WATERMASTER, BACK TO HIS OLD SHIP, HURRIES TO WIFE

Mariner Regains Job as Former Immigration Inspector Goes East to Explain

U. S. OFFICIALS ARE SILENT Ridgeway's Resignation Causes Commotion, but Federal Men Won't Talk Publicly

John W. McAllister, whose imprisonment and prosecution by A. C. Ridgeway, inspector of immigration, is said to have caused the latter's resignation from the government service, will sail for Honolulu today in command of the bark Alden Besse. Within several hours of the mariner's release from his cell in the county jail yesterday morning Charles Leiman of the Independent Steamship company, owner of the vessel, re-employed the captain as its master.

With fair seas McAllister will join his wife and children on the islands within fourteen or fifteen days after an amazing series of misfortunes. They have been without funds for several months, during the imprisonment of the husband and father and have been dependent on the charity of friends.

McAllister was released on the order of Assistant United States Attorney Frank Stewart. He immediately conferred with his attorney, Frank Dominguez, who ever since the man's imprisonment had left no stone unturned to procure his freedom. Dominguez enlisted powerful influences in the man's behalf, including United States Senator Frank Flint.

McAllister's release from jail, following the abrupt resignation of Ridgeway, created a sensation in federal circles here. It was the topic of discussion at the federal building yesterday.

LOCAL OFFICIALS WON'T TALK

The officials, however, were not disposed to express their opinions on McAllister's release and Ridgeway's resignation.

Ridgeway came from St. Louis to Los Angeles three years ago. He is now on his way to Washington, where, it is said, he was summoned to explain to the federal officials there the conduct of his office.

Had Ridgeway, it is said, guarded the coast as carefully and diligently as he was watched by the immigration authorities, believed by the immigration authorities to have entered this country during the time he held office here, would have been captured and the operations of a gigantic smuggling ring, with headquarters in China and Mexico, blocked.

The immigration service, under its new regime, has enlisted the aid of government revenue cutters, and guards are now stationed at various points along the coast from San Diego to Santa Barbara.

Authorities at Santa Barbara and Ventura counties have afforded many landing places for the smugglers.

The bark Alden Besse, shortly after its arrival at San Pedro from Honolulu, was attached for wharfage fees and sold by the United States marshal at public auction.

A. W. E. Thompson, her former owner, had been arrested on a charge of embezzling the proceeds from a cargo of beer. He is awaiting trial on the charges.

STOWAWAYS START TROUBLE

Two Japanese stowaways, discovered by the ship's captain, McAllister, on the high seas, on the trip from the islands to Los Angeles, were turned over by him to Ridgeway, the inspector of immigration, and were ordered deported. Ridgeway promptly instructed the captain to deport the men, and despite his protests, he met the men at the Alden Besse. McAllister, without funds, was going hungry. His charges escaped, and he was arrested and placed in custody.

Frank Dominguez gained his release on $300 bail, and immediately began a stubborn fight for his release. McAllister received a hearing before United States Commissioner Williams, and despite the fact that United States Attorney McCormick, his assistants, Frank Stewart and Ray Horton, together with United States Marshal Leo Youngworth, were loath to press the charges, owing to the peculiar circumstances surrounding the case, Ridgeway insisted on a vigorous prosecution.

McAllister was bound over for trial in the United States district court and January 2 was fixed as the time for the hearing. He was, however, to a ruse and without the knowledge of his client caused him to be surrendered to the federal authorities by his bondsman, and no sooner than he was placed in his cell than the attorney immediately set to work to bring his case to the attention of the authorities at Washington.

'RETIRE? BURY ME FIRST!' SAYS SENATOR TILLMAN

South Carolinian Visits Wash- ington and Will Attend Session

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—"Retire?" exclaimed Senator Tillman, repeating an inquiry. "I shall not retire until they bury me. I have no idea of quitting the game."

The South Carolina senator, who arrived here today, was in his committee room at the capitol and appeared to be as vigorous as he was before he was stricken by severe illness during the last session of congress.

Mr. Tillman expects to remain here four or five days only, however. He will return to his home next week, but counts on coming back to Washington early in January, when he says the real business of the session will begin. He said today that he felt in good condition for work, but that he would not apply himself so assiduously as formerly.

Mrs. Tillman was by his side, and she emphasized the last remark by declaring she would keep him as quiet as possible.

Senator Tillman attributes his restoration to health to the fact that since he got out of bed he has been given his undivided attention to the building of a big barn on his plantation.

LIBERALS OPPOSE THE REFERENDUM IN TARIFF FIGHT

Leaders Fear Responsibility of Representative Institutions May Be Imperiled

BALFOUR SEES CHAMBERLAIN

Birrell, Chief Secretary for Ire- land, Recognizes Possibility of Universal Suffrage

(Associated Press)

LONDON, Dec. 2.—The few days of discussion in the general election campaign leaves it clear the Liberals, as a party, will have none of a referendum on tariff reform.

Liberal leaders, from Premier Asquith down in their public speeches since the pronouncement of Mr. Balfour, the opposition leader, of his willingness to leave tariff reform to a referendum, have frankly deprecated the referendum as being unsuited to Great Britain, and as tending to destroy the responsibility of representative institutions.

Moreover, further familiarity with the idea has had the effect of uniting the whole Unionist party and press in its favor, and Mr. Balfour's courage in adopting it, hailed as having secured for his party an excellent prospect of victory.

It is a curious fact that at the time of the rupture of the recent vote conference, an inspired statement in the Times asserted that both sides to the conference had rejected the referendum.

CHAMBERLAIN IS CONSULTED

If that be the case, Mr. Balfour's decision must have been a matter of thought, and it is asserted in well informed quarters that he first consulted Joseph Chamberlain and obtained his acquiescence in the proceeding to shelve temporarily tariff reform by urging recourse to the referendum.

Campaigning was again in full blast tonight. Mr. Balfour, in a speech at Grimsby, said no Irishman would thank the people for an independent Irish parliament unless it were accompanied by a British subsidy.

Sir Edward Gray, the foreign minister, said in a speech at Berwick: "The greater measure of revolution is necessary to save the house of commons from perishing by the congestion of business, and to save its reputation as an imperial authority. There is nothing in John Redmond's home rule proposals which is not in full force in the Canadian provinces."

Mr. Birrell, chief secretary for Ireland, criticising the referendum proposal in a speech at Bristol, said it would have to be accompanied by universal suffrage. There were other questions, Mr. Birrell said, besides the tariff and home rule. Were the Tories, society in this city two years ago that he would sometime return to Pasadena for a longer stay, to be carried into effect, according to his son, P. C. Fairbanks of this city, who announces that the Oakland residence of Judge J. H. Timmons, and his grandmothers, Mrs. M. A. Fairbanks.

All the party except Mr. Timmons and the former vice president are expected Sunday, and the others will arrive later.

CONTRACTS WILL SOON BE LET FOR CANADIAN NAVY

First Cruiser Will Be Completed in Three Years

OTTAWA, Ont., Dec. 2.—The triumph of the government over the opposition in the house of commons on the naval policy and the overwhelming defeat of resolutions declaring there should be an appeal to the people before the creation of the Canadian navy means that contracts for the construction of Canadian warships will soon be let.

The contract will call for the construction of four cruisers of the improved Bristol class, and six torpedo boat destroyers of the improved orped class. They are to be built in Canada, and as there are no yards in the Dominion capable of doing the work, negotiations are in progress with several British firms for the establishment of yards.

It is calculated it will be three years before the first vessel is completed. The last of them will be in the water at the end of six years.

The estimates, which were today tabled in parliament, contain an item of $2,000,000 for the first year's operations in the division of the navy.

IRISH LEAGUE INCREASES SUBSCRIPTION BY $10,000

Denunciation in the British Press Aroused Patriotic Feeling

REPORT ON BALLINGER TO BE PRESENTED NEXT WEEK

BOSTON, Dec. 2.—On the eve of important pollings tomorrow in the British elections the United Irish League of America, through its treasurer, Thomas E. Fitzpatrick of this city, forwarded today to the Irish National party another remittance of $10,000.

This makes a total sent in the last six weeks of $90,000 of the "American dollars" which have caused adverse comment by a section of the British press.

"The denunciations of America and American by the Tory press," said Mr. Fitzpatrick, "has acted as an incentive to Ireland's friends here to help the cause along. As instancing how widespread is the feeling aroused by the attacks, the national treasurer yesterday received from friends of Ireland in Chicago $4000; from San Francisco $500, in addition to a contribution of $200 ten days ago, and from Seattle $252."

TENDER OF ARMS TO BE ASKED

BELFAST, Dec. 2.—The Ultra-Unionist council decided today, in view of the Irish political crisis, to invite tenders for the immediate delivery of arms and ammunition.

CUTTERS STAND BY WRECK MENECED BY RISING WIND

Northwestern Aground in Puget Sound—Passengers Safe

SEATTLE, Dec. 2.—A rising wind is the chief menace to the safety of the Alaska Steamship company's liner Northwestern, which went on the rocks in False bay, San Juan island, early today.

Three revenue cutters and the wrecking steamer Salvoy are standing by the wrecked ship. Capt. Crosby, master of the wrecked steamer, has declined assistance from the wrecking steamer, saying he will await the arrival of the tugboat, the Wybald, which has been sent from Seattle.

The Northwestern lies in an exposed condition, and should the wind increase to a gale would suffer severely.

The passengers, who were taken off by the steamer Tees returned to Seattle tonight. They will resume their journey to Alaska on the steamer Olympia, which sails tomorrow.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—The report of the Republican members of the Ballinger-Pinchot investigating committee will be ready for congress next week.

At the conclusion of an afternoon conference today Senator Nelson, chairman of the joint congressional committee, said the report would be completed and submitted to the full committee early in the week. Michigan will reach Washington tomorrow and the Republican members will hold another session. The Democratic members of the committee who have already made public their minority reports also will meet then. Their program has not been fully determined.

RIVERS DESTROY DYKES; PEASANTS UNEMPLOYED

NANTES, France, Dec. 2.—It was announced today that the dykes at Devatte had broken as a result of the floods, inundating the countryside for twenty-five kilometers between Basses-Goulaines and La Varonne. In this city 7500 have been thrown out of employment because of the high water in the Loire river.

The dyke along the river Rhone protecting La Palude also burst, submerging the town. Several houses were demolished and it is feared a number of persons were killed.

WIFE SAYS RICH HUSBAND NEVER BOUGHT HER HAT

DENVER, Dec. 2.—Mrs. David Goldstein, wife of a wealthy junk dealer in this city, probably is the only woman in the United States who has gone on record as never having owned a hat. This was her testimony in a suit for separate maintenance. Attorneys for the husband declared this was due to Mrs. Goldstein's religious beliefs, but the woman said it was because her husband would not spend the money, although she declared, he is worth $150,000 and has an income of $10,000 a year.

'DAD, COME HOME! BABY'S POISONED!'—LIFE SAVED

Little Girl Wrests Drug from Sister: Phonics for Aid

SANTA MONICA, Dec. 2.—That Perol Wallace, aged 5 years, saved the life of her little sister Constance, aged 2 years, is the opinion of their father, Capt. J. C. Wallace of the Santa Monica fire department.

During a shopping tour of the mother and while the father was at the engine house the younger child obtained a phial containing a poisonous drug and ate several of the tablets before her sister discovered what she had done. Perol had been taught by her parents that the skull and cross bones indicated poison, and she at once took the phial away from the baby and called for her father by telephone.

"Dad, come home. Baby's poisoned." The father hastened home, but when he arrived the baby was showing signs of illness. Heroic work saved the life of the youngster.

PREACHER ARRESTED FOR USING MAILS TO DEFRAUD

Federal Officials Accuse Chicago Minister of Swindling

CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—The Rev. H. C. Scott-Ford, pastor of the Hamilton Park Congregational church, was arrested today by agents of the department of justice, charged with using the mails to conduct a fraud. He was released on bonds of $1000.

The minister conducted a firm known as the National Patent Investment company. The government charges that his scheme was to obtain from the patent office at Washington a list of persons who had received patents, and then mail a card to each promising to exploit the invention. When a response was received by the preacher, say the government agents, the inventor would be described in detail in a publication issued by the National Patent Investment company.

The inventor was then charged $3.50 for a wood cut, which the minister is said to have promised would be used in illustrating the magazine article. The federal inspectors charge that Mr. Scott-Ford pocketed this $3.50, and that he issued no publication descriptive of the patent.

AVIATOR POST HITS TREE; SUFFERS BRUISES IN FALL

Aeroplane Plunges Sixty Feet at New Orleans Park

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 2.—Augustus Post, the aviator, fell sixty feet in his Curtiss biplane at the City park race track here today and was painfully bruised. He was taken to a hotel.

In making a turn he swooped too near the ground, the tail of his machine catching in a tree and sending the aeroplane heading to the earth. The machine was wrecked. Tonight Post had nearly recovered from his injuries and shock.

Ward, near the end of a beautiful flight, narrowly missed having a bad accident. While his machine was 600 feet up the cap of the oil can came off and was thrown against the propeller, damaging it. Ward landed safely, however. He made a 10-minute flight, circling four times about the course and ascending 3000 feet. Ely and McCurdy made several interesting flights.

PRINCIPAL'S EDICT DOOMS CURL CRAZE IN SCHOOL

Official at Stockton Believes Fad Interferes with Study

STOCKTON, Dec. 2.—Principal Ansel S. Williams of the local high school has issued an edict that artificial curls, as worn by the high school girls, must be abolished. He claims that the curl craze has grown to such proportions that it interferes with studies. In delivering his ultimatum Principal Williams stated that he had witnessed the exchange and bartering of curls between girls in the class room, and that hands were almost ceaselessly busy putting and arranging the adornment when the mind should be concentrated on textbooks.

When the announcement was made yesterday that curls must go, loud cheers were given by the male students. The girls, however, are highly indignant.

COUNT SAYS HIS WEALTHY PAPA-IN-LAW STRUCK HIM

CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—Count Jacques Alexander Albert von Mourik de Beaufort, husband of the heiress Irma Kilgallen, who has encountered an unbroken line of misfortunes since his return from London to Chicago with his bride and was forbidden to come to the Kilgallen home, or to see his wife, swore out a warrant today charging his wealthy father-in-law with assault and battery.

The alleged assault, De Beaufort says, took place in Kilgallen's office. The complaint says the millionaire summoned De Beaufort there, and when Kilgallen refused to accept a sum of money to leave the country Kilgallen struck the count in the face.

LOS ANGELES' GAIN LEADS COUNTIES; STATE ALSO WINS

Increase Here Is 333-833. Bring- ing the 1910 Population Up to 504,131

TOTAL GROWTH 60.1 PER CENT Commonwealth Entitled to Three More Congressmen as Re- sult of Enumeration

(Special to The Herald)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—The population of California is 2,377,549, according to statistics of the thirtieth census made public today. This is an increase of 822,496, or 60.1 per cent over 1,455,053 in 1900. The increase from 1890 to 1900 was 276,923, or 22.9 per cent.

The population of the counties containing the principal cities are: Alameda, 246,131; Los Angeles, 504,131; Sacramento, 367,806; San Francisco, 416,912; Santa Clara, 83,529.

California's growth the greatest of any state in the Union in the last ten years.

The figures are remarkable as showing the great prosperity of the entire state. California is unlike some sections of the east where the cities have had their growth at the expense of the country. In the state the increase has been almost evenly distributed between the agricultural districts and the cities and over all sections. While San Francisco, Los Angeles, Oakland, the bay and valley towns have shown phenomenal growth, the farmers have drawn their corresponding quota of immigrants. A substantial class of settlers, going to the states of the east and the middle west, have made their homes in the country districts and added vastly to the wealth and prosperity of California by introducing intensive methods of farming.

It is noteworthy that the growth of the population since 1900 has greatly increased over that of the preceding ten years.

As a result of the enumeration California is entitled to three more congressmen if the apportionment of representation on the lower house is made on the basis of one congressman for every 220,000 of population. The state now has eight congressmen. The division of the total 220,000 gives a result of ten, with a remainder of 177,549, on which fraction California will be entitled to one more representative. The apportionment will be next year by the Democratic congress which will decide whether the old ratio will be maintained or increased in order to keep down the membership.

The population of the state by counties is as follows:

County	1910	1900
Alameda	246,131	136,907
Alpine	369	369
Amador	9,086	11,116
Butte	27
