

CHURCHES TO BID FAREWELL TO 1910

Watchnight Services Arranged, with Secular Features by Some Congregations

The traditional watchnight service to watch the old year out and to welcome the new year will be held in many of the churches of the city beginning early this evening.

Many of the larger churches, however, have dispensed with this custom as the new year falls on Sunday and a service continuing until after midnight would prove a hardship on church members in attending the usual Sunday services.

New Year's day will be marked in all the churches with special sermons, elaborate musical programs and appropriate decorations.

At St. Paul's pro-cathedral the usual watchnight service will open at 11:30 o'clock to end shortly after midnight.

The choir will present a special musical program. Previous to this service the men's and women's guilds will entertain the members of the choir at dinner at the guild house, after which they will be the guests of the Rev. William MacCormack at a theater party, return to the church in time for the watchnight service.

At the First Congregational church an early observance of communion at 7:30 a. m. Sunday will take the place of the usual watchnight service.

The Rev. L. M. Jagoood, pastor of the Wesley Methodist church, will conduct a watchnight service at the church, 60 East Eighth street.

The Rev. A. B. Pritchard, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, will speak at the watchnight service to be held in the Second Presbyterian church, East Los Angeles.

The Men's Brotherhood of the Boyle Heights Methodist church will hold a special service to be opened at 8:30 o'clock with a reception to members which will be followed by a stereopticon lecture and a sermon by the Rev. W. E. Throes, the pastor.

At the Union Rescue mission a service of prayer and song will be held. The Rev. J. E. Fisher will speak and B. F. Pearson will have charge of the service.

The City Rescue mission, 606 East Fifth street, will watch the old year out with a special service. Among the speakers will be Giles Hildreth, B. F. Pearson, J. M. Berkeley, O. D. Conroy and the Rev. T. C. Horton. Capt. Charles Stanley and A. L. Miller will take part in the musical program.

The watchnight service at the Methodist mission, 255 East Fifth street, will be marked by the launching of a New Year's boat, and each child present will receive a gift.

Between 10 and 11 o'clock a social hour will be held, during which refreshments will be served. At 11 o'clock the watchnight will be opened.

WHERE IS MY WANDERING SWAIN—GIRL ASKS POLICE

Effie Williams, 1298 South Main street, telephoned central police station shortly before midnight asking the police to find her fiancé Gus C. Harter, who hadn't been home for seven hours.

"You see," said the young woman, "Gus and I are to be married tomorrow and I want to know where he is. He left the house here about 5 o'clock this evening, saying he would be back for supper. He hasn't shown up yet, and I'm becoming worried."

Savants Find Dog Able to Clearly Speak Seven Words

BERLIN, Dec. 30.—The claim of a gamekeeper near Hamburg that his dog can speak German and has an understanding of the language sufficiently to answer questions intelligently, has been taken so seriously by German scientists that Professor Pfungst of Berlin university headed a commission of investigation.

FRIENDS OF MRS. STETSON PREDICT CHURCH QUARREL

Question of Resurrection Argued Among Christian Scientists

(Special to The Herald) NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—That Mrs. Augusta Stetson's predictions that Mrs. Eddy will rise from the tomb will seriously affect the Christian Science church is the belief of many ecclesiastical workers and others. A schism in the church eventually is predicted by friends of Mrs. Stetson, who see in the question of resurrection brought to the fore through Mrs. Eddy's death a signal victory for the excommunicated rival of the late leader.

GIRL TRAVELS AS TRAMP TO REACH DYING SISTER

Police Find Her Dressed as Man at Tramps' Camp

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 30.—Traveling as a hobo, riding in box cars to reach the side of her dying sister in San Francisco, Elizabeth Carr, 19 years old, of St. Joseph, Mo., was arrested in company with four men in Rosedale, near here, last night. They were found beside a fire in the railroad yards.

The girl, who was dressed as a man, told the police her sister, Mrs. Ora Lambrecht of San Francisco, was ill and she was trying to get to that city. One of the men, John Smith of St. Joseph, had been a life-long friend and was acting as her protector, the girl said.

SAN FRANCISCO PAYS TAXES

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Dec. 30.—Treasurer John E. MacDougall of the city and county of San Francisco today paid into the state treasury the first installment of the 1910 taxes, the amount being $1,254,300.57. This leaves only one county, Los Angeles, to be heard from at the state treasurer's office, and this is expected tomorrow morning.

MAYOR'S INJUNCTION DENIED

SEATTLE, Dec. 30.—Mayor Hiram C. Gill's application for a temporary order enjoining Controller W. J. Bothwell from certifying to the recall petition was denied today by Judge R. E. Albertson in the superior court. Judge Albertson also refused to fix a supersedeas bond pending an appeal to the supreme court.

SANTA BARBARA PLANS MEET

SANTA BARBARA, Dec. 30.—Local aviation promoters today signed Didier Masson for a meet here January 1 and 2. Ivy Baldwin is here with a Curtiss-Farman machine.

JUDGE SAYS THREAT LIES IN 'I'LL GET YOUR GOAT'

Magistrate Holds the Defendant Pending Higher Decision

CHICAGO, Dec. 30.—"I'll get your goat," a threat, as contemplated under the law? Municipal Judge Beitler held that it might be so construed, but he added the following restriction:

"It would depend entirely on the subject matter of immediately previous conversation and the apparent state of mind of the goat-getter."

John J. G. Dykes, a rubber goods manufacturer, accused Judge Beitler to stand between him and John E. Corns, head of a realty company, who he charged, had threatened him. The men are brothers-in-law. Dykes averred that Corns had threatened to "knock his block off." Later it was mutually agreed that the specific promise of Corns was, "I'll get your goat."

SUFFRAGETTES PLACARD GOTHAM DURING NIGHT

New York Awakes to the Plea of 'Votes for Women'

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—The central part of New York city is brilliant today with many colored posters urging votes for women which gaudily decorated the sidewalks along a dozen streets. All this is the result of a "poster pasting bee" which the members of the Women's Political Union held last night. They started from their headquarters in small squads late in the evening, each squad with a roll of posters and a paste pot.

Dividing, the women covered the city from east to west from Twenty-sixth to Fifty-fourth street. Wherever there was a building in process of construction or barrels standing around or a vacant space, which did not have a "post no bills" warning they put up their posters.

The bill posting bee is credited with being the opening gun of the militant winter campaign.

KOMICAL KNIGHTS TELL OF PLANS FOR PARADE

Offishule Fotographer Will Lead Proeshun of Pasadena Funmakers

PASADENA, Dec. 31.—Perfecting final details for the initial parade of the Komical Knights of the Carnival, the parade committee last evening gave out several hints regarding the floats and features which will make next Monday night a time of fun and frivolity.

In a general way the parade will be headed by the "offishule fotographer" with his "buy-a-graft" instrument, and then will come a platoon of carnival police, promised to be a big improvement on the regular force.

Following comes a band, the music from which will make the municipal aggregation green with envy, and to further preserve order a company of "tin soldiers" will follow.

Then comes the float of King Kidder the First with more music by a rube band. This float will be followed in line by the one devoted to suffrage for women, a platoon of hobble skirts and an airship from the "Los Angeles Aggravation" meet.

There will be a minstrel float, a real live Out West club such as was never found this side of the Rocky mountains, and a float of Pasadena belles.

Several hundred people will participate in the parade and there will be many floats in addition to the ones thus briefly outlined. As the parade is to be a surprise, the committee gives out only enough information to arouse curiosity and interest in Pasadena's first effort as a general carnival of fun making.

ORDERED SENT TO ASYLUM

RIVERSIDE, Dec. 30.—Believing that his attempt at suicide Wednesday was the result of a disordered mind, Judge Denmore today ordered David Cochrane, for many years a hotel keeper in this city, committed to Highland. Cochrane was examined by Drs. Dickson and Baird, who declared that he was, in their judgment, a fit subject for the asylum.

It is believed that a few months' treatment there will restore his health and improve his mental condition.

IN THE HOTELS

J. A. Farrell, former president of the Pacific steamship company and, once right-hand man of James J. Hill, arrived in the city yesterday from Colorado. It is his first trip to Los Angeles in several months. He recently returned from a trip to Seattle and other northern points. Mr. Farrell is accompanied by his family and is here for the aviation meet and the tournament of roses at Pasadena Monday. He is stopping at the Alexandria.

D. C. Collier, director general of the San Diego exposition, Winfield Hogaboom, chief of the publicity bureau; E. G. Davies, W. H. Harris, W. J. Mossholder and wife and Mrs. Homer MacNutt, all prominent San Diegans, came up yesterday with the San Diego delegation to attend San Diego day at the aviation meet. They were so well pleased with the birdmen's stunts that they will remain over today for another trip to Dominguez field. They are at the Angeles.

W. W. Burnheim of New York, president of the American-Hawaiian Navigation company, and C. W. Cook, Pacific coast representative of the company, of San Francisco, arrived here yesterday to look over the company's interests in this city. They are at the Van Nuys.
