TIE-UP ON SANTA FE IS SPREADING THIS WAY

By Associated Press
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—The tie-up of the Big Four brotherhoods on the Santa Fe line is spreading this way.

By Associated Press
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—Strikers were arrested in Nevada and California today as a result of the rail strike and Union men were taken into custody. No charges have yet been filed against the men. Governor Boyle had ordered a pistol taken from one of the men and was the object of one of the strikers' pistol when the governor got the drop on the man. No shots were fired, but the man was arrested.

The Santa Fe started a transcontinental train eastward from Los Angeles and expected to send it through to Chicago. The Southern Pacific also ordered trains on its division west of the Sacramento division.

Embargoes on movement of perishables were exchanged during the day and California growers and shippers faced a loss that grew into thousands of dollars hourly. It was said there was no way of saving the ripening fruit that would be shipped immediately.

The Union Pacific lines in Nevada, particularly at Las Vegas, was the scene of shooting early today. Shots were fired with machine guns were ordered to Las Vegas, and it was expected that Governor Boyle would have the police suppress the rail guards.

Twelve additional deputy federal marshals were ordered to Roseville, Cal., where the Pacific Fruit Express Company's plant is located. Two city deputies have been ordered to report to the marshal in San Francisco and the strikers were advised the court is not to be trifled with.

The Western Pacific did not have any trains today, confining itself with conferences with the Big Four brotherhood men who had refused to move trains. The company announced its line between Lake City and Genoa, Nevada, was open.

The general committee of the brotherhood held a conference at Los Angeles, but failed to discuss the subject of a strike. The committee was composed of men employed by the Santa Fe. The refusal of brotherhood men to move Santa Fe trains spread to New Mexico, where some 10,000 men were held. Travel to the Grand Canyon has ceased by the stopping of trains at Winslow, Ariz.

Mr. Sheppard, like the other union officials, refused to say specifically if he would leave "either case in the hands of hard and his associates, while as to the strikers, walkouts of brotherhood members in various parts of the country, he said, "the president doesn't intend to take any more action than will insure a safe passage."
