PIONEER ONE-PRICE CLOTHING HOUSE!

Who have obtained the name for HONESTY, INTEGRITY and STRICTLY TRUTHFUL REPRESENTATIONS. No two prices asked here and your offer snapped at, but everybody can from now on buy Clothing at manufacturers' prices, and all other goods in our large establishment will be sold accordingly.

THIS IS NO HUMBUG, BUT PLAIN, SOLID TRUTH.

Our stock does not consist of the cheapest make and most inferior or unmarketable slopshop work, by which means watch schemes are necessary to shove them off, but consist of HONEST GOODS, and will be sold for just what they can be made up for in our Eastern Factory. We do not want the public to lose sight of the undisputed fact that we intend selling better made and better fitting Clothing than any concern in Bismarck, so we want every man, woman or child who contemplate buying a penny's worth from us to look at all other stores, look at the make of goods, obtain prices, and we will positively convince you, and speedily too, that you will get more value for less money from us than any other place.

Come One and All and Examine for Yourselves at the Crying for Bread.

Monday there were fourteen of Bismarck's good-looking, representative young men ruthlessly cast out upon the cold, cold world, without where to lay their pates or perform their gastronomic feats. The band of gallants had been boarding at the house of Wm. Ivers for some time, but, perhaps, owing to the air of progression in the Missouri slope, perhaps to the epicurean tendencies of the guests, perhaps to the speed of the time—fast, you know—the young gentlemen were determined to demand more metropolitan airs and higher proof victuals. Several young gentlemen in the crowd drafted and circulated a petition addressed to the landlord, demanding better care and more agreeable stuffing (a Thanksgiving expression). The petition was circulated among the boarders, who signed it almost to a man. The boys were going to have a little fun and whip the host into a greater affection for his guests. The petition was presented. It was like striking a dynamite cartridge with a pile driver; dropping a barnished meteor into a mountain of giant powder; and aspet things generally, even as did the famous ball in the china shop. The doors of the boarding house were immediately closed and now the following list of well known young gentlemen are wanderers on the thorn-covered surface of the chilly earth without even a warming pan for comfort or a cottonwood sandwich to satisfy the cravings of the masticatory machines: N. L. Boss, J. E. Mayor, H. Rodway, J. T. McGivern, Mr. Kinnan, T. P. Herron, Charles Highlands, F. W. McKinney, B. McKinney, W. E. Carrington, J. W. Dahl, C. H. Evans, G. T. Bennett, Charlie Hanauer.

Wells, Fargo & Co.

Mr. A. S. Leonard, representing Wells, Fargo & Co., is in the city in the interest of the great express company. Through legal channels this company has regained the privilege of operating on the eastern divisions of the Northern Pacific and will inaugurate a lively competition with the N. P. express company. Delivery wagons and horses will soon be in Bismarck, and the express business will be shaken up good and lively. The first carload of express shipped over the road by Wells, Fargo & Co., under the new regime, went through the city yesterday.

A Fight With Gaul.

A special dispatch to the TRIBUNE from Fort Yates, states that a fight took place between a Frenchman named Louis Agard and some Indians, in the trader's store, Monday night, in which one Indian received a serious cut in the head. Agard, who lives on the opposite side of the river from the post, entered the Indian trader's store, where some Indians were sitting around. Among the Indians were Gaul and several other chiefs, without any provocation Agard commenced to abuse the Indians, who offered to shake hands, instead of accepting the hand of friendship Agard grabbed Gaul by the throat and held him against the wall, while he gave another a blow over the head. After offering some resistance, he was arrested by the Indian police, who took him to the agency guard house, and later in the evening he was taken to the military guard house as trouble was anticipated. The affair has caused much excitement among the Sioux. Agard will be tried before an Indian court martial.

Large Demonstration at Steele.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TRIBUNE] STEELE, D. T., Nov. 29, 1884. It having been announced that the Hon. John A. Rea, register of the United States land office, Bismarck, D. T., would address the citizens of Steele and vicinity on Saturday afternoon, Nov. 29, upon the subject of a reduction of the price of government lands, a large concourse of people assembled at the school house at the appointed hour to hear the speaker and demonstrate their interest in the subject matter of his address. Mr. Rea reviewed the history of congressional legislation relative to the public domain, pointed out the inconsistencies of the present law requiring settlers to pay $2.50 per acre for government lands within railroad grants and suggested as a means to correct this injustice the remedy used so successfully by the anti-slavery people before the war, viz.: Agitate, agitate, agitate. At the close of the address a permanent organization, having for its sole object an intelligent and effective agitation of the question, was perfected as follows:

President—Henry I. Barnaby.
 Secretary—Charles E. Stanley.
 Executive Committee—John W. Carroll, David Russell, A. G. Clark, John D. Smith, William S. Belden, Allan Clark and F. O. Woodhouse.

A petition for the reduction of double minimum lands was then signed by all present.

After tendering a vote of thank to the speaker the meeting adjourned. OCCASIONAL.

The Met. at Jamestown.

The TRIBUNE is in receipt of the announcement of the opening of the Metropolitan hotel at Jamestown. The card very truthfully informs the public that the Metropolitan is a substantial brick hotel, with all the modern conveniences, richly furnished and arranged with a view to the comfort and enjoyment of the guests. Mr. D. O. Ehrhart is proprietor, E. E. Fitch chief clerk and E. Moxon assistant—all gentlemen of experience and winning ways. May they win abundantly.

In extracting fruit flavors, Dr. Price deals directly with nature and leaves the use of artificial extracts to those who have not the chemical knowledge to extract from the true fruits. Dr. Price's Special Flavoring Extracts are conceded to have no peers in the market and thus the demand for them is constantly increasing.

Army News.

Some army news of considerable interest to the people of this city and the Missouri slope is now in the wind and is being rumored from very good authority. Col. C. C. Gilbert and wife of Fort Yates went east Wednesday, and it is reported that the colonel will not return but that he will soon be placed upon the retired list. Lieut. Col. Townsend is expected to arrive soon from the east, when he will assume command at Fort Lincoln, Major Casey, now in command at Lincoln taking the command at Yates. These are mere reports, but came from reliable sources.

Married.

An Indignation Meeting.

At a meeting of the hotel keepers of Bismarck held at the Western house, present the following: T. W. Russell of the Banner house, Harnois & Howell of the Western house, Louis Peterson of the Pacific house, and George Elder of the International hotel, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Whereas, in the Journal of Saturday last an article appeared on hotel accommodations in which the Sheridan house was recommended as a hotel for the accommodation of all the legislative delegation and strangers to the exclusion of all others;

Resolved, that we, the hotel keepers of Bismarck, do hereby repudiate the slander implied and expressed on our respective houses; and Resolved, that we do hereby state as our unqualified opinion that accommodations can be furnished in our hotels and others in the city at reasonable rates and suitable even for the delicate palate of Col. G. A. Lounsbury, and further

Resolved, that our representatives and other strangers in the city will not find it necessary to rent private rooms and board at any one particular house, as we hereby pledge ourselves and the other hotel keepers of Bismarck to make all welcome who visit our city. It was further

Resolved, that the above resolutions be published. C. A. HARNOIS, F. HOWELL, T. W. RUSSELL, LOUIS PETERSON, GEO. W. ELDER.

Will Resign.

Capt. Howard, declares his intention to resign his office as deputy collector of revenue, and will remove to Minnesota to spend the winter. The captain has many friends in Bismarck who will regret his departure. He has held the position of chief clerk of the house of representatives of the Minnesota legislature for a number of successive sessions and it is understood that all of the old members who have been re-elected have joined in a request that he be a candidate for the position again. It is not known that Mr. Howard will consent to a candidacy, but if he does, it is safe to predict that he will occupy the chief clerk's desk in the legislative house of Minnesota during the next session. He is popular and competent.

Two of a Kind.

Mitchell Capital: Mr. and Mrs. Bowdle returned last Saturday from a trip to Iowa. Mr. Bowdle is settling up his business before leaving for Bismarck, and Mrs. Bowdle will spend the winter in New Orleans. R. W. Wheelock spent Sunday in the city and returned to Yankton, Monday. He expects to go to Bismarck and remain in the capital city during the session of the legislature.

A Court Scene.

Silence broken. Audible scuffle in rear of room. Heads of large audience turn rearwards. Grunt. Several grunts, and a chases-by-couple sound on floor. Walk-on-me-neck attitude of bailiff. Dynamic attitude of a well known presence. A familiar voice says, "Your honor, I am minding my own business," and Jimmy Eammas is seen with his back bumped like a hog going to war and his hand on the bailiff's throat. Court orders entire bundle removed. More silence.

A Letter From the South.

Yesterday Col. Wm. Thompson received the following interesting letter from J. F. Wallace, now in New Orleans:

Col. Wm. Thompson, Bismarck, D. T. Dear Friend—I think it best to delay your visit to this city until February or March or April. If you should, come at the opening of the exposition will not be ready and the grounds will not be near as beautiful as at a later date. It will take ten days or two weeks to look at and do justice to the exposition. Everything is of great magnitude and grandeur. Truly, the management have excelled, and deserve credit for the work they have done.

A good feeling prevails at the south and all seem glad to have an opportunity to welcome the hardy sons of the north, east and west.

Colonel, we are entering upon a new era of progress. The rivalry between the west, north-west and south for capital and immigration will be great and the result to all sections beneficent. Love of country is a plant that will receive care and made to blossom all over our native land.

I have received no letters or papers from home. Send papers or letters to 651 Magazine street, New Orleans, La.

Remember me to all. I would like very much to shake the hands of the Bismarck boys and tell them of New Orleans as I see it. I must say that for tribute and reverence to the dead and institutions for charity for the living no city on earth equals the Crescent City.

No such thing as political hatred is app rent and I believe will not ever crop out again. Yours, J. F. WALLACE.

Read this letter to Coffin, Louis, Sloan, Quinn, Jewell, Major Woods and Robert Macnider, and say to them that I am too busy to write to all. When I return I will hire a hall and lecture to all—I recs. Yours, J. F. WALLACE.

A Rare Variety of Seed Wheat.

The TRIBUNE has been shown a sample of wheat known as the Saskatchewan Fife of the Abernethy and Wellman stock, and grown thiing on the farm of J. N. Brundage & Co., at Dawson, Dakota. The sample in question is from a field of 49½ acres, from which 1860 bushels was threshed, which is an average of about 37½ bushels per acre. No extra care was taken in the preparation of the soil in this instance, the seed was sown late, and but one bushel and one quart was sown to the acre. Out of the product of 450 bushels sown in Kidder county last spring, not one kernel of smut has been discovered; and being sown on new ground it is free from foul seed or soft varieties of wheat. The officers of the Minneapolis Miller's Association certify that this variety of wheat is worth 10 cents per bushel above No. 1 hard of the common varieties for milling purposes, and all who have ever grown it will bear testimony that its yield is invariably one-third greater under equally favorable circumstances. A limited quantity will be offered for sale to the farmers of Burleigh county at a greatly reduced price if taken at once. Small quantities $2 per bushel. By the carload $1.50—delivered at Bismarck. Samples can be seen at the TRIBUNE counting rooms, where orders can be left.

The Grand Stoves and Ranges have the most artistic finish of any that we have ever seen. They are everywhere acknowledged to be the best in the world, while they cost no more than is often asked for inferior goods. They are as noted for durability convenience and economy of fuel as for style and beauty.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 105 Wall street, New York.
