation" idea was suggested by the letter of a prominent lawyer in Chicago. Read what he says: "I was engaged in the most momentous undertaking of my life in bringing about the coalition of certain great interests that meant much to me as well as my clients. It was not the work of days, but of months. I was working night and day almost, when at a very critical time my stomach went clear back on me. The undue mental strain brought it about and hurried up what would have happened later on. I thought, 'What I ate I had to literally force down and that was a source of misery as I had a sour stomach much of the time. My head ached, I was sluggish and began to lose my ambition to carry out my undertaking. It looked pretty gloomy for me and I considered my plight in one of my clients. He had been cured by Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and at once went down to a drug store and brought a box up to the office.

"I had not taken a quarter of that box before I found that they would do all the work my stomach ever did; and as a rest or vacation was out of the question for me I determined to give my stomach a vacation. I kept right on taking the tablets and braced up and went ahead with my work with renewed vigor, ate just as much as I ever did and carried out that undertaking to a successful issue. I feel that I have Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets to thank for saving me the handsomest fee I ever received as well as my reputation and last but not least my stomach."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale by all druggists at 50 cents a box.

PLANS AIR RACES HERE IN JANUARY

Aero Club of California Will Try to Bring Leading Aviators to Los Angeles

At a meeting of the Aero Club of California last night it was stated that Los Angeles would have a mid-winter aviation meet rivaling in magnitude and prominence of contestants the meet held at Dominguez field last January. It is proposed to hold the contemplated meet on the same field, probably about the middle of January, 1911.

The Aero club has been endeavoring to interest the Merchants and Manufacturers' association in backing an aviation exhibition, and the association is to give its answer after a meeting of the board of directors scheduled for next week. In event the answer is unfavorable, M. C. Tunison, manager of the Dominguez aviation field, has notified the club that sufficient capital will be raised to carry out the big contest.

The local air navigators are in hopes of securing the entry of numerous world-famous aviators and are confident that all the participants in the recent flights at Belmont park, New York, will be seen in action here. The Wright brothers may be among the headliners of the meet, they assert.

The local Japanese association has asked the club to send representatives to the celebration planned for the entertainment of the officers and crew of the Japanese battleships Asama and Kasagi at Ascot park, November 25. The club has named Charles F. Walsh and B. F. Roehrl to make answer to the Japanese.

The Aero club will hold an aviation matinee at the Los Angeles Motor-drome next Sunday afternoon. It is announced that in view of the fact that the meet of October 22 did not come up to the expectations of the audience, the flights being spoiled by high winds and unforeseen accidents, those present who received tickets for a future meet of the club may redeem the tickets at next Sunday's exhibition.

ENGINEER CLAIMS LAWYER STRUCK HIM WITH SEAL

Railroad Man Tells of Quarrel Over Divorce Papers

M. S. Roberts, a locomotive engineer, living at 556 Maple avenue, was treated at the receiving hospital last night for a deep laceration on the back of his head. Roberts told the police surgeons and the detectives that he was assaulted by W. J. Henson, an attorney, in the latter's office at 529 Bryson building.

According to the story of Roberts he is being sued for divorce. Yesterday, it appears, he was served with papers and later went to the office of Henson to announce that he refused to accept the service because the papers did not have the proper seal.

An altercation ensued and soon hot words were passed, culminating, it is alleged by Roberts, by the attorney seizing a sealing stamp and striking the engineer on the head.

After his injury was dressed Roberts left the hospital, announcing that he would swear to a complaint against the attorney.

TWO WORKERS INJURED WHEN STACK COLLAPSES

Two employees of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric corporation were injured yesterday afternoon by the collapse of one of the large stacks at the Aliso and Center street plant. The extent of their injuries has not been determined. The men were working behind the stack when it fell and were struck by falling brick. No statement as to the cause of the accident could be obtained from employees of the company last night.

FEARING INSANITY AGED MAN LEAPS FROM WINDOW

Insomnia and Failing Mentality Lead to Suicide of East 36th St. Resident

Because he was troubled with insomnia and had for years feared he would go insane, T. D. Hammon, aged 75, father of M. E. Hammon of 1181 East Thirty-sixth street, ended his life by jumping from a second story window at the home of his son, with whom he had been living, early yesterday morning. Coroner Hartwell signed a certificate of suicide, M. E. Hammon waiving an inquest.

The body was found shortly after 6 o'clock yesterday morning by a passer-by, R. P. Crum of 125 West Thirty-sixth street. He saw it face downward in the rose garden beneath the window from which the suicide had plunged.

A physician was summoned, who said the man had probably been dead several hours when the body was found. It was removed to the Peck & Chast mortg.

According to the members of the son's family, Hammon had been failing mentally for a long time, a fact which recently worried the old man.

YOUNG BAKER COMMITS SUICIDE BY INHALING GAS

Hastens Death by Placing Improved Funnel Over Jet

Emil Pierson, 23 years old, a baker, committed suicide late yesterday afternoon by inhaling illuminating gas in his room at the Hotel Portland, 444 1/2 South Spring street. The body was discovered by Mrs. Josephine Mozart, the landlady, who detected the odor of gas and traced the escape to the room occupied by Pierson. The motive for the act is not known.

Monday night Pierson asked the landlady for a piece of string, telling her that he wished to use it for tying up his laundry. Instead of using it for that purpose Pierson tied it around a piece of cardboard which he had shaped into a funnel. He placed the improvised funnel over a gas jet in the wall, just above the bed, lay down and placed the cardboard tube in his mouth and turned on the gas.

The parents of the dead man live in a small town near Seattle. Mrs. C. Light, a sister of Pierson, lives at 900 Ganahl street.

HOUSEKEEPER SEIZED AND ROBBED IN DARK OF $75

Reaches Hospital with Marks of Thief's Fingers on Throat

Miss Mary Smith, 35 years old, a housekeeper living at 305 South Spring street, reported to the police that at 3:30 o'clock yesterday morning an unknown man forced her into a doorway on Spring street, between Third and Fourth streets, and after choking her, demanded her money. Miss Smith says the robber got $75.

The woman, without the aid of the police, reached the receiving hospital in a serious condition. Finger prints were found about her throat and there were abrasions in the skin caused by the man's finger nails. After being treated for her injuries the woman returned to her rooms.

OPERATIC DOUBLE BILL PROVES BIG ATTRACTION

Ettore Campana Receives Ovation from Large Audience at Auditorium

BY SHIRLEY OLYMPIUS. If further proof that the Bevan opera company is an aggregation of artists and that Los Angeles music lovers are being afforded an exceptional opportunity as well as a rare treat through the agency of Manager Behymer, it was given last night when the popular double bill, "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "I Pagliacci," was enjoyed by a large and enthusiastic audience at the Auditorium while the presentation of Mascagni's work there were rough spots, nothing was so marked as to mar the great beauty of the work. The Leoncavallo opera score heavily than did "Cavalleria Rusticana," principally from the fact that there is more musical meat in it than in the other. Whatever may be the limits of the opera sung by the Bevan company, it is certain that such music has never before been heard in Los Angeles, or anywhere else for the matter of that, a such prices.

favorable impression with everybody. For the little folks Manager Donnellan offers Mme. Jenny's miniature circus of trained Persian Angora cats and monkeys. The cats are beautiful specimens and the monkeys are cleverly trained. The offering is one of those refined animal acts which never grow tiresome.

Solo and ensembles played on various instruments difficult to master display the talents of the Hughes musical trio. This act receives much applause because the various selections are played in an adept manner and have been chosen with a view to suiting the tastes of vaudeville regulars.

Hallen and Hayes, in chatter and songs of the down-to-the-minute sort and new motion pictures complete the bill.

Roscoe Arbuckle, who will be remembered for his portrayal of the elephantine college boy in "Strongheart," when that drama was produced at the Burbank, is now playing the sheriff in "A Glimpse of Prairie Life," the skit which the Arizona Joe company is using as a framework for its sensational specialties and lassoing at the Pantages this week. The real sheriff sprained his ankle in San Francisco and the organization arrived Monday morning at the Pantages.

A bulky officer was needed and Arbuckle was pressed into service with all of his 225 pounds. He filled the part so well that they are basing their act on Chicago, but the Captain hero refuses, saying "California for mine."

Lebler and company, who will offer Viola Allen, accompanied by James O'Neill and the greatest supporting company ever organized, including Minna Gale and Henry Stanford, at the Pantages theater next week in the new P. Marlon Crawford play, "The White Sister," have been the producers of some of the greatest successes the American stage has ever known.

The comparative fame of this firm may be judged from the fact that they have given the stage "The Christian," "The Man from Home," "The Battle of the Dawn of Tomorrow," "The Melting Pot," "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," "The Fourth Estate," "Alias Valentin," "Salomey Jane," "Nurse Marjorie," and a host of others with which every reader of dramatic happenings is thoroughly familiar. No greater recommendation could be given unless the firm's history could be given in full.

There seems to be some sort of witchery by which the Liebers got out and dig up phenomenal successes, at a time when other producers are clamoring for plays with new ideas.

The seat sale opens tomorrow morning.

Although delayed by the express strike until too late for a showing on Monday, the Orpheum was enabled yesterday to put on the first moving picture views of the baseball games for the championship between the Cubs and the Athletics. The films are remarkably clear and good, and in them the action of the teams and their star players is plainly visible, while the enormous crowds of spectators form an interesting background. The films, which are to be shown first at the Orpheum, will run this week, and every fan in town is likely to clamor for a chance to see them.

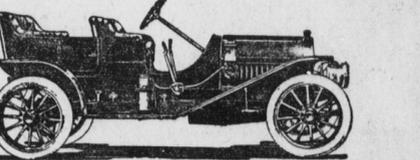

La Tortajada, a Spanish premier danseuse, said to be one of the most expert of pantomimists, is due here shortly. She will give a whole pantomime, dancing the various roles herself alone and making some wonderfully quick changes in order to keep up the action.

Work on the Fred Henderson building in South Broadway, which is to house the new Orpheum, is now making rapid strides. The balcony concrete work is all done, and most of that for the gallery is set; the boxes and the stage steel is in place, and roofing is expected to begin shortly. The house is to be completed shortly after January 1, and will be opened as soon as the paint is dry on it.

As work progresses the beauty of the building of the new theater, as well as its cozy size, are easily to be seen. The nearness of every seat to the stage is a triumph in designing, as it would seem impossible to succeed so well with 2000 seats. Yet the remotest seat is only sixty feet. The stage will be one of the largest and most perfectly fitted in the world, the off-stage working space being especially ample.

Daphne Pollard, one of the original Dolls who came from Australia with the Lilliputian opera company, heads a musical comedy company of her own to appear at the Pantages next week as the headline attraction of an all new bill of seven acts. The turn is a miniature musical comedy in one act, "A Doll's Shop," which gives Miss Pollard excellent opportunity for her well known musical specialties.
