DAYSVILLE

We are having some fine rains which were badly needed.

Aunt Sallie Manning has returned home from Morristown where she has been visiting for some time.

We still have a few cases of influenza in our neighborhood.

Miss Evie Treadaway of Loraine has been visiting her uncle, A. L. DeKossett.

W. B. Smith has gone to Ozone to take care of his brother who has been very ill but is slowly improving.

The family of B. L. Loden are all on the mend, they have had the "flu."

Alex Hayes and son James made a business trip to Ozone last Saturday.

William Clyde Mitchell has safely landed in France. He will likely be remembered by many Crossville people as he attended high school there two or three years.

Miss Susie DeRossett is staying with her sister, Mrs. D. E. Mitchell near Spring City. Mrs. Mitchell has been seriously ill but is improving, she has a host of friends here who will be glad to hear she is improving.

Miss Bertie Lowery returned home Saturday from Roddy, where she has been staying with her aunt, Mrs. Charlie Ross.

A. A. Hayes is very ill with the "flu" at this writing.

Uncle John Hayes is on the sick list. Uncle John is getting very old and feeble. He has many friends who will be sorry to hear of his illness.

CONTROL OF AIR IS WITH ALLIES

Reconstruction in England Factor in Supremacy.

HUNS LOSE MANY MACHINES

Building Better and Faster Machines Than the Enemy—Rhine Cities in Terror of Bombing Planes—British Also Show Superiority in Aerial Defenses—America Now Playing Part in Air Offensive.

From London to Jericho the allies have obtained decided superiority over the enemy in the air. Since the war started Germany has trailed France and England in aerial warfare, Zeppelins excepted. France and England didn't waste their time with Zeppelins, which have been a dismal failure when compared with bombing machines such as the allies build and manipulate, much to the terror of the Rhine towns.

Besides forcing down and destroying three German airplanes to one lost by the allies, England, France and now America are building better machines, faster machines and machines which will carry more tons of bombs each than the German.

Germany has lost not less than 5,000 machines and aviators in the past twelve months.

This figure, 5,000, represents Germany's losses in all theaters of war to allied airmen. While the exact official number of German planes destroyed, together with the allied losses, may not be disclosed, it may be stated that this unofficial summary is very conservative.

Radical Reconstruction.

At the outbreak of the war Great Britain had eighty aircraft. Every few days Great Britain is producing more airplanes and other material for the air force than she possessed altogether at one stage of the war. The strength of the Royal Air Force has been multiplied at least 200 times in personnel as compared to the personnel at one stage of the war. Great Britain also has furnished a considerable number of airplanes for her allies.

England's air force has undergone radical reconstruction and its tactics have been changed, much to the discomfort of Germany. Briefly, these changes are: Consolidation of the Royal Flying Corps and the Royal Naval Air Service into one organization, known as the Royal Air Force; establishment of an air ministry, creation of the independent air force, and use of "cavalry" aviators—airmen who have charged advancing Germans, bombed and machine-gunned them from a height of a hundred feet.

The independent air force, which is said to have only one authority higher than its own commander, this being the war cabinet, has been busy bombing German cities since its creation three months ago. Four-fifths of the German munition works are in the Rhine valley, and all of them within striking distance of these independent air force bombers. Their plan is to keep a number of Rhine towns in a constant state of terror by bombing works of military importance in those communities. One town may be raided night after night for a week or more, or it may be visited day and night, or twice daily, whichever plan seems to cause the most consternation and demoralization. In addition, railway junctions, ammunition dumps and barracks are bombed by this organization of flyers, which works separately and distinctly from aviators attached to certain army corps who also may be dispatched to do similar bombing.

Attack Advancing Columns.

The great advantage of aviators for bombing and machine-gunning advancing columns was shown in the March and succeeding offensives, when time and again scores of aviators concentrated upon a certain point disorganized a German advance, or held a portion of the line that had given way until re-enforcements could be rushed up by the Franco-British. On one day these aviators fired more than 200,000 rounds into German columns. More than 120 tons of bombs have been dropped in one day.

America is playing a part in the air offensive. Every new contingent of American aviators which reaches France or England helps out in the general scheme of things which keeps the allies masters of the air.

The British also have shown they are superior to Germany in aerial defenses. There have been twenty-one raids on London in the past year, three of these by Zeppelins. But since the visit of eleven Zeppelins October last, when five of them were brought down, four in France and one in the Mediterranean, they have not attempted to visit London, where the air defenses are such that the Zeppelins do not dare to come lower than 20,000 feet, which is too high for them to bomb effectively.

Gotha raids also are becoming quite expensive for Germany, the last raid, May 20, resulting in seven machines being destroyed. Twenty-five aviators trained for night flying are far more valuable to Germany than two score of civilians killed in London. The city's defensive barrage and protecting airplanes are too much for the invaders.

SAW SOME GOOD IN GERMANS

Mark Twain Would Not Admit That All Manhood in the Land of the Hun Was Dead.

Probably no other foreigner has ever been so popular in Germany as the American philosopher, Mark Twain; yet Mark understood his Germany, just as he understood Russia, although of the czar's dominions he had only the tripper's knowledge he picked up with the shipload of pre-Cook's tourists that he immortalized in "Innocents Abroad."

In his "Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court," Twain wrote: "There it was, you see. A man is a man, at bottom. Whole ages of abuse and oppression cannot crush the manhood clear out of him. Whoever thinks it a mistake is himself mistaken. Yes, there is plenty of good enough material for a republic in the most degraded people that ever existed—even the Russians; plenty of manhood in them—even the Germans—if one could but force it out of its timid and suspicious privacy; to overthrow and trample in the mud any throne that ever was set up and any nobility that ever supported it. We should see certain things yet, let us hope and believe. First, a modified monarchy, till Arthur's days were done, then the destruction of the throne, nobility abolished, every member of it bound out to some useful trade, universal suffrage instituted, and the whole government placed in the hands of men and women of the nation, there to remain. Yes, there was no occasion to give up my dream yet a while."

For many years pyrite for acid production has been imported from Spain, states Doctor Kay. But in order to save the ships for more urgent uses, the shipping board has sharply reduced the import of pyrite. The domestic production of the mineral must then be unusually large, he declares.

New York, Virginia, Georgia, South Carolina and Alabama have pyrite mines, and Illinois and several other states are producing a small tonnage from coal mines. Many hundred thousand tons are quickly available from coal mines, says the state geologist. If the government's explosive program requires it.

COAL PYRITE IN EXPLOSIVES

Iowa Geologists Investigate Coal Fields for Needed Mineral, With Excellent Results.

An investigation of pyrite, an essential material in the manufacture of high explosives, is being made in the coal fields of Iowa under the direction of Dean George F. Kay of the University of Iowa, who is director of the Iowa geological survey. High explosives are made with the aid of sulphuric acid, which in turn is made chiefly by roasting pyrite, popularly known as "fool's gold." Hence the mineral is in great demand.

The method of preparing coal pyrite for shipment to acid plants is simple and cheap. The "sulphur balls" must be separated from adhering coal, and be crushed, washed and screened into lump and fine sizes. Coal miners are willing to load pyrite, and the operators to hoist and ship it, if war industries demand it.

The Chronicle job department recently turned out a card job for a certain doctor, who being a newcomer to this section we thought it best to make some explanation as to prices. This was his reply when he sent the money for the job: "Let me express my thanks and satisfaction. I do not regret to pay the enclosed amount. I find it is a high grade job and certainly do not see any overcharge."

Mrs. Bertha Bandy and Mr. Rainey Thurman were quietly married at the home of the bride Thursday afternoon by Rev. W. C. Martin. The affair was very quiet, no one being present except the bride and groom and the minister. The bride is the widow of H. C. Bandy, who died a little over two years ago. She is highly esteemed as a lady of refinement and business ability. The groom was a bachelor and is respected by all who know him. They will make their home at the residence of the bride.

Want to Build a Pyramid?
If the great pyramid of Cheops in Egypt were to be built today its total cost would be not less than $150,000,000, according to experts who have studied the vast structure. Cheops is 480 feet high and covers almost thirteen acres. Upward of 90,000,000 cubic feet of stone were used in building this great pyramid.

Cadet E. H. Snodgrass arrived home from West Point last week. He is here for not less than two weeks furlough and possibly a little longer. Should hostilities not cease soon he will be sent to a training camp preparatory to being sent overseas as an officer. In the event the war closes soon he may be returned to West Point to take a post graduate course. His many friends were very glad to welcome him.

At the Chronicle office you can get pen tablets, examination tablets, fountain pen ink in five and ten cent bottles, pocket note books, stenographer's note books, Crane's fine stationery in two-quire boxes and other stationery such as you do not find elsewhere in this county.

Mrs. Susie Welchance died at her home here Thursday morning at 3:30 as the result of an attack of influenza and other complications due to age. She was in her 76th year and had been in failing health for some time. She remains were buried Friday. Judge C. E. Snodgrass conducted the funeral services. She leaves one brother, Joe Davis, and numerous other relatives.

Will Renfro was in from Linary Saturday.

The rally held here Friday in the interest of the United War Work did not bring out as large an attendance as the occasion justified. After the meeting in the courthouse, where patriotic songs were sung and the people addressed by speakers from a distance, about 75 plates were laid and a splendid dinner was enjoyed by over 100 people. Chairman C. E. Keyes arranged with several of his district committees for rallies and speaking at certain dates. Indications are that the $3,000 asked of this county will be fully subscribed by the time the drive is over, Monday, the 19 inst.
