COULD HARDLY WALK ON ACCOUNT OF RHEUMATISM

P. H. FORD - OF - Ouachita City, La., After TWO YEARS Suffering IS CURED - BY - THE USE OF Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"For fully two years, I suffered from rheumatism, and was frequently in such a condition that I could hardly walk. I spent some time in Hot Springs, Ark., and the treatment helped me for the time being; but soon the complaint returned and I was as badly afflicted as ever. Ayer's Sarsaparilla being recommended, I resolved to try it, and, after using six bottles, I was completely cured." - P. H. Ford, Ouachita City, La.

man who is in the pen for eighteen months for adultery, was prominent in the strike here last summer when employed as a Pinkerton by the road. He led the van of the strikers' procession and made fiery speeches in council. But the boys got onto him, it is said, just as swiftly as did both of his wives.

Major Fleming has received a letter from Frederick Webber, 33d degree, secretary general of the Supreme Council, for the Southern Masonic jurisdiction, stating that he will be at Fargo at the next re-union and spend a week with the North Dakota brethren.

The local reading room association has sent out circulars to the various newspapers in the state, asking that they be forwarded, for the benefit of the institution. The reading room is a worthy enterprise, and the responses will doubtless be prompt and generous, as North Dakota newspaper men always are.

Colonel J. B. Britton, who has been in the city for several days, has gone east and formed a partnership with Colonel Plummer and will again enter the ranks of newspaperdom at Minot. The outfit belonging to Mr. Britton will be used for the new publication and will be shipped to Minot in a couple of weeks.

Editor Streeter, of the Record, says: The Typographical Union ball and banquet at Bismarck, Wednesday, was well attended, and was one of the great events of the capital city's social season. The members of the grand old trades-union organization that dates back to 1852 never do things by halves.

Langdon Courier-Democrat: A private letter received from Senator Plain since his arrival at Bismarck, shows that the boys from this county are comfortably quartered. In speaking of the new senate chamber, our good-looking bachelor in the state senate describes it as being a "dandy," and says that the additions to the capitol building add greatly to its general appearance.

Valley City Alliance: It is told here that N. P. Rasmussen, having a holy horror of conflagrations, has supplied his room in his hotel in Bismarck with a rope an inch and a half in diameter and long enough to reach from his window to the ground. In case of fire and Nels starts to slide down we'll bet he'd try to go too fast, burn his hands and drop.

The funeral service over the remains of Mrs. Hansbrough was conducted in the parlors of the Hotel Cochran at Washington in accordance with the ritual of the Episcopal church, by the Rev. Dr. McKim. Numerous floral offerings covered the casket. The honorary pall-bearers were the Hon. M. A. Smith of Arizona, Hon. M. N. Johnson of North Dakota, and Senators Roach, Dubois, Gallinger and Kyle.

It appears from the report of Hon. W. W. Barrett, state irrigation commissioner that 13,000,000 acres of government land was appropriated at the close of the last session of congress to thirteen different western states, and North Dakota will receive 1,000,000 acres of this land for irrigation purposes. This land goes to actual settlers, the limit being 160 acres to one person, who is obliged to irrigate twenty acres of the same.

Jamestown Alert: Two deer hunters brought into Bismarck the other day nine deer in one wagon load. The animals were corded up like so much wood. They were sold to the hotels and meat markets without difficulty. Every few days before the season closed deer were brought into the city by farmers, and still are coming in, or at least offered for sale. An average weight deer will net the hunter five or six dollars.

Must Beware. North Dakota newspapers which have been publishing notices of raffles, grab-bags, bean contests, popularity races, guessing contests, and the like, must beware. Assistant Attorney General Thomas of the postoffice department, has made some important rulings governing operations of a lottery nature. In connection with newspaper notices, the department rules that it is immaterial whether the result of a lottery drawing is published as news, without pay, or as an advertisement, with pay. Newspapers containing the result of the awarding of such prizes are non-mailable. The only exceptions are made in the cases of newspapers publishing such matter in order to expose the concerns and crush or cripple their business, a policy which is held to be in line with the spirit of the law. In a decision, Judge Thomas says it is clear that the lawmakers intended to make newspapers non-mailable that contained matter concerning lotteries which is merely intended as news for public reading. The department also decides that the awarding of a prize to the person guessing nearest the number of seeds in a watermelon will be a lottery, though the guessing of weight of a melon would not constitute a lottery if the guesses were made after the melon had been lifted. The award of a prize to one suggesting the number of beans in a clear glass bottle, in plain view, is also held to be a lottery. The only way of removing the chance element is to announce the size of the vessel and the size of each article put into it, which, however, would not apply to beans, corn, oats or other articles of variable size and shape, as the number could not then be computed even approximately.

STATE VACCINE FARM.

Some Facts and Figures as to the Institution Operated by Dr. De Vaux Near Valley City.

Vaccine Virus Distributed to All Parts of the World, and Ranks With the Best.

Thirty Thousand Points Distributed - Over 300 Animals Inoculated for Virus.

State Vaccine Farm. Dr. F. H. DeVaux, of the State Health department, assisted by Dr. Harcourt, of this city, performed part of the regular vaccination of the convicts of the state penitentiary Saturday. The work was done in the afternoon with material brought up from Valley City by Dr. DeVaux. The doctor brought with him 100 vaccine points in all, and with these the prisoners were inoculated to guard against the possibility of small pox at the institution.

In conversation with Dr. DeVaux Saturday, some interesting facts were learned as to the state vaccine farm, the extent and magnitude of which, by the way, do not seem to be generally appreciated. The farm was established some time ago by Dr. DeVaux, and has been maintained since its foundation solely through his efforts, no assistance or aid having been received from any other source. The station has already secured a reputation abroad, and the vaccine points which are turned out by Dr. DeVaux rank among the best in the country. Of a test made with 138 points from each vaccine station in the country, the whole number from the North Dakota "took," not one proving ineffective.

The process of securing the virus for the preparation of the points is interesting. Heifer calves, which are secured from Barnes county farmers, are used. They are first subjected to the tuberculin test which last for thirty hours. If at the end of this time any reactionary symptoms are discovered, the animal is at once killed and cremated. If not, the calf is shaved and prepared carefully for the inoculation. After the development from this has been sufficient to produce the virus, the points, which are ivory, are properly treated with the virus and are then ready to be used in vaccination. All of the work is done with great care, which is evident from the fact that out of 30,000 points which have been distributed from the farm, not one case of erysipelas has resulted from their use.

Up to the present time 320 animals have been inoculated for the preparation of virus. Of this number 33 calves and 2 cows have failed to withstand the tuberculin test and have been killed. Over 30,000 vaccine points have been distributed in all parts of the world. Nearly 20,500 have been supplied to state physicians free of charge. About 500 persons have been vaccinated in Barnes county alone, and the product of the farm is received, Brazil, Argentine Republic, Mexico, France and all parts of the United States, as a prime article, equal to any which is produced.

It will be seen from this that the state vaccine farm has been built up to a thriving institution through the efforts of Dr. DeVaux, who has contributed his time and means unsparingly to the work. And he now invites the state to investigate what has been done and take hold of the matter, thus establishing a state farm, which shall be the only one allowed to operate in the state. The doctor is of the opinion that the matter will be a profitable one for the state to take hold of, and says that the farm will afford the state an income of $20,000 annually, if properly looked after by the state.

Salt Rheum often appears in cold weather, attacking the palms of the hands and other parts of the body. Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, cures salt rheum.

Institution Wanted.

While nearly every town in the state is demanding the establishment of a public institution of one kind or another, why should the people of Billport not be up and doing, asks the Emmons County Record. What the state needs, and needs badly, is the education of the badger and the domestication and judicious improvement of the Russian chow. That the badger can be tamed is shown by the fact that in occasional instances boys had made pets of individuals of the species. That they possess wonderful digging powers is demonstrated by the frequency with which their annoying excavations are met along the public highways. Like the populists, as a general thing they take the middle of the road. But it is not possible to divert their useless energy to a useful channel? Let the scoffer pause. Centuries passed ere science discovered a method of controlling even a part of the gigantic wasted power of Niagara. This town is in a senatorial district that is more than three to one republican. To the victors belong the spoils. Why should not the legislature establish at Billport a school for the purpose of educating the badger and teaching it to plow? If the power now wasted by this species in digging pitfalls in the highway could be conserved and properly directed, there would be no need of turning a furrow in the old way. If the badger could be taught to plow our fields and the flicker-tail gopher employed to spade our gardens, the life of the North Dakota farmer would be a continuous picnic.

A Joke on the Old Man. Some time ago a man living not far from Valley City committed suicide, says the Valley City Times-Record. The coroner went out and held an inquest and from the evidence it was surmised that the old gentleman had thought his family had not treated him right and for the purpose of bringing them to terms had taken a small dose of strychnine, which had been got for the purpose of poisoning gophers. He did not know the virulence of the poison, and it was believed did not intend to kill himself, but he died just the same. One of the witnesses before the jury was a daughter, aged about 18, who seemed to think it was a great joke on the old man. She said that "he just put a little bit in his hand and took it, but he was sorry for it afterward; (tee-hee) he didn't know it was going to hurt so. He thought he was going to fool us, but he fooled himself."

Buckingham's Dye for the whiskers can be applied when at home, and uniformly successful in coloring a brown or black. Hence its great popularity.

The Gateway City is Pleasid. There is a great deal of rejoicing over the fact that Fargo has been named as a distributing point and can now be conceded freight rates which will make wholesaling possible, remarks the Argus. As it was, goods from the Pacific coast could be sent to St. Paul and returned to Fargo cheaper than they could be shipped at Fargo. There was the return freight against the Fargo merchant and the North Dakota consumer. Under the present arrangement goods can be shipped at Fargo at the St. Paul rate, saving the return freight. Again: shipments can be made from Boston to Fargo at practically the same rate as to the Twin Cities. Under the old arrangement this could not be done. It is a concession to the business interests of the state which will benefit all persons doing business in it, but will be of greatest benefit to Fargo.

Hood's pills are the best after-dinner pills, assist digestion, cure headaches. Twenty-five cents a box.

He is Versatile. J. J. Gokey of Dawson is a versatile genius. Gokey is the man who was mixed up in the Coxy troubles last summer, and it is easily seen that Dawson could have ill spared his loss at the hands of the United States court, for the following cases show the extent of his usefulness to the citizens of the town: "J. J. Gokey, dealer in general mercer merchandise, including groceries, boots and shoes, guns, ammunition and sporting goods, hardware, iron and wood pumps, etc., harnessmaker, dentist, photographer, teeth extracted without pain; the finest of cabinet photographs made on short notice, and in the best possible manner; harness repaired; shoes mended while you wait. Give me a call. My prices will suit. My goods are first-class. J. J. Gokey, Dawson, N. D."

State Board of Pharmacy. The report of the state board of pharmacy shows that there was, on August 15, 1894, 253 registered pharmacists and 62 assistants. The association had on hand at that date a balance of $635.03. With the exception of five or six, every state and territory in the Union has a pharmacy law. The present board for North Dakota consists of H. E. White, president; W. S. Parker, secretary, and H. L. Hausamen. The board is considered of great benefit, and the present members have given eminent satisfaction, particularly the secretary, who, when his term of office recently expired, was reappointed by the governor.

Burning Pain Erysipelas in Face and Eyes Inflammation Subdued and Tortures Ended by Hood's. "I am so glad to be relieved of my tortures that I am willing to tell the benefits I have derived from Hood's Sarsaparilla. In April and May, I was afflicted with erysipelas in my face and eyes, which spread to my throat and neck. I tried divers ointments and alternatives, but there was no permanent abatement of the burning, torturing pain, peculiar to this complaint. I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and Felt Marked Relief before I had finished the first bottle. I continued to improve until, when I had taken four HOOD'S Sarsaparilla CURES bottles, I was completely cured, and felt that all signs, marks and symptoms of that dire complaint had forever vanished." Mrs. E. E. OTTAWA, Hillsboro, Wisconsin. Hood's Pills are prompt and efficient, yet easy in action. Sold by all druggists. 25c.
