Democratic Candidate Emphasizes Charges Before Large S. Pasadena Audience

FAILURE OF PROSECUTIONS

Speaker Flays Graft Politicians Who Have Influenced Cases Against Offenders

In spite of the fact that two of Fredericks' henchmen were working all day in South Pasadena, in a vain endeavor to influence the voters to stay away from the woolwine mass meeting held in Herthly hall, Mission road, South Pasadena, the crowd that greeted Mr. Woolwine last night was a record-breaking one.

Mr. Woolwine reviewed his charges against the present incumbent of the district attorney's office and insisted throughout that the people ask him questions which he would gladly listen to and answer in detail.

Mayor Alexander Repudiates Fredericks; Refuses to Speak on the Same Platform

In response to a letter from the Republican county central committee asking Mayor George Alexander, who is a member of the committee, to speak for the Republican ticket in the present campaign, the committee yesterday received a letter from the mayor repudiating John D. Fredericks as the candidate for district attorney and refusing absolutely to support Mr. Fredericks or appear on the same platform with him.

In addition to the long list of Woolwine charges the mayor asserts that Mr. Fredericks has used the office of district attorney for political purposes and has refused to fight against the "solid three" of the board of supervisors.

Mayor Alexander's letter is as follows:
Republican County Central Committee, 424 South Broadway, City.

Gentlemen: In reply to yours of October 12, I will say that I will be glad to speak in behalf of the Republican ticket at two or three meetings during the last two weeks of the campaign, and that the committee may assign me to almost any evening other than Mondays and Thursdays.

Under no circumstances, however, will I appear on the platform with Capt. John D. Fredericks, and I wish it distinctly and publicly understood that in no way must my action in speaking for the Republican ticket be construed to be an indorsement of Capt. Fredericks, for the following reasons:

Laying aside the charges made by Mr. Woolwine, which to my mind have not been disproved, I cannot support Mr. Fredericks because—
First—He has used the office of district attorney for political purposes.

Second—While I was supervisor the difficulties of the situation were greatly increased because the district attorney's office would not stand up and fight with me against the schemes of the "solid three."
Very truly yours,
GEORGE ALEXANDER.

CHARGE HARTWELL HAS IGNORED LAW

Leading Undertakers Make Accusations Against Coroner in Conduct of Office

Leading undertakers of Los Angeles have investigated the advertisements of Coroner Calvin Hartwell, which have praised the Southern Pacific adherent to the skies, and as a result have made a direct charge of misrepresentation.

In the following communication the investigators explain what they have found:
"The frantic efforts made by Calvin Hartwell and his machine friends to save to themselves the coroner's office is almost pitiful. In a paid advertisement, which they are publishing in the columns of the press throughout the county, entitled 'A Statement of Facts,' they try to tell to the voters of Los Angeles county that the coroner's office is conducted in a manner quite acceptable to some of the undertakers and that courteous and businesslike treatment is handed out to all alike.

"A Statement of Facts" is nothing but political buncombe of very poor quality. The majority of undertakers whose names are attached to this 'statement' are outside of the city and each is the only undertaker in his town. Many of these are putting forth their best efforts to elect Dr. A. C. Pratt, a reputable, highly-respected physician, and will continue to do so until the polls close.

It is a fact well known to all that the office of coroner has been dominated and controlled by the corporations. Four years ago Calvin Hartwell, who was then county recorder, could have been elected to that office, but he was not, because he was not recognized as the best assessor Los Angeles county ever had. In a most strenuous campaign, which cost him his life, Ben Ward ran independent and won out by an overwhelming majority. Later on when Dr. Lanterman resigned from the office the machine took care of Calvin Hartwell by appointing him as coroner, but compelling him to retain practically the same office force that served under Dr. Lanterman.

The incumbent who read this, Fred Williams, chief deputy, and Dr. Campbell, autopsy surgeon, are the moving spirits of the office, and until this campaign started you were told the bodies of your relatives, who met an untimely death, must go to one of two undertakers firms. Why? Because many of the big firms, who please and keep them there, are stockholders in one or the other of these two houses.

"The chief objection to Calvin Hartwell is that he is absolutely powerless in the office. A man who occupies the position of coroner should be coroner in fact as well as name, carrying all the power and responsibilities of the office, and they should not be placed to anyone much less to one who is placed and kept in the office by the agents of the corporations.

"In view of these facts, which deny as they may, are still facts, the voters should support for the office of coroner Dr. A. C. Pratt, not because he is a Democrat, Republican, or of any other party, but because he states plainly that if elected he will be a coroner, and that the wishes of the families or the friends of the dead shall at all times be respected and justice and fairness shall be done to all alike.

STATEMENT OF FREDERICKS' PARTISANS BRANDED LIE

Some of Fredericks' overzealous partisans have been among the speakers at the street railway company's circulating the utterly untruthful statement that Thomas Lee Woolwine had at one time declared that motormen should be held personally responsible for injury to pedestrians resulting in injury to pedestrians—that they should be dragged from their cars and sent to the penitentiary.

Mr. Woolwine has entered an absolute denial of the accusation. "At no time have I made any such statement," he declares, "nor have I sold anything which can be thus interpreted. It is simply a campaign lie, circulated in the hope of fooling a body of men I believe to be too intelligent to be misled by any such ridiculous story."

THE STROLLER'S TALK

The Stroller yesterday made a circle of the downtown district feeling out the sentiment as to the chances of the six candidates for the superior bench.

Judges Hervey, Moss and Davis were defeated unexpectedly at the primaries, and the fight for the three vacancies at once became interesting.

After the launching of the Woolwine-Fredericks battle little was heard of the several candidates for judicial honors, but the knowledge of the candidates shown by all with whom the Stroller talked yesterday demonstrated that the public has been taking up such aspirant minutely. It is a non-partisan year, so far as these offices are concerned, for hardly ever has heard the words Democrat or Republican.

There is more talk for Albert Lee Stephens than any two others, Finlayson, by reason of being on the Republican and Good Government tickets, and his wide acquaintance is connected by all. Stephens is undoubtedly next. The battle royal is between Wood and Craig, with the advantage in favor of Wood. Wood has the Republican nomination and the Good Government nomination, with a splendid record as a clean, able and independent city attorney of Pasadena.

Craig has the Republican nomination alone, with a decided handicap of disension as to his candidacy in the machinery of the reformers. The reformers are anxious to see some extent by heroic work at the polls, as I am informed there will be a Craig-for-Craig-alone worker in every precinct.

Dr. A. C. Pratt, who was introduced as the next county coroner, declared that having a doctor for coroner is as important as having a lawyer for district attorney. He told of reported misconduct in the coroner's office under the present administration, describing how cases are given to favorite undertakers, how a Los Angeles doctor who is said to be responsible for Hartwell's appointment drew $700 in one month recently for autopsy fees and how people are deprived of the chance of damage suits against corporations because the coroner renders improper verdicts in favor of the interests.

A. P. Carter, former assistant treasurer under Grover Cleveland, spoke for Lorin Handley, Democratic candidate for congress from this district, who was unable to be present. Mr. Carter declared that it is not necessary to change the constitution or to have a revolution to get justice for the people, but that all that is necessary is to elect the proper men to congress to make proper laws and interpret the constitution properly.

REVENUE OFFICE FORCE WARNED ABOUT POLITICS

Claude I. Parker, internal revenue collector, has issued the following warning to his fifty-four employees in the new federal building.

"To Deputies, Clerks, Storekeepers and Gaugers, Sixth Internal Revenue District, California:
"Your attention is hereby directed to rule 1, section 1, of the civil service regulations, which states as follows:

"No person in the executive civil service shall use his official authority or influence for the purpose of interfering with an election or affecting the result thereof. Persons who by the provisions of these rules are in the competitive classified service, while retaining the right to vote as they please and to express privately their opinions on all political subjects, shall take no active part in political management or in political campaigns."

"This does not prevent you from exercising your rights as an American citizen and voting as your conscience dictates, but any pernicious activity on the part of an employe in internal revenue service of the Sixth district of California who is protected by civil service regulations will be promptly reported for dismissal. Respectfully,
"CLAUDE I. PARKER, Collector."

Instruction to Voters

How to Vote a Split Ticket:
If you desire to vote for any or all of the candidates indorsed by the Good Government organization, or for any other candidates whose names are found in the column headed "Independent Nominations," the only safe course is to stamp a cross (X) opposite the name of each candidate of your choice FOR EACH OFFICE ON THE BALLOT.

It is not safe to stamp a cross in ANY PARTY CIRCLE if you wish to vote for candidates whose names are found in the "independent" column. It is better to be safe than to be sorry.

How to Vote for Judges:
There are three judges of the superior court to be elected for the full term, one judge of the superior court to be elected for the unexpired term, and one judge of the district court of appeal for the unexpired term. If you do not wish to vote your party ticket straight stamp the cross (X) opposite the names of three candidates for the superior court, full term, and one candidate for the superior court, unexpired term, and one candidate for the district court of appeal, unexpired term.

The law has many complications. Your will can be best registered and the counting of your ballot best assured if you use the STAMP OPPOSITE THE NAME OF EVERY CANDIDATE WHOM YOU DESIRE TO SEE ELECTED, totally disregarding the party circle.

GOOD GOVERNMENT ORGANIZATION,
George B. Anderson,
Secretary.

DEMOCRATS RAISE FUND FOR WORKING CAMPAIGN

Judge Bledsoe Speaks Enthusiastically of Prospects at Meeting in Pasadena

PASADENA, Nov. 6.—That there is no fund at the command of the local Democratic club developed last evening at the Democratic rally held in the board of trade rooms when Dr. Z. T. Malaby, president of the club, asked for contributions to finance the remainder of the campaign and procure rigs for election day.

"When our club was organized," he said, "a fund of $9 was raised by voluntary contribution to conduct the local campaign. By judicious use of the fund and through personal work of local Democrats we have made good progress, but we need a little more money and we ask you to contribute fifty cents or a dollar each for the cause."

Address by Judge Bledsoe
Although not greatly advertised the meeting last evening was well attended, 200 or more voters being present. Judge Benjamin F. Bledsoe, candidate for the supreme bench, spoke enthusiastically of the prospects for Democratic success. Minor Moore, candidate for the court of appeals, spoke for the whole Democratic ticket.

William Jarris, candidate for sheriff, promised a business administration, as did Lloyd W. McAttee, candidate for county clerk, and Fred L. Dwyer, candidate for auditor.

Dr. A. C. Pratt, who was introduced as the next county coroner, declared that having a doctor for coroner is as important as having a lawyer for district attorney. He told of reported misconduct in the coroner's office under the present administration, describing how cases are given to favorite undertakers, how a Los Angeles doctor who is said to be responsible for Hartwell's appointment drew $700 in one month recently for autopsy fees and how people are deprived of the chance of damage suits against corporations because the coroner renders improper verdicts in favor of the interests.

FREDERICKS GETS COLD COMFORT IN HARANGUE BEFORE OLD SOLDIERS

Defenders of Union Remember When District Attorney Took the Part of Policeman Who Brutally Beat an Inoffensive and Feeble Inmate of Home

Will the veterans of the Soldiers' home at Sawtelle "rally round the flag" of John D. Fredericks, district attorney and Southern Pacific candidate to succeed himself? Hardly!

Fredericks practically begged them to do so Friday afternoon when he delivered to them a harangue upon his love for them, his honor for them and also his need for them, but those who remember the time when he took the side of a home policeman who brutally beat an inoffensive and feeble inmate of the union know that his love for them is really his desire for their votes.

Comrades in battle are comrades until, though the once stalwart forms are now bent and palsied. They fought for one another in the days of 61-65 with powder and shot and now they will continue to defend themselves by the more peaceful but powerful weapon—the ballot.

They still vividly recall the cruelty inflicted on one of their comrades by Zimmerman, Fredericks' lieutenant. It was in the summer of 1903 that the deed was committed.

Jacob Mulford, of Home company K, nearly 74 years old, sitting on a bench in front of the company barracks about 9 o'clock at night. He was quietly enjoying the summer evening and indulging in voiceless memories of the days when he fought his country's battles.

William A. Foy, a home policeman, who, it was stated at the time, had looked too long on the liquor—perhaps, perhaps, in the closing of which Fredericks has made so much campaign wind—reached the spot and insolently demanded that the orderly and quite sober old soldier go to bed.

Strikes Down Veteran
Incensed at such an action, Mulford, with all of the valor which made him a good soldier in the days when the United States needed him as such, refused.

Foy raised a loaded cane which he was carrying and struck the old defender of his country such a ferocious blow that the poor old man was prostrated.

Comrades of the old man, hearing the disturbance, rushed to the spot, and found the man, who later was befriended by Fredericks, bleeding from the old man's raining blows on his face." Finally they succeeded in getting the officer off the form of the feeble and nearly unconscious veteran, but only after, according to the report, a struggle.

Will they do it? Not will they recall how Fredericks defended and practically freed from what they believe should have been a penitentiary sentence, the man who caused the comrade's blood to "flow in a stream after he had been dragged down the stairs" and beaten into a state approaching insensibility.

That "stream of blood" still flows in the memory of old veterans and it does not bear upon it any votes for Fredericks.

FREDERICKS UNFIT, SAY PROMINENT REPUBLICANS

Well known Republicans residing in the Seventeenth assembly district have signed a strong protest against Republican support of John D. Fredericks. The document reads as follows:

"We, the undersigned Republican voters of the Seventeenth assembly district, believe, as Theodore Roosevelt does, that the man should be considered above the party. Applying this principle to local affairs, we cannot recommend the re-election of John D. Fredericks and believe him to be an unfit person to fill the office of district attorney of Los Angeles county. Grave charges have been brought against him, and we consider that he has not cleared himself of them."
