

"My Heart Is Cured; It Never Troubles Me Any More—"

I am thankful I saw your advertisement of

Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy

Before I began taking it I had heart trouble very bad. I am glad to report that I am now in very good health, after following your advice as to the use of the Heart Remedy.

Mrs. Annie Farron, Topeka, Kan. Are you careful of your heart, and are you sure it is as strong as it should be? Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy steadies the heart action and enables it to recover its strength after exhaustion caused by over-work, worry, shock or strain.

If the first bottle fails to benefit your druggist will return your money. For sale at all drug stores.

COFFEE SALES.

Jan. 20, 1916.

Reed & Burnett, Crossville, Tenn. Dear Sirs:—Perhaps you would be interested to know just how much coffee you sold of our Special roast we have been roasting for you. We have just finished checking over our records and find that your sales totaled 11,750 pounds for the year 1915. An increase of about 40 per cent over 1914. We commend you very highly and assure you we will continue to furnish you the same standard of quality in the future as in the past. It is pleasing indeed to look back over our records and see a customer who has bought steadily from us for three years and each year shows an increase over the previous year.

Now for an increase in 1916 over 1915.

With kindest personal regards, Respectfully,
Woolson Spice Company.

MUST QUIT EATING CROP BEFORE MADE

South Must Stop Time-Honored System of Economic Suicide, Says H. G. Hastings

Atlanta, Ga.—(Special.)—"The people of the south must quit eating their cotton or other so-called 'cash crop' before it is made if they ever expect to accumulate wealth and have the comforts and luxuries of life due them," says H. G. Hastings, agricultural vice president of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, and a foremost authority on farm conditions in the southeast.

"The south must stop forever its time-honored system of economic suicide," says Mr. Hastings. "Advance steps were made last year toward a condition of farm independence in the Cotton Belt. They were forced steps, it is true, but they marked an advance just the same, and more bread and meat, more grain, forage and other food and feed stuffs were made in 1915 than ever before, with the result there are tens of thousands of farmers better off than in past years, despite short crops and business depression.

"With higher cotton prices, it is going to be a great temptation to drop back into the old habit of putting cotton, or whatever other cash crop one may be growing, in pawn for bread and meat. We are suffering today from the old system forced on us by conditions following the Civil war, necessary then, but unnecessary now.

"Year after year we have stayed in the same old rut as a matter of habit, eating our crops, so to speak, before they were made, a financially suicidal policy for the farmer, each year putting his nose a little closer to the credit grindstone.

"If the south had not been so rich in natural resources, this system would have bankrupted us long ago. What's the answer? It is home production by each farmer of every dollar's worth of food and grain supplies needed on his farm that it is possible to grow on his own acres. This means good big home gardens; hogs, chickens, cows and something to feed them on through the year."

If you want pencils, fountain pens, pen points, ink wells, library paste, or paper fasteners come to the Chronicle office for them.

J. A. Dunn was here last week from Alamosa, Colorado. He owns 7,000 acres in the Isonne neighborhood and is considering the question of establishing on it an extensive stock ranch. He will likely leave it in charge of his sons while he looks after other business in Colorado and other states.

If you have any friends visiting you or any of your folks visit at a distance be sure to send the facts to the Chronicle office. It is such things that help to make the paper of interest and we are always very glad to get them. Do not give a thought to that extreme idea: "They will think I am trying to get my name in the paper." That is just what the newspaper man and the public wants.

The ladies of the Baptist church will serve dinner during court week, commencing Monday with a chicken dinner. 1-19-31.

Mrs. R. B. Moore was here from Harriman for the week end visiting her daughter, Mrs. Baxter Southard. She returned home Sunday.

O. J. Marshal, of Hyannis, Neb., is here looking after a 300-acre tract he owns joining the farm of John Q. Wyatt. He is building a house on the property and will farm it this year. He brought with him A. C. Thompson and family, who will live on the farm. Their household goods arrived last week and were moved to the farm. Mr. Marshal does not expect to remain here this summer but may come in the fall to make his home here permanently.

The Art Circle Library is now in Mrs. DeGolia's building. Open on Tuesdays and Saturdays from 2:30 until 4:30 p. m.

Miss Eula Bishop was confined to her room Saturday and Sunday with a severe cold and symptoms of lagrippe but was able to be out again Monday.

E. Kirkpatrick and family loaded their furniture yesterday and left for Portland, near which place he has bought a farm. Our people regret to lose such good citizens, but they felt it to be for their best interest to make the change. Good wishes and good will go with them from our people.

At the Chronicle office you can get pen tablets, examination tablets, fountain pen ink in five and ten cent bottles, pocket note books, stenographer's note books, Crane's fine stationery in two-quire boxes and other stationery such as you do not find elsewhere in this county.

Eqs. Jere Morrow has taken the trouble to investigate the hog sales from this county this year. He finds that practically $11,000 worth of fat hogs have been taken out of the woods and sold besides many farmers have supplied themselves for the year with meat. There is no likelihood that the hogs sold cost the owners as much as $1,000 in cash to produce them for many of the hogs never ate a pint of corn in their lives. The main cost has been in time looking after the hogs in the woods. The acorn crop is still very abundant and hogs are improving and there will be an abundance of mast to carry them until spring.

A. L. Potter was in from Peavine Saturday and sold his mule team to Clarence Adams for $400. The young man has a hauling contract where he will use the team.

Friday night several of the young gentlemen of our town entertained their young lady friends with a delightful Five Hundred party at the beautiful home of Mrs. Andy Elmore. They were assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Elmore and Mrs. A. W. Keyes, who are always most charming hostesses. After a most enjoyable evening spent playing cards the young gentlemen presented the young ladies with beautiful pink and white carnations and other dainty favors. An ice course, mints and nuts were served at a late hour. Those entertaining were: Linton Thurman, Edger Snodgrass, Ernest Burnett, Annie Horn, Milo Lambert, Robt. Hays, Lindsey Martin, Frank and Aida Pater and the young ladies invited were: Mesdames Lindsey Martin, and Wm. Palmer, Misses Daisy Moien, Antoinette Jackson, Bessie Potter, Beulah Kirkpatrick, Fannie DeGolia, Elizabeth March, Violet Haley and Eula Bishop.

Monday Volney Hazby moved his restaurant to the Horn building, vacated by A. E. Horn with his moving picture show. Mr. Hazby will be able to serve his patrons in a splendid manner within a short time as he will soon have everything in good shape.

Harry Hall and daughter, Miss Inez, and son, Raymond, arrived from Tusculumbia, Alabama Sunday for a visit with his brother-in-law, F. A. McCard and family. They will go to Nashville for a visit of a few days this week and then return here for another brief stay. They were accompanied from Harriman by Mrs. Chas. Leffew, sister of Mr. McCard, and she will remain some days.

Dug Burnett has taken charge of the tie-making work at the top of the mountain near the Stevens Gap road for his father, J. Q. Burnett. Mr. Burnett has 1,900 acres there from which he expects to get from 20,000 to 30,000 ties, all of which will be hauled here for shipment. They now have about 4,000 ties stacked and inspected, which will be hauled as soon as the roads improve.

If you want score cards and pencils, paper napkins, nice writing paper cut to special size come to the Chronicle office for them.

Mrs. A. J. Reed was here from Knoxville for the week-end as the guest of Mrs. S. C. Bishop. Mrs. Reed has numerous friends here who are always glad to welcome her in her frequent visits. She returned home Sunday.

Business Change!

We have sold the Farmers' Restaurant and Meat Market.

It will be moved to Main Street, in the brick next to the Bakery. Mr. Loshbough will continue to run it. He will continue to give the biggest pile of good eats and the most and best meats for the money of anybody.

We needed the room and will use it for Field Seeds and Feed, which we are buying in large quantities.

REMEMBER

we are going to save you money on your Feed, Field Seeds and Groceries. We can safely say the same of Shoes and Dry Goods.

WE BELIEVE

this is the beginning of the biggest year in the history of our business. The quality and price of our goods will be the sensation for miles around.

We want to assure you of our appreciation of the business you have given us. Our effort is that we may continue to merit it.

Mrs. Susan Birtwistle was over from Pomona last week as the guest of Mrs. G. M. Martin.

Numerous Pomona people as well as others over the county will pleasantly remember Mrs. Ellen Piernan, who lived with her husband, C. F. Piernan, deceased, at Pomona for several years. After the death of Mr. Piernan she went to New York City, where she has been engaged in the Kelis School, which is an institution for teaching young ladies business. She has been with the Kelis Schools for several years, but has not lost her interest in Cumberland county and its people.

If you have not paid your subscription to the Chronicle why not do it NOW and at the same time take advantage of the big combination offer we are making. You can supply yourself and family with good reading for a whole year and save 95 cents over any other way of getting the same good reading.

Chancery Court Clerk C. G. Black and wife went to Harriman Friday for some optical work. Mrs. Black returned Saturday but Mr. Black went on to Wartburg to see Judge A. H. Roberts on business relative to his office.

A. E. Horn moved the Mecca theatre to the Webb building, opposite the post office, Monday and gave a show that night. A little later the building will be extended some sixteen feet, an elevated floor put in and generally prepared for a first class moving picture house.

F. A. McCard has sold his home and farm to E. E. Fiscus and will give possession March 1. The property consists of ten acres, mostly cleared, a good six-room house and a good barn. Mr. McCard has been improving the property for some years and has gotten most of it in grass and in a generally good condition. Mr. McCard is looking for a residence a little nearer his work with the firm of Reed & Burnett.
