Mixed Patriotism.

Up in the Nineteenth assembly district they are telling this story of a fallen political idol. In the rounds of his social activities he attended an afternoon entertainment given by the Outdoor Playground association. Among the vocal selections rendered by the children was "My Country, 'Tis of Thee." At the conclusion of that hymn the political idol was called upon for a few remarks. He addressed the audience with emotion. "Children," he said, "it does my heart good to hear you. Scarcely ever have I heard 'The Star-Spangled Banner' so beautifully sung."—New York Times.

HEAVIEST ENTRY LIST IN YEARS IS EXPECTED FOR FORT WORTH STOCK SHOW

Special to Daily News.

Fort Worth, Tex., Dec. 25.—Thirty thousand dollars will be given away to breeders of pure bred stock at the next Annual Fat Stock Show to be held in this city March 18th to 23rd, inclusive. The premium list which came from the printers Saturday afternoon reveals the fact that never before has such a splendid opportunity been offered Southwestern breeders to return from the big show with a fattened pocketbook.

It is noted that there is a total of 1,500 premiums booked and every class and grade of livestock is covered in this long list of prizes. Not only cattle, but every kind of livestock comes within the scope of the 1912 prize list.

During the last year there has been considerable trading in Texas pure-bred stock in Mexico and the catalogues of the next Fat Stock Show are being sent broadcast over that country. It is the desire of the management to attract as many Mexican breeders to the show as possible, so that the little brown man may replenish his herds with the best blood to be had in the Southwest.

Indications point to the heaviest entry list in the history of the Show. This is perhaps due to the recent rains all over the Southwest which have proven of unestimable benefit to the breeder of pure blood stock.

Rules.

Rules to govern are as follows: All stock intended for exhibition must be in the pens at Fort Worth Stock Yards at 6 o'clock a. m., Monday, March 18, 1912.

Carloads of cattle, sheep and hogs intended for competition in the carload classes must be in place not later than Monday, March 18, 1912, noon.

Rule 1. An exhibitor who violates any of the following rules will forfeit all privileges and premiums and be subject to such penalty as the executive committee may order.

Rule 2. All exhibits will be under the control and direction of the general manager, but the exhibition will in no case be responsible for any loss or damage that may occur. Each exhibitor will be solely responsible for any consequential or other loss, injury or damage done to, or occasioned by, or arising from, any animal or article exhibited by him, and for its description as given in the catalogue, and shall indemnify the exposition against all legal or other proceedings in regard thereto.

Rule 3.—Special care will be taken that no animal having disease of any character will be admitted into the yards at any time of the show, and the manager is instructed and authorized to refuse unloading privileges to any stock having disease.

Rule 4.—All breeding cattle, and single steers for exhibition must be shown in one ring, with halter.

Rule 5. Reservations for space in covered sheds will not be accepted later than February 18, 1912.

Rule 6. Exhibitors are prohibited from using blankets or covers on their stock bearing any description of advertising except the name of the animal or owner.

Rule 7. No person having entered anything for competition will be allowed to make substitution of animals or otherwise change entry after ten days prior to the opening day of the exposition, except as noted in Rule 9, nor may any one refuse any premiums offered, and the prize ribbons and commendation cards must be displayed during the exposition.

Rule 8. No animal on exhibition can be removed from the grounds without a special order given by the manager.

Rule 9. Exhibits that have been erroneously entered may, in the discretion of the general manager, be transferred to their proper classes previous to judging.

Rule 10. The management reserves the right to remove from the ground any exhibit, animal, stand or show that may be falsely entered, or may be deemed unsuitable or objectionable, without assigning a reason therefor, and, if necessary, to return any money already paid for space or stalls, which shall exonerate them from any claim whatsoever on the part of the exhibitor or purchaser.

Rule 11. The time at which the judges will pass upon the different classes is announced in the catalogue, and will be on bulletin boards conspicuously posted. Any exhibit not presented promptly on scheduled time will be ruled out and debarred from competition in the class called.

Rule 12. All articles and animals for exhibition except in car lots of fat stock, must be in their places, with rubbish and waste cleared away, at 9 a. m. of the opening day of the exposition, and entered in the name of the real owner, to remain on the grounds to the close of the exposition.

Rule 13. In all cases, the right is reserved to reject entirely, or accept conditionally, any entry or application.

Rule 14. All stalls, pens and exhibition places must be cleaned before 8 a. m., each day, and refuse matter disposed of as the general manager may direct.

Rule 15. In as far as possible, shelter will be provided for breeding stock brought in for exhibition. Intending exhibitors of breeding stock are requested to notify the secretary far enough in advance in order that he may make reservation of sheded space. Carloads of cattle intended for competition in the fat classes are not promised shelter.

Rule 16. All protests must be in writing and accompanied by a deposit of $10, which will be forfeited if protest is not sustained. Such protest must state plainly the cause of complaint, or appeal, and must be delivered to the general manager within six hours after the occasion for such protest.

Rule 17. Exhibitors of animals must furnish the secretary with their names and address, the number and class of animals to be exhibited, on or before February 18, 1912, as no entries will be received after that date.

Rule 18. Exhibitors of cattle and horses entered for competition must parade their animals in the arena whenever so requested by the manager.

Rule 19. All judges' books shall remain at the general office or with the ring stewards when not in actual use.

Rule 20. The decision of the Judges shall be final in all cases, except where mistake, fraud, misrepresentation, not discovered at the time of the award, is proven. In such cases the general manager or such referee as he may appoint, may make decision, or the case may be appealed to the executive committee, from whose decision there can be no appeal.

Rule 21. Objections to a person serving as judge must be submitted to the secretary in writing, prior to making any awards, giving good and sufficient reasons therefor, and upon which the executive committee shall have full power to act.

Rule 22. This exposition reserves to its executive committee the final and absolute right to interpret these rules and regulations, and arbitrarily settle and determine all matters, questions or difference in regard thereto, otherwise arising out of, or connected with, or incident to this exposition.

Rule 23. All animals in the breeding classes must be recorded or accepted for record in the recognized books of record for their respective breeds, and exhibitors must produce certificates of registry, which must accompany the applications for entry. No barren animals will be eligible in breeding classes.

Rule 24. To be eligible for competition, whether singly or in groups animals must be the bona fide property of exhibitor, and all animals entered for competition, except where otherwise specified, must be owned by exhibitor at the time of making entry. In classes of "pet of sire" and "produce of dam," ownership shall not be required.

Rule 25. The breeder of an animal is the owner of the dam at the time of service, and shall be so considered in all classes which require animals to be bred by exhibitor. Provided that when a breeder, prior to close on entries, disposes of his herd to a corporation, wherein he is a stockholder, or manager, animals may be exhibited as bred by said corporation.

Rule 26. Protests destined to affect eligibility of animals must be made in writing to the secretary, before the examination of the protested animal by the judge or judges, is concluded and must be filed with the secretary on or before the day the animal is exhibited.

Rule 27. Firms and co-partnerships entering animals for competition must be in existence at the time of making entry, and in all cases must be bona fide, and affidavit of the age of the firms may be required by the management.

Rule 28. No exhibit deemed unworthy will be awarded a premium.

Rule 29. No animal will be awarded a prize unless removed from its stall or pen and exhibited with catalogue number attached before the judge in the show ring.

Rule 30. Exhibitors must see that their attendants are in uniform, consisting of blue denim overalls, blouse and white cap, when accompanying their exhibits in the show ring.

Rule 31. Animals to compose a competitive group need not be named in application for entry, but must be selected by exhibitor.

Rule 32. The primary object of this exposition is to encourage the breeding and feeding of improved breeds of live stock for well defined practical purposes. Regard will be had to symmetry, size, form, action, constitution, vigor and general characteristics of the various breeds, with reasonable allowance for age, but due regard will also be paid to heads, and the graceful carriage, style and general refinement that denote breed and character—points, which, while not weighing on the "scale," add value to animals when being sold for breeding purposes. And, in groups, encouragement will be given to uniformity of breed type.

Rule 33. Any person attempting to interfere with the judges before or during their adjudication will be promptly excluded from competition.

Rule 34. Age of registered cattle and all single steers will be computed from September 1, except in Junior classes, which will be January 1. Age of best cattle, hogs and sheep will be computed from January 1, unless otherwise specified.

Rule 35. Those offering special premiums reserve the right, where classes on which such premiums are offered do not fill, to transfer same to whichever class they may choose.

Special Rules.
Rule 36. In the sections for carloads, the term "feeder" is hereby defined to be cattle fed on grass, supplemented with cake and hay, or cotton-seed and hay.

Rule 37. Accompanying each entry of cows three years old or over in any of the breeding classes, an affidavit is required at time entry is made, giving date of birth of her last calf (or the time she is due to calve, and such cows must have produced a living calf since September 1 of the year previous or show satisfactory evidence of being in calf. Where objectionable committee) as to a cow's eligibility under this rule, any premium awarded to such cow shall be forfeited (and sustained by the withheld until such cow shall have produced, on or before November 1, following the exposition, a calf.

Rule 38. Any bull over thirty-six months old entered in any of the breeding cattle classes, that has not had dropped to his services a living calf during the eight months preceding the opening day of the exposition, shall be deemed barren, and as such shall be excluded from the competition. Certificates from the exhibitor, properly attested, will be required by the general manager.

Rule 39. No exhibitor will be allowed to make more than two entries in any one section. This does not apply to horses.

Rule 40. All owners of property, or live stock or others having same in charge, shall care for, guard, protect and preserve the same as the National Feeders and Breeders' Show of Fort Worth does not undertake to do so, and it shall not be held responsible for any loss or damage to said property or the owners thereof.

Cattle in open pens in rear of Coliseum will be charged $1.00 per head. Cattle under covered sheds $1.50 per head. Car lots 25c per head and if sold and additional fee of 25c will be charged.

No clearance will be issued until all stock charges are settled and the rules of the Show complied with. Exhibitors are requested to notify shipping agents at original shipping point that stock is intended for exhibition, and have agent mark on bill of lading "For Exhibition at Fort Worth Fat Stock Show."

The native pens at the Fort Worth Stock Yards are recognized by the sanitary authorities, and cattle from points north of the line can come and go out with a clean bill of health. Hay and bedding for northern cattle will be furnished by the Fort Worth Stock Yards Company from above the quarantine line.

Panhandle Development Notes

One Crosby County Farm.

A. L. Ellison was a caller at the Review office this week and tells us that he was loading out a full car of cotton, all his own raising. He is shipping this car of cotton to Galveston, and he sets a pace never before set by a farmer of Crosby county by being the first farmer to ship direct to the warehouses a full car of his own cotton. He is not selling this cotton, but is storing it for future sales and says that he will not sell it for ninety days at least, unless the price goes up to where he feels better justified in selling.

He stated that he would possibly not have shipped the cotton at this time, but the weather was not good for it at this time here, and he wanted to get it under good shelter.

Mr. Ellison still has cotton in the field and says that he will have several more bales if he can get it picked.

Mr. Ellison shipped a full car of oats of his own raising this summer, and has sold a lot of oats to the local dealers. He also tells us that he has two cars of headed maize that he could ship now, but that he thinks the price will advance to where it will pay him to hold it for a time at least.—Crosbyton Review.

Handsome Dividends.

The farmers of Crosby County have had a week's rest on account of the snow and rain last week and they say it means handsome dividends next year.

Peanut Crop.

It is claimed that farmers in the Slavonia neighborhood will harvest about eight thousand bushels of peanuts this season. T. W. Henry will also harvest about a thousand or twelve hundred bushels. The lovely peanut should occupy an important place in the diversification program.—McLean News.

"A Perfect Saw."

"To say nothing of saw wood," seems to me one of the most sarcastic phrases passed down by our hard working forebears. Like most sayings which have emanated from manual labor, this is blunt, homely, and, to the loquaciously inclined, painfully accurate. Show me a man bent back in a short-fog under his buck, and I will point out a man who is minding his own business with admirable zeal. If he must speak, he ceases to saw. While he saws he is necessarily mute. Hence this shrewd phrase, which is, punning aside, a perfect saw.—Atlanta.

Reflects Ultra-Violet.

Prof. J. von Kowalski, in a letter to Nature (London), describes his observations of the spectra of sunlight reflected by snowfields in Switzerland. He finds that the ultra-violet rays are reflected by snow almost in their entirety. This fact helps to explain the trying effects of such light upon the eyes, and suggests the advisability of wearing, during a period of snow and sunshine, glasses that are opaque to the ultra-violet rays.

Calves Also.

Hali county is very prolific as the following will bear evidence. Last week a cow belonging to Mr. H. F. Deaver gave birth to a well-developed calf, this being the second calf within seven days. One is a male and the other a female, both living and in fine health. This is somewhat out of the ordinary, but Hali county can produce the goods.

Beyond the Jordan.

Everybody near Jericho is busy in this part of the country. Threshing seems to be the order of the day, grain is turning out pretty well, millet is averaging 23 bushels per acre and maize about 35 bushels. It is reported that E. V. Holman, of the Groom settlement threshed 60 bushels per acre.

Supersedes Hand Threshing.

Levi Holt has just received a new threshing outfit for threshing kaffir and maize. This is the first rig of the kind ever brought into this section. Heretofore this grain was threshed on an ordinary threshing machine, and the entrance of this modern equipped apparatus means much to farmers.

The separator and engine have occupied a flat car for a few days and has been an object of interest to many.

Both kaffir and maize are raised in great quantities in this vicinity, and Mr. Holt is to be commended for his enterprise in getting this outfit shipped into Glazier.—Glazier Review.

Comes In On a Pair.

Twins were born to A. W. Williams and wife in northwest Memphis Wednesday night. They were a boy and a girl and both well developed and healthy. All doing well.—Hali County Herald.

Couldn't Escape.

He was one of those timid, tiny-toned chaps who become enamored by mistake, and live in perpetual fear of a pending engagement ring. He himself had become enamored of a sweet and soulful maiden, whose languishing expression tore him between delight and fear.

At the conclusion of his first "call" she asked: "When are you coming again, dear?"

He seized the wrong hat from the rack in his confusion. "Er—what about some time next week?" he hazarded.

A look of disappointment came into the fair one's eyes.

"Next week," she said. "Yes, that will do lovely! Come round tomorrow night, dear, and we'll decide definitely upon the day."—Answers.
