

The Bismarck Tribune.

Capital City Chips.

The circus is coming. With bugling and drumming. And the band begins to play; The lions are roaring. The tight rope girl's soaring. In mid air, lightly and gay. The hand organ's grinding. The tent men are binding. The canvass strung to the poles; And with scrambling and sprawling The small boy is crawling. In through the improvised holes. Bum Bam!

The circus arrives today. The capital presents a busy scene. The G. A. R. is being reorganized. Work on the capital is being crowded forward. The penitentiary will soon be entirely enclosed. Bismarck is to have a brewery, to be built at a cost of $50,000. Work on the Griffin block excavations is progressing in earnest. What say the leading citizens about a Fourth of July celebration? The rainfall of June, 1884, promises to be the largest for many years. Joseph Hanauer says he will have a carload of Blaine hats here in a few days. Numerous excursion parties are preparing to come to Bismarck during the summer. The Garfield Light Guard is preparing for a grand time on the evening of July 4th. The excavation for the Griffin block on Fourth street is nearly ready for brick. Sunday was children's day, and the churches were crowded with juvenile brilliancy. The rainfall for the twenty-four hours ending at 6 o'clock last evening was 1.18 inches. Analey & Knapp, the bone dealers are under arrest, for obtaining bones under false pretenses. A picnic party to Fort Lincoln is now being talked of. It could be made a brilliant success. Work on the new hotel will commence as soon as plans are completed and contract awarded. During these generous rains, the question of tree planting is agitated. Trees should be set out on every street in the city. The Governor's Guard and Garfield Light Guard are drilling continually. They will be ready for a fine parade on July 4th. The crops and vegetation generally is fairly rank with richness and vigor. The country never had so prosperous an appearance. Lightning demolished the Belfield church last Thursday night much to the regret and inconvenience of the people of that thriving little town. Contractors Megan & Kelley have commenced to haul stone to the Griffin block on Fourth street and work has begun on the foundations. Large bills are being circulated throughout the country, advertising the excursion to Bismarck, Dakota's capital. The excursion will arrive on July 4th. It is announced, that owing to heavy snows in the mountains, the roads to Mammoth hot springs, in the national park will not be open until July 1st. The equestriennes continue to grace the streets evenings. The Tribune will be on Bismarck's "quests" against those of any other town or city in the territory. St Paul Globe: The vicinity of Steele is one of the choice sections on the Northern Pacific line, and a large number of capitalists have been securing land in that region of late. Messrs. Fowler & Wilson are prepared to deliver oil to all parts of the city. These gentlemen will be prompt and courteous and their services will be appreciated by the public. J. W. Analey the man who shot Geo. Gibbs Monday evening, was arraigned before Judge Hare yesterday afternoon and pleaded not guilty. He did this to secure an examination, which will be given next Tuesday morning at ten o'clock. St. Paul Globe: Special enthusiasm is felt at Bismarck over the organization of a $50,000 brewery. The muddy river water requires a great deal of beer to be tolerable. There are few places of its size that can get away with more than Bismarck on the Missouri.

Personal.

Frank B. Hilton, of Minneapolis, is at the Sheridan. C. B. Logan, of Miles City, is visiting friends in the city. Silas Leach, of Scranton, Pa., came in from the east last evening. Frank B. Wells and wife came down from Stevenson yesterday. C. C. Cole and wife, of Glendive, are registered at the Sheridan. C. M. Chandler, of New York, reached the city yesterday morning. Attorney Jamison, of Jamison & Webster, has returned from the east. Messrs. George N. Mellon and H. F. Douglas went to Glendive yesterday. Hanauer returned from the east last evening, leaving Mrs. Hanauer and little daughter in Rochester, Mo. Sig. wears a smile of contentment. City Engineer Bringhurst returned from Chicago yesterday morning. He saw the ruins of the St. Paul Union depot and says great are the ruins thereof. Misses Laura Bain and Maud Loomis of Louisville, Ky., arrived yesterday morning. Miss Bain is a sister of Geo. A. and John Bain of this city and Miss Loomis is a sister of Mrs. Geo. Bain.

Architect W. L. Dow, of Sioux Falls, arrived in the city yesterday morning to look after the work on the various buildings of which he is superintendent. W. A. Wilson of Philadelphia, who invested largely in Dakota land last season, returned from a western trip last evening. He joins the multitude in proclaiming the grand crop prospects of the territory. P. M. Warner, of Milwaukee, passed through the city last evening on his return from the Pacific coast. He says Dakota is the queen of territories, and has the most promising appearance of any country through which he passed. Frank P. Dwyer, the northwestern traveling agent for the Chicago & Grand Trunk railroads, arrived in the city yesterday and has been slamming his Grand Trunk literary bag around among the capital crowd in a promiscuous and unceremonious manner. Mr. Dwyer is a conventional athlete and does his loftiest tumbling on the Chicago Trunk. Mr. J. W. Hoover, of Washington, Ia., who has been looking over the Missouri slope several weeks, left for home last evening, having decided to bring his family to Bismarck and make this his permanent home. He says he is charmed with the country and will induce several of his friends to return with him. Mr. Hoover is a man of capital and enterprise, and is thrice welcome to the capital city.

Geo. Gibbs Shot.

Geo. Gibbs, an old and respected citizen of Bismarck, was shot last Monday and is not expected to live. The perpetrator of the deed is Mr. Analey, of whom the TRIBUNE speaks in another column, and who it said Sunday morning had been arrested for obtaining property under false pretenses. The complaint made was that Analey and his partner had paid the men who hauled the bones. Gibbs was one of the many who hauled bones for the firm, and last Monday he went to Analey's boarding house on Sixth Street, in Hunt and Foster's block and demanded pay. Analey was found on the sidewalk, and after getting no encouragement of immediate pay several of the men started to go to their teams, when Gibbs exclaimed, "Hold on here; stay by me and I'll see that you all are paid." Gibbs had been drinking a little and was somewhat talkative. He said that hanging was too good for Analey and continued to demand pay for the crowd. When he spoke of hanging and used a few sharp words Analey rushed to his room, returning in a moment with a revolver. Upon his return he addressed Gibbs who was looking in an opposite direction, saying, "What's that you said?" Just as Gibbs turned to look at Analey, the latter fired, the ball taking effect just below the nose and passing through to the back of the neck, where it lodged. Gibbs fell upon the sidewalk and at first it was thought he had been instantly killed. He soon revived, and the first words he said were, "I'm a pretty good man yet." Analey escaped to the Main street sidewalk, giving himself over to Chief Fortune. He was immediately lodged in jail where he now is. His first inquiry was as to the fatality of the shot, and said that he regretted his action. Doctors Bentley and Lambert were summoned and gave medical aid. Mrs. Fornafi, who lives on the opposite corner of the street, offered one of her rooms for the care of the wounded man, which was accepted, and Mrs. Gibbs sent for.

On Tuesday morning Mr. Gibbs was removed to the residence of Mr. Shad Lambert, where his wife and physicians are constantly watching over him. Dr. Bentley is in charge of the case and Tuesday afternoon called Dr. Fraser in for consultation. It has thus far been utterly impossible to determine the exact location of the ball. It is known that the ball is lodged in the back of the neck, but as to removing it there is no hope. The great danger to be feared is blood poisoning, which is liable to set in. Mr. Gibbs takes a cool, practical view of the case, and believes that he will recover. He rested well yesterday and last night. Analey, the man who fired the shot, exhibited considerable nervousness yesterday, and manifests a great interest in the welfare of his victim. He realizes that he has committed an atrocious crime, and the consequences loom up before him in terrible reality.

The New Hotel.

The new hotel to be erected by Meilon Bros., on the corner of Main and Sixth streets will be one of the very finest in the northwest. Through the courtesy of Messrs. Carl Wirth and Herman Kretz, the architects of the building, the TRIBUNE is enabled to give its readers a detailed description of the hotel. It is to be constructed entirely of brick and will be a splendid sample of what can be done with brick manufacture at home. The style of architecture is modern Gothic with Queen Anne features. It is to be three stories high with a basement, and will virtually be four stories in height. Its dimensions are 120 feet on Sixth street and fifty feet on Main. The designers of the hotel have done their work with one main object in view—comfort and convenience to guests, the first floor will be the dining room, office, billiard hall, library and hotel postoffice. The office, which is entered at the corner is large and airy. A wide hall leads to the dining room, which will be a perfect gem in size will accommodate an immense congregation of people. To the right the billiard room is reached from the office. In front of the office is an open colonnade for smoking, reading and social chat, and a neat reading room will also be provided. In the center of the large hall which leads from the office to the dining room is a stairway which leads the visitor or guest to the second floor. The second floor is occupied first by a spacious parlor, with fire-place and elegant furnishings, where a splendid view is commanded both south and west. A verandah from the second floor directly out from the parlor will give the guests an excellent opportunity to breathe pure Dakota air while they are protected from sun and wind. A wide hall extends the entire length of the building on the second floor and is lighted from immense skylights. Doors from this hall lead to the various sleeping apartments which are thoroughly ventilated and lighted. The stairway continues to the third floor, which is devoted to sleeping rooms. A stairway at the rear has been provided for fire escape. The basement is one of the most important features of the building. Here are barber shops, bath rooms, trunk room, office, laundry with drying room, storeroom and vegetable cellar. The kitchen is at the rear of the hotel and will have all modern appliances and improvements. On the second floor to the rear of the main building is the servants' department, which is separated from the guests' apartment by immense brick walls. The building will be a perfect beauty and will be a magnificent and lasting adornment to the city.

GRIFFIN BLOCK.

While in the architect's office the plans of the Griffin block, now in process of construction on Fourth street, were seen. This building is to be ninety feet deep, two stories and a basement, and the elevation will be three stories high. It is of the Composite style of architecture and will be a solid brick structure. The front is to be constructed of fine pressed brick and sand stone trimmings and will be decorated with handsome carved capitals and recessed iron panels. The feature of the front will be the mammoth plate glass, the largest manufactured. Iron columns will support the walls, and the exterior finish will be perfectly neat and imposing. The interior will be finished in hard wood. The first story is sixteen feet high and the second story fourteen feet high. On the second floor are to be handsomely furnished suits of rooms with fire places. The front will be topped with a pediment and cresting. The Griffin block will be another of the truly magnificent brick blocks of the capital city. Messrs. Carl Wirth and Herman Kretz, the architects of these buildings, are having a vast amount of business and deserve all the patronage that can be bestowed upon them. Mr.

Wirth is a graduate of the Academy of Design, of Germany, and has had ten years' practical experience in this country, while Mr. Kretz graduated from the famous Polytechnicum, of Holsmden, and has practiced the profession three years in America.

The Garfield Light Guard Band.

A meeting of the Light Guard was held last Wednesday for the purpose of perfecting plans and arrangements for the initiatory ball to be given by them on the evening of July 4th. The meeting was an enthusiastic one, every member manifesting the deepest interest in the success of the ball. It was decided that invitations should be extended to all the societies of the city, including the Governor's Guard and fire department, to the officers and soldiers of Fort Lincoln, to the soldiers and citizens of Mandan, Steele and other neighboring towns, and that every effort be put forth to secure the pleasure and comfort of the guests. The amount paid in by members for the uniforms, was $657, and several applications for membership were received. The uniforms will be here soon and on July 4th, the company will appear on dress parade. The following is a list of the committees appointed for the management of the ball. Advertising—Captain W. A. Bentley, Valentine Schreck, Frank Kihm. Reception—Captain W. A. Bentley, Major Sanger, Ft. Lincoln; Attorney General Hughes, Col. Geo. L. Ordway, Mayor Dunn, Alexander McKenzie, Captain O. W. Bennett, Geo. P. Flannery, Hon. E. A. Williams, John Garland, Asa Fisher, Col. C. A. Lounsbury, J. W. Raymond, M. H. Jewell, L. N. Griffin, Lieut. F. L. Stacy, F. W. McKinney, Col. Wm. Thompson, and Major Wm. Woods, of Bismarck; Mayor Frank Mead, of Mandan, and Col. W. F. Steele, of Steele. Invitations—Valentine Schreck, Captain W. A. Bentley, Wm. VonKuster, Charles Lewis, Rev. J. G. Miller. Floor Managers—Jos. Hanauer, Val. Schreck, John Tritton, Lieut. Fort, Ellis Carey, W. H. Bradt, Sergeant Frank LaWall, Sergeant J. Jos. Fox, Wm. Touhey, Louis Larson, and E. L. Hager, of Mandan. Music—Jos. Hanauer, E. Brunsman, E. Holliday.

After the business meeting the company was drilled and exhibited great improvement. Chips from Standing Rock. Our dusky friends having finished putting in their spring crops and broken sufficient prairie for the coming year, have turned their attention to the gathering of bones. Up to the present they have hauled in and shipped about 150 tons. The Gen. Terry, on her downward trip, took on board about 100 tons of bones and expects to take as many more on her trip up. Nine more men have within the last few days deserted the post, eight of these being cavalrymen and one infantryman. It seems that at this post the cavalry will soon need recruits. The scouts are out trying to hunt them up and bring them back. Major McLaughlin went to St. Paul a few days ago in the interests of the Dakotahs at Standing Rock agency. "Nix," a correspondent of an obscure little sheet published in La Gracoe, is indulging in personalities. As there is so much wit and wisdom in his articles, it is highly recommended to the editor of said paper to increase his salary. Capt. McDougal and his troop B. First cavalry, got their photographs taken on Sunday. As he has the crack company of the Seventh, they will no doubt make a good showing. CATKA.

Analey's Statement.

Messrs. Analey & Co., the gentlemen of whom the TRIBUNE spoke Sunday morning, as having been arrested upon the charge of obtaining property under false pretenses, were arraigned Monday, and given a continuance of trial. In order that no injustice be done the defendants a TRIBUNE reporter sought an interview with them and asked them to make a statement. Mr. Analey said: "The statement that I tried to obtain money in St. Paul on the credit of Mr. Griffin or any one else is a lie, and I brand the parties who made the statement as liars. As to defrauding the farmers who gathered the bones, that statement is also totally and absolutely untrue. We have defrauded no one. We have paid out about $8,000 along the line of the Northern Pacific, several thousand of which has been paid to the farmers and laborers of Burleigh county. The statement that we owe nearly $2,000 in this county for bones, is false, as $500 will cover every cent of our indebtedness. We have to our credit in the Bismarck banks and coming to us from the bone business, not less than $9,000. There are large piles of bones along the banks of the river, which we have paid for to these very men who are now causing us this embarrassment. Only two men of the hundreds we have dealt with have complained, and they have taken action on the slightest pretext. I think we are able to meet our little obligations, as I alone have real estate in Ohio that will bring $12,000, at the lowest estimate, aside from an interest in large pottery. This is the first time I ever attended a lawsuit, except once as a witness, and never before has my honesty been impeached. So far as the small amount we owe is concerned we intend to pay every cent and will be able to do so in a few days."

Fargo Ratifies.

Attorney John A. Stoyell, who returned from Fargo Wednesday morning, participated in a grand Blaine & Logan ratification meeting in Fargo Tuesday evening, and in company with Col. Plummer stirred the Fargo enthusiasm for the ticket. The Fargo Argus says: Quite a number of people assembled in the city park last evening, where the Coliseum band furnished music. Col. W. C. Plummer, who had just returned from Chicago, was introduced by Mayor Yerxa and made a rousing speech for the republican ticket composed of Blaine & Logan. The colonel was master of his subject and enthusiastic of his praise of Mr. Blaine's good qualities as a statesman, and Mr. Logan as a friend of the soldiers. The colonel was frequently applauded. Hon. John A. Stoyell, of Bismarck's, was the next speaker, and delivered one of his characteristic addresses, which was well received and frequently cheered. Mr. Stoyell is enthusiastically for Blaine and Logan.

They are Coming.

They are coming through valley and glen, through the gnarled and knotted groves of the tropical realms, through the sighing pines of Maine and Michigan, by the rolling torrents of the Father of Waters, by the storm lashed shores of the lakes, and from the furthest boundaries of civilization, they are hurrying to the land of Dakota. They are coming in pairs, full hands and flutes; hand in hand they march over the rough and rugged Alleghanies; hand in hand they trip lightly through the many spired and domed cities, and in happy groups they come merrily from meadows, fields and hamlets, to secure homes and everlasting fortunes in the agricultural Eden of the world. In trainloads the incoming flood is rushing on to the Missouri slope. Excursions have been arranged, and on July 4th the capital city will be the scene of a great throng of strangers, gazing with enraptured eyes at the magnificent and natural surroundings. The visitors will see crops such as have made Dakota famous in every clime and land, and will determine to possess themselves of their share and just proportion of the great domain. The signs of the times are bright and encouraging.

The Schools.

Burleigh county's school system has undergone many improvements within the last year and the facilities and accommodations of education are being enlarged and perfected with that rapidity of progress known only to the new northwest. New school buildings are springing up in every direction and the very best instructors are employed to guide the young. A school building has just been completed in the Fields district, six miles west of the city; another is completed in Johnson's district, nine miles south; two new school houses are in process of erection in the Gregory district, fourteen miles southwest; at Painted Woods another school building is nearly finished; preparations are being made for the organization of a school district six miles northwest of the city. Thus it will be seen that Burleigh county is well supplied with educational facilities and the children of the country are enjoying all the blessings and advantages of a thorough school system. County Superintendent Winchester, who is laboring earnestly and effectively in the interest of the schools, will soon have a school census ready for publication, and the progress of the country in this all important interest may be seen.

The Rainfall.

The following table has been kindly furnished by the signal service officers of the Bismarck office for the readers of the TRIBUNE. The rainfall is a question of grave interest to the people of this country, and this table will show the comparative rainfalls at this point of the nine years from 1876 to 1884, inclusive, up to the present month, for the months of May, June and July. It will be observed that the greatest fall of rain in that period was that of 1879—12.91 inches. Next in order is 1882—11.65 inches, while the lowest is last year (1883), only 6.31 inches. The fall for May of this year is 2.66 inches, and the prospect for abundant rain is promising. The following is the Table with 5 columns: Year, May, June, July, Total. Rows for 1876-1884 and a sum/mean row.

A Change at the Post.

Companies G. and K. of the Fifteenth infantry at Fort Lincoln, under Captain Steelhammer, left for Poplar River yesterday morning on the steamer Benton. The officers leaving Lincoln with the companies are Major Hartz, Lieutenants Corey, McGunnigle, Cotter and Welsh. All but Lieutenant McGunnigle went yesterday morning and he will follow in about two weeks, it requiring that time for him to transfer the stock and books of the quartermaster's stores. The people of Bismarck and Mandan regret the departure of these officers, as they had become so neighbor and friends. Mrs. Major Hartz and Mrs. Lieutenant McGunnigle leave with their husbands and the ladies of the sister cities will miss them. The officers and soldiers of Fort Lincoln have conferred numerous kind and generous favors on the people of the capital city and when they depart it seems as though true friends were going.

Letter of Vindication.

EDITOR BISMARCK TRIBUNE: Will you allow us to correct a statement made by a daily paper of your city last fall in reference to Dr. W. H. Williamson, who was then living in Bismarck, and who has returned to that place and expects to live there. We thank you for the interest you manifested in the matter at the time. It was stated on the day Dr. Williamson was leaving Bismarck that he had made a transfer of the Long Lake city property to eastern parties, and had sold it to them as a quarter section of land, instead of a platted townsite, thereby defrauding not only those who bought it, but all who had purchased lots, etc. Allow me to say, the transfer was made to ourselves and others as the records will show, and we were all partners of the doctor's at the time, he having taken the land in his name, at the request of the land agents, at the time of purchase from the railroad company, and he was simply giving a deed to us for our individual interest in the property. The words "quarter section" were used instead of "Long Lake city," which was a mistake not intended, and has been corrected by a new deed, in which the lots deeded by him prior to that date are excepted. We have now contracted for the building of a hotel and store on the Long Lake City townsite, and it is under construction and will be completed within four weeks. The company also expect to make other improvements during this season which they were prevented from making last fall by circumstances over which they as a company, had no control. G. A. PATTON, Pres. Long Lake City Ass'n. W. L. WOODCOCK, Solicitor. Altoona, Pa., June 6, 1884.

A July Fourth Meeting.

All interested in a celebration of the Fourth of July in the capital city are requested to meet at the office of Attorney General Hughes this evening at eight o'clock. It is the desire of many that a genuine independence jollification and patriotic jubilation be indulged in by the citizens of Bismarck, and the meeting is called to perfect plans and arrange a programme for the day. The representatives of the military and civic societies are especially requested to be present at this evening's meeting. It is hoped that several companies of soldiers from Fort Lincoln will join in the demonstrations, and a day of army camp life be given to the militia of the city. The meeting will be called to order promptly at eight o'clock.

Mr. Gibbs' Condition.

Early yesterday afternoon, George Gibbs, who was shot Monday evening, sank rapidly, and for a time it was thought he was dying. Dr. Bentley was immediately summoned and found the patient suffering acute pain. Relief was soon given and Mr. Gibbs rested well during the remainder of the afternoon. Last evening his temperature was lower and more favorable than in the morning, while his pulse was strong at 82. The critical period of the case is just beginning and serious developments may be expected. The ball is still lodged in the back of the neck, but its exact location cannot be ascertained.

Don't Want to Sell.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Logan, of Chicago, arrived in the city yesterday morning. Mr. Logan coming for the purpose of selling his interest in the Stark farm, southeast of the city. Upon his arrival he was taken in charge by Messrs. F. V. Barnes and B. B. Mellon, who showed him the country. He was given a ride out to his farm and as far north as the Wallace farm. At the latter place farmer Wallace's garden was seen, and it is well worth the trip to see. Every variety of vegetable is growing here and the crops all along the road, as they are all through north Dakota, are in the most flourishing condition. After seeing the country Mr. Logan said he would not sell his land for less than $40 per acre. Mr. and Mrs. L. started on their return to Chicago last evening.

The Excursion.

Large posters are being distributed advertising the excursion to Bismarck. The excursion will arrive in Bismarck on July 4th, and its magnitude may be imagined when it is known that rates have been made and it is being advertised along the lines of the following roads: St. Louis, Keokuk & Northwestern, Chicago, Burlington & Kansas City; Cedar Rapids & Northern, Minneapolis & St. Louis, and Northern Pacific railroads. The rates for round trip tickets are very low, and it may be safely estimated that fully two hundred people will come to the capital city on the excursion. An appropriate reception should be tendered the excursionists, who come under the supervision of Mr. E. A. Conibear.

To Fleety Young Men.

As it is desired to send a hook and ladder company from Bismarck as competitors in the tournament which will be held in Fargo in September next, those wishing to become members are requested to send in their applications to Ed H. Connors or Chas. Lewis. Fast young men are wanted. Fleety young men; men who can spring like a wild cat and snatch the very lightning from a hook and ladder truck—with practice. The object is a good one, as it will promote efficiency in the fire department and it is hoped that a sufficient number will respond to insure the success of the company.

The Gun Club.

The Gun club met at 9 p. m. Monday evening in the office of Allen & Barnes. After an interesting discussion the name of Bismarck Sports men's association was decided upon. Twenty-four members were voted upon and admitted and the following officers elected: President—Frank B. Allen. Vice Pres.—W. B. Bell. Secretary—F. J. Calef. An executive committee was appointed and arrangements made for a glass ball shoot at 5 o'clock Saturday evening next. The meeting adjourned until 9 p. m. Thursday night, when they will again meet in the office of Allen & Barnes.

From the Coast.

The emigration from the Pacific coast is large. Every day brings some one to Bismarck from the coast, and adds one man to the solid working population of the county. Several have returned within the past few days and taken land in this locality. They all have the same story to tell. They say that Dakota is the best country from the lakes to the Pacific, and regret that they did not stop here instead of going on west in the blind and hopeless search for fortunes and homes far beyond the rich agricultural belt. This reaction is assuming wonderful proportions, and hundreds of the returning horde will settle in the Missouri slope before fall.

The Marquis Happy.

Maquis de Mores, the cattle prince and general boomer of the northwest, passed east Tuesday evening, en route to St. Paul, his present home. He said to the TRIBUNE that his cattle are all in a healthy condition and are prospering. He is proud of his investments and property on the line of the Northern Pacific and expects soon to realize largely from them. The slaughtering of the beaver is now in progress and the business is on an increase. President "Jim" Hill of the Manitoba road who went west with the marquis is now in Helena.

Another Acquisition.

The books, papers, safe and records of the office of grand secretary I. O. O. F. arrived Sunday, for Maj. E. M. Fuller, recently elected grand secretary of the Grand Lodge and grand scribe of the Grand Encampment. The election of Maj. Fuller as grand secretary and locating the office of the Grand Lodge of the territory at Bismarck was a high compliment to the capital city and is duly appreciated.

The Jewish Colony.

Rev. Dr. Wechsler, the Jewish Rabbi, who has become a very important factor in the development of the northwest and especially the Missouri slope, has again demonstrated his generosity and enterprise by sending seventeen fine milk cows to his people located north of this city. He says he will lend a helping hand to the colony as long as they need assistance and will supply them with the necessities until they become self supporting. The Rev. Dr. has proven himself to be a man of the broad gauge order, both in heart and mind and his work will bring grand results for the country. In time, this settlement of shrewd Jews will become prosperous and their trade will be an item of no small importance to the capital city.

The H. I. T. F.

A movement is now on foot to organize the H. I. T. F. in Bismarck. This is a novel and charming society of young Americans and is known as the Honorable, Industrious, Temperate Fellows. To become a member the applicant must not be younger than five years nor older than eighteen. Thus, it enlists and brings into its folds all the youths and bright-eyed boys of the country and surrounds them with an influence which must have a good effect. It gives the "little fellows" means of evening enjoyment, cultivates good behavior, and builds for them a character which will be the foundation for their course and destiny in after years. The prime movers in the organization of the society are Captain and Mrs. Hathaway, Mrs. W. B. Watson, Mr. O. H. Clagne and others. A meeting is called for Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock, in the quartermaster's yard. All young Bismarckers are invited.

Heinze Bros.

Heinze Bros., who are winning an enviable reputation as draughtsmen and designers, are the artists who gave to the weekly TRIBUNE its new and attractive head. These gentlemen are experts in their line and have turned out some of the finest work ever seen in this city. They have just completed a plat of the Capital Park addition to the city of Bismarck by their new process and have a number of orders for work ahead. Heinze Bros. have talent, and their work is appreciated by all who have engaged their services. They are faithful and industrious and never alight their work.

The Agent Fro Tem.

During the absence of Mr. John Davidson at the meeting of the Masonic Grand Lodge, Mr. W. M. Touhy fills the agents chair, and does it with a grace and ease which is truly commendable. His attitude is dignified and haughty and he wears all the pomp and ceremony requisite to the position. He occasionally reaches for his waving suburban beard, but his hand closes empty and he realizes that he is still Touhy. Mr. Touhy is a competent young gentleman and "holds down" the Northern Pacific road at this point with a firm and steady grip.

The Nickel Plate.

The Nickel Plate show will parade this forenoon, and this afternoon the canvases will be spread. The show is highly spoken of and ranks well with the circuses now on the road. Mr. Harris, the proprietor and manager, is a showman of many years experience and never travels with a poor combination. Although the Nickel Plate is not the largest and only greatest, it is first class, and the performances beneath the tent are as good as can be seen in any circuses on the continent.

Prize Antlers.

The finest buck head and antlers in Bismarck or the Missouri slope is now on exhibition at Robert Macindier & Co.'s store. The animal was killed by Thos. McGrath of Stanton near the mouth of Knife river. This head is from a white tailed deer and is a beauty. Sporting men should call in and see the antlers. They are the handsomest ever seen in this city. Their being nineteen prongs on a single horn.

The Opening.

The opening of the Stacey Palace last evening was attended by a large and hearty crowd, who did justice to the elaborate lunch which was spread with great generosity and served in an artistic and tasty manner. Mr. Stacey has a place worthy of the name of Palace, and he presides over its details with a competency born only of experience and good nature. Stacey's Palace promises to be a popular resort.

River.

A telegram from Yates announces that the Gen. Terry will leave that point Saturday morning at 8 o'clock for Pierre, from which place it will take an excursion of 350 people to Fairbanks, about forty miles above Fort Sully, starting on the 16th.

Would You be Rich?

If you desire to gain fortune and respectability, there are two immutable laws which must be observed. The first is judicious economy, and the second is a self pride. Young men, to gain the confidence of the public you must have at least the appearance of respectability. That confidence once gained and not abused, and your fortune is assured. In the matter of clothing you naturally desire to have the best at the least cost. The St. Paul One Price clothing store is the place to go. You need not necessarily go to buy, but call in and see the goods. Go in and take a look of those handsome suitings, inspect the splendid display of straw hats, take a look at the fine summer underwear, gaze upon the neat and varied neckwear; then throw an inquisitive glance at the superb display of hats of all grades and styles. In short, go in and satisfy yourself that the St. Paul One Price clothing house has as good a stock of goods as can be seen in Chicago, and are selling at prices lower than those of the east. The summer goods are now being sold rapidly to make room for the immense fall stock which is already being manufactured by the firm's own factory in New York.

Unperverted Essence.

With scarcely an exception, every paper in the country gives lavish praise to the St. Jacobs Oil Family Calendar and Foot's Health and Humor for the million, 1884. The San Francisco Post says: "It gives the clear, unmixt, unadulterated, unperverted essence of wit, humor and fun."
