Texas.
From the New Orleans Bulletin.
A letter from a highly respectable source, dated at Matamoros the 29th ult., says, "It is an undoubted fact that this Government (the Mexican) have made, or are making a treaty to engage eight thousand Indians to join them. The Cherokees are already engaged. There are fourteen or fifteen Chiefs of different tribes within a few miles of here, who have daily communications with the officers. The commissioners were this morning turned into the common prison with criminals. It is not improbable we shall be invited to take French leave of this country soon."

Extract of another letter dated,
MATAMORAS, July 1.
Dear Sir—Through the medium of your paper I think it highly necessary that the Government of the United States, as well as the Texians, should be informed of what presents itself, so odious, in my opinion, in the character of Gen. Urrea, the Mexican Commander-in-Chief, too unpardonable to be overlooked, and should be immediately attended to by the United States.

We have at this moment here 6 or 7 Indian chiefs Cherokee and other tribes, with their interpreter, from Texas. These Indians are on a mission to the General, and have had several private meetings with him. There exists no doubt of the business they came on, and have made propositions to the General to join the Mexicans against the Texians, which appears now to be concluded. As Colonel Waterchea is to be despatched to-morrow to their camp, some distance up the river, where they have 30 or 40 in number, to be used as spies or runners. I had occasion to call on General Urrea at his quarters on business, when I met there three of the Indians, with their interpreter making enquires of the strength of their tribe, the General being anxious to ascertain what force they could muster with the other tribes.

The commissary of this place has orders to purchase 800 or 1000 horses for the cavalry, which he is now doing. Every movement appears to confirm the belief that the negotiation is concluded, with a promise to the Indians of land and cattle, should they assist and succeed in exterminating the population of Texas.

From the New Orleans Bee.
MEXICO.

The following letter was written to Vincente Filisola, general in chief of the Mexican army, by Jose Maria Tornel, Secretary of the War Department. We publish it through the liberality of a respectable firm of this city, by whom it was communicated.
To His Excellency the Governor in Chief, Don Vincente Filisola—

Dear Friend—Through the criminal apathy of Congress and the complete nullity of Government, it becomes necessary to put in use a certain stratagem to save our country and ourselves. You will have to lend a hand to its execution, unless you want to perish with your arms. After witnessing the utter destruction of the republic. Such is the boldness of our revolutionary radicals, and the weakness of government, that from this time up to the moment when you adopt this plan, you will neither receive money or soldiers; you must, ere now, be convinced of the truth of the first point; as to the second, a more positive proof cannot be given than the sudden halt of the army of reserve. Such then, is the proper method of executing my plan: all opinions must be generalized: above all, a letter must be written to the government of this capital, mentioning very particularly that all the army want a Dictator to be appointed, who will remain in office until Texas be restored to the republic. Who will be the man? No matter; perhaps Valencia, for he is at the same time the hope and fear of many.

This idea is not so much to put the plan into execution, as to get a powerless congress to invest the government with all power to restrain the revolutionary spirits, and enlist new soldiers to carry on the war and maintain good order. I have said enough; reflect on my words; you will fully appreciate how timely is this measure. No time is to be lost; and mark me keep carefully or tear this letter, written by a friend on whom you can rely.

JOSE MARIA TORNEL.
This plan is justified by a pamphlet now circulating through Mexico and all the large cities of the Mexican Republic. It is entitled General Santa's Trial. That document is the exclusive protection of the Liberals, and is well calculated to raise every honest mind against the government. They want federalism—Tornel does not want it, and therefore he would like to get a Dictator appointed, whose power would be sufficient to suppress those he styles revolutionary spirits.

Extract of a letter, dated
Tampico, July 13.
"Mexican army, about 4000 strong yet, now under the command of General Jose Urrea, whom Gen. Andrade accompanies as the second in command, is assembling at Matamoros, but it is in such state of wretchedness, that it will not be able to move before two or three months, to begin the new campaign against the Texians."

From the Charleston Courier.
Mexico and Texas.—Late accounts render it probably that the Mexicans will not attempt another campaign against the Texians, until the fall. The U. S. Sloop of War Warren and Schr. Grampus had arrived at Tampico, and the Mexican Government, through the new Commandant, had apologized for the insult offered the American flag and the officers of the Jefferson. Gomez, the Commandant who gave the insult, had been removed. The movements in Mexico against Centralism, and to restore the Constitution of 1824, are increasing in importance, and there is a disposition to remove all the high functionaries friendly to SANTA ANNA. A forced loan of two millions had been declared in the city of Mexico, against which the English and French Ministers had protested, calling on foreigners not to contribute. Later accounts from Vera Cruz represents SANTA ANNA's party as out of power, the Federal party succeeding every where, with little bloodshed, and as indisposed to prosecute the Texian war. Houston had not yet joined the Texian army, and was not likely to do so. He was said to be at his residence near Nacogdoches. Lamar, the new Texian Commander, possessed the entire confidence of both the Army and the Cabinet.

THE UNITED STATES & MEXICO.
The following are the instructions of the Government, under which Gen. Gaines has acted, in crossing the limits of the United States, and entering the territory of Mexico.
Extract of a letter from the Secretary of War to Maj. Gen. Gaines, dated
WAR DEPARTMENT, }
July 11, 1836. }
"I have received and submitted to the President your letter of June 7th, together with the report made to you by Capt. Dean. I am apprehensive from the tenor of this report, as well as from your observations, that the frontier has much to fear from the hostilities of the Indian tribes living in Texas. On this subject it is proper to call your attention to the instructions previously issued to you, and to say to you that if the conduct of the Indians in Texas threatens the frontier, whose defence is entrusted to you, and you consider it necessary, with a view to its protection, to advance as far as Nacogdoches, you will do so without hesitation. If the authorities of that country cannot prevent bodies of savages from approaching our frontier in arms, the necessary precautionary measures must be taken by you. This is the view of the President."

WAR DEPARTMENT, }
May 11, 1836. }
SIR:—The President is very solicitous that you should act cautiously in carrying into effect your instructions, and do nothing which can compromise the neutral relations of the United States. Your great objects, as I have before stated, are, to defend our frontier and to fulfil the neutral obligations of the Government. If the Indians are not employed immediately upon the border, there will be no need of your advancing beyond the territory in the actual occupation of the United States, unless armed parties should approach our frontier so near as manifestly to show that they mean to violate our territory. Such a state of things is scarcely to be anticipated from either of the contending parties in Texas. But it is otherwise with the Indians. In the excitement of war they will not be restrained by boundary lines, but will seek scamps wherever they can find them. The whole history of the employment of Indians, in the contests between civilized communities, proves this fact. It was principally with a view therefore to this state of things, that you were authorized to cross the line dividing the country actually in the occupation of the United States, from that heretofore in the possession of Mexico, if such a measure be necessary for the defence of the frontier. But I must impress upon you the desire of the President that you do not advance unless circumstances distinctly show this step is necessary for the protection of the district of our country adjoining the scene of operations in Texas. A situation you find it necessary to advance, you will not to communicate to any armed parties in the country your orders and objects. But you will, under no circumstances, co-operate with any of them or suffer any of them to pass you, nor interfere in any manner with any military operations in Texas, except such as may be necessary for self defence.

Should you pass beyond the above mentioned boundary line, you will return as soon as the safety of the frontier will permit.
Very respectfully, your most obt. servt.
LEWIS CASE.
Maj. Gen. E. P. GAINES,
Fort Jessup, Louisiana.

The Yorkville (S. C.) Times, of the 30th ult. says: "The upland cotton crops of our District, as far as we have heard, are very promising—cotton is coming out of the bolls. The low grounds have suffered from the wet season."

Indian Affairs.
FROM FLORIDA.
Extract of a letter to the Editor of the Augusta Sentinel, mailed at Tallahassee, and dated HICKSTOWN, (FLA.) July 18.
"Dear Sir:—We had a marauding party here two weeks ago who stole some horses and robbed some houses, but shed no blood, and got off with impunity—and so I suppose we shall have it until winter campaigning begins, that is unless Powell chooses to come in larger force and cut our throats, take off our negroes and lay waste our crops. On the 15th, a party of 150 Indians were found 50 miles above us, in Lowndes county, on the Alapaha, supposed to be Creeks, on their way to the Ocmulgee or to join the Seminoles, 15 of them were killed and 20 captured, 7 or 8 whites wounded, the whites still in pursuit of them. The day before 18 Indians were fallen in with, 15 of them were killed and 3 escaped by swimming the river, 3 whites killed. So you see we have Indians all around us."
Yours respectfully,
B. F. WHITNER.

"Col. Whitner had this letter written for you, sir, and on the night of the 19th his family, fortunately being on a visit at Mr. J. C. McGhee's, with the exception of one son, the Indians assailed his house and committed most awful depredations. There were two white men there, the overseer, who was ill in bed, a young man by the name of Summerale—Summerale with Col. W's little son were at supper in the back piazza, when a negro in the passage exclaimed, "The Indians!" he sprang from the table caught up a double-barrel gun, and rushed in front of the house; he saw the Indians to the number of thirty, and discharged both barrels at them; the Indians returned it with a volley—he was wounded in both thighs, but not dangerously; he then made his escape round the house to the back of the garden. His determination and bravery enabled Col. W's son, the overseer, and negroes all to make their escape. They lay all night in the high growing cotton, with the exception of one negro man, they shot him with five balls. They then rifled the house of every article, ripping open the beds, emptying out the feathers, and making sacks of the ticks to carry off their plunder—all wearing apparel gone, even the clothes wet in the wash tub.—They were trailed, but have made their escape, and it is supposed will come back in increased numbers—help must come soon, or it will be too late for Hickstown. The families are fleeing in every direction, leaving their husbands to defend their plantations.

The Indians came to Mr. McGhee's on the night of the 1st, and stole a pair of carriage horses from his stable. We have been too long neglected.

A FEMALE.
The Indians also stole nine mules and a horse from Col. Whitner.
