Sometimes You Need A Tonic

Pepto-Mangan Makes Rich Red Blood and Lifts You Out of...
 Bad-Health Habits...

There are days when you feel downright sick. You think you couldn't feel any worse. Yet, as far as you know, there's nothing the matter with you. From the time you get up in the morning until you go to bed at night you are tired. You feel as though you'd like to sit down and do nothing.
 You look tired and pale and haggard.
 You get careless about your dress.

No wonder! Your blood is all clogged up with poison. Your power of resistance is at a low ebb. Your blood needs food. It needs the help that the vitalizing tonic, Pepto-Mangan, will give it. Instead of feeling tired and exhausted for months, you will soon pick right up and feel well and strong again. And with good red blood you are able to fight off all ailments.

Pepto-Mangan is widely and heartily endorsed by physicians. It is self-effective and easy to take. It is prepared in both liquid and tablet form, and you can take one or the other and receive the same benefits.

Sold at any drug store. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan—
 "Gude's." Ask for it by the full name and be sure the full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," is on the package.

CARDUI HELPED REGAIN STRENGTH

Alabama Lady Was Sick For Three Years, Suffering Pain, Nervous
 and Depressed—Read Her Own Story of Recovery.

Faint Rock, Ala.—Mrs. O. M. Stegall, of near here, recently related the following interesting account of her recovery: "I was in a weakened condition. I was sick three years in bed, suffering a great deal of pain, weak, nervous, depressed. I was so weak,
 I couldn't walk across the floor; just had to lay and my little ones do the work. I was almost dead. I tried every thing I heard of, and a number of doctors. Still I didn't get any relief.
 I couldn't eat, and slept poorly. I believe if I hadn't heard of and taken Cardui I would have died. I bought six bottles, after a neighbor told me what it did for her.

"I began to eat and sleep, began to gain my strength and am now well and strong. I haven't had any trouble since. . . I sure can testify to the good that Cardui did me. I don't think there is a better tonic made and I believe it saved my life."

For over 40 years, thousands of women have used Cardui successfully,
 in the treatment of many womanly ailments.

If you suffer as these women did,
 take Cardui. It may help you, too.
 At all druggists. 25

Bank Vice-President
Tells How Ziron Iron Tonic Helped His Daughter
 After Operation for Appendicitis.

AFTER any serious illness, the first thing you notice when you begin to get around is your lack of strength and energy—a tired, weak feeling.

The sooner you get your strength back the better. The thing to do is to eat plenty of good, nourishing food, get all the fresh air you can, exercise conservatively, and take Ziron Iron Tonic three times a day.

Your doctor will tell you this is sound advice, and urge you to follow it.

Read this letter from Mr. J. B. Kelly, vice-president of the First National Bank, Graceville, Fla.: "My daughter had been in bad health since last April. She was operated on for appendicitis. She has been taking Ziron for two weeks. Her appetite is better than it has been. Her nerves are better, and she says she feels better. . . I know that Ziron is good for weak and feeble people."

Ziron is a scientific, reconstructive tonic, prepared from valuable strength-building ingredients, for weak people with thin blood. Druggists sell Ziron on a money-back guarantee. Try it.

An Appeal
To the Republicans of the Country and All Those Who Aided Them:

The Republican success in the 1920 election has been commensurate with the quality of our candidates and the righteousness of our cause.

This success is the partnership accomplishment of all Republicans everywhere and of hundreds of thousands of well-wishers of good government regardless of past party affiliations.

To all of these we now appeal, because it is the mutual responsibility of us all who will share alike in the consequent mutual benefit of good government.

The plan of limiting campaign contributions to $1,000, adopted by your national organization, has left your party unmortgaged.

It has been a most advanced step in placing the business of politics on the highest plane, and has brought an interest on the part of thousands who never before have been concerned with politics.

Some weeks before election it was apparent that the expenses provided for in our budget, with the strictest economy, would exceed the contributions, but we were unwilling either to leave undone any legitimate effort essential to complete success or to change the method of raising money. We were then sure and we are now sure that every Republican desires that the expenses of the campaign be distributed in this manner.

Your presidential campaign this year cost no more than that of 1916, when a dollar went nearly twice as far as it does today.

Four years ago the bulk of the campaign fund came from 750 contributors, while this year the approximately $2,000,000 contributed to date for the presidential election has come from 50,000 givers.

The victory won, the raising of the deficit would be easy, indeed, if your committee were willing to abandon the policy of keeping down the average of contribution. This we are determined not to do. It was a fight of all the people. The result speaks for itself. It lifted a burden from the minds of millions and points the way to better and happier days. We ask now for that additional help from all which is merited both by the successful conclusion of the effort and by the consequent contribution to the welfare of all of our people and the glory of the nation.

Let us now have help from every American who is grateful for the victory and all that it means to the country. It might well be in the nature of a thanksgiving offering for the return to a certainly safe, sane, constitutional progressive government.

Let us by general and generous giving put the seal of approval upon the policy of putting a national administration in power free from any possible embarrassment of special obligation to any man, men or group of men. Let us make the contribution, whether large or small, and whether or not we have heretofore given, commensurate with our means and our appreciation, always within the maximum limit heretofore fixed.

Let us get our names on the cornerstone of a sturdier political structure, upon the roll of those who have helped make possible a campaign of which, in methods and result, we may as Republicans and patriots be justly proud.

Most earnestly we urge that this aid be given quickly, that your committee may be enabled to discharge the party's obligations and turn to further constructive work in behalf of party and country.

REPUBLICAN NATIONAL COMMITTEE, Will H. Hays, Chairman.

Checks should be made payable to Fred W. Upham, Treasurer, or James G. Blaine, Jr., Eastern Treasurer, and sent to the Committee's Office, 19 West 44th Street, New York City, N. Y.

If you wish to help meet this urgent need hand or send it to the Chronicle and it will be forwarded along with your name.

New Jersey has furnished only one president—Woodrow Wilson.

Virginia has furnished the most presidents of any state, six, but has not had one since John Tyler in 1845.

Representative Volstead, of Minnesota, says there is not likely to be any relaxing or tightening of prohibition by the incoming congress.

Government action of laying a cable across the Pacific is expected to be authorized at the coming session of congress. It will probably cost $25,000,000.

The tramp drummer in a show always reminds us of press day.—Journal

When a man gets so he would rather strut than work, he's about ready for the axe.—Pekin Daily Times

Frank E. Ackerman of the Casnovia Herald complains bitterly that some one on Holloween stole his axe and a bushel of potatoes. He doesn't care so much about the potatoes, but his wife needs the axe for exercise.—Sparta Sentinel-Leader.

We forgot to mention last week that Allie Hewes was in town recently with a broken knuckle, which he claimed happened when a cow kicked him. His father says Allie doesn't milk, and that anyway he sold the cow, and besides she doesn't kick.—Cimarron Jacksonian.

"A House of Gold."
 A house of gold really exists. It stands in a little place called Rosamond, on the Mohave desert in California, as a sort of monument to an old miner who "struck it rich." His gold properties were in the vicinity of Rosamond, which years ago gave promise of some day becoming a city, and when the miner's wealth accumulated he determined to do something nice for the place, so he reared this structure of rock and put in the entire front of gold ore from his discoveries. It is a large building, and of heavy construction, particularly that part made of the gold-bearing rock, which runs about $25 to the ton in yellow metal. The mines whence this came have been worked out. It is not unlikely that some day, when the building is razed, the rock will be milled and the gold extracted, and it may yield a large amount, because some very rich streaks were encountered, and part of this rock undoubtedly came from these ledges.

Economy is Felled.
 Mr. A. has a relative living in Cincinnati, whose firm deals in oil of one kind and another. Last fall Mr. A. decided he would paint his house and, thinking he would save a little money, he planned to buy the paint and the oil from the relative at the wholesale price, and to hire the painters.

The paint and oil were duly ordered, but arrived too late to be used last fall, so they were stored away until spring. Recently Mr. A. hired the necessary painters, brought out the paint and oil and set them to work. Imagine his chagrin when it was discovered after the painting was completed that the oil was of the common lubricating variety. The mixture did not work, but dripped off the house like water, and now Mr. A. has workers busy burning the paint off. The contracting painter will buy both paint and oil for the new coats.

Charles Infruit.
 The most precious thing in the world—radium—has cost Charles Infruit, scientist of Paris, his left hand and his right arm, and he wants artificial arms now to continue his research. Infruit is head of the nitrate works, and his experiments with radium are among the most valuable in science. During the war he devised a "compass" to locate splinters of bullets in skull, and was made a Chevalier of the Legion of Honor. He lost his right arm first and then several fingers of his left hand, and finally the whole hand, never hesitating at the sacrifice he was making for science.

CHANCERY SALE OF LAND

In obedience to a decree of the Chancery Court at Crossville, made in the cases of James B. Clow & Sons, et al. vs. Chicago-Tennessee Coal and Coke Company, et al., and Central Trust Company of Illinois, Trustee, et al. vs. Chicago-Tennessee Coal and Coke Company, consolidated, and entered in Minute Book 1, pages 408 to 420, under date of August 24, 1920, I will on the 2nd DAY OF DECEMBER, 1920,

 at noon in front of the Court House door in Crossville, sell to the highest bidder the land described in said decree, together with all mining machinery and equipment thereon, being the property of the Chicago-Tennessee Coal and Coke Company and formerly operated by it and now operated by W. F. Dibrell, Receiver, as a coal mine, and being located at Waldensia, Tennessee, and in the (old) tenth Civil District of Cumberland County.

Said properties are more fully described in the decree above referred to and in the deed of trust from the Chicago-Tennessee Coal and Coke Company to the Royal Trust Company and Albert A. Johnson, Trustees, which is recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of Cumberland County, Tennessee, in Book D Miscellaneous Records, at pages 476 et seq., to which reference is here made for a specific description of the lands to be sold, and being all the real estate owned by the Chicago-Tennessee Coal and Coke Company in Cumberland County, Tennessee.

The terms of said sale will be: One third cash and the balance in equal installments, due in one and two years, with interest, and in bar of the equity of redemption. Notes drawing interest from date of sale will be required of the purchaser and a lien will be retained on the property sold as security.

All bidders will be required to deposit with the Clerk and Master a certified check for $5,000.00 before the sale, which check will be returned or applied on the cash payment according as the bidder is successful or not.

This, November 10, 1920.
 C. G. BLACK,
 Clerk and Master.
