FOR THE CAMDEN JOURNAL.

LANCASTER, 25th July, 1836.

Mr. J. C. West—Dear Sir—With the consent of JOHN G. BOWMAN, Esq. we, together with many other voters, request you to announce him as a candidate for Congress to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of the late honorable RICHARD I. MASSING.

WILL G. COXE, LEROY SECREST, J. B. McCASKILL, J. HARRISON BROWN.

We are authorized to state that the following gentlemen are candidates for Major of the Upper Battalion. Capt. JAMES C. HAILE, Capt. WILLIAM R. JOHNSON.

CANDIDATES IN CLARENDON.

FOR SENATE. D. S. P. DU BOISE, FOR REPRESENTATIVE. JAMES B. RICHARDSON, WM. BURGESS.

Bank of Camden—This institution will commence operations, we are informed, during the ensuing week.

Cotton—Several parcels of the new crop have reached our market, and sold readily at 17 1/2 to 18 1/4.

Health of Camden—We state for the information of our country friends, who feel interested, that Camden is not so healthy at present, as it has been for several seasons past. During the present month, fevers have prevailed to some extent, but mostly of an intermittent character, and readily yielding to medical skill. As a proof of this we may say that not more than five whites have died in this town, from fever this season. We know not the number of blacks, if any. This is bad enough it is true, but absolutely nothing when compared with the false and exaggerated reports which have obtained circulation in the surrounding country. This assurance will, we hope, prove conclusive. It would ill become us, as faithful chroniclers to deceive or misrepresent in such a case.

Camden Reviving—It is with heartfelt pleasure as a citizen of this place, that we repeat our firm conviction, that a new era is commencing in the prosperity of Camden. To those, who for the last three years, have witnessed the stand of all enterprize, this cannot but prove a joyful season. All ready our merchants are receiving their fall and winter supplies—our mechanics are not only busy but hurried with work, and there is more life, bustle and activity, than we have seen (so early in the season) for the last five years. We shall, as we stated last week, have several steam boats on our river this winter, and let our citizens but turn their attention to securing the up country trade, by turnpike, or other good roads, and the prosperity of our town will be established upon a basis firm and enduring. It will then be the interest of farmers to bring their produce here, and this is all that is necessary to secure it.

We have received the following letter from a highly respectable gentleman of the up country, and beg the attention of owners, agents, and consignees of boats to the subject. We shall take pleasure in publishing the information desired, and have no doubt but both town and country will be benefited by it. It will not take five minutes time for the owner or agent of a boat to furnish us the names of those who may have goods on board, and we hope they will feel sufficient interest in the subject to do it.

September 17th, 1836. Mr. Etison—Let me suggest the propriety of your noticing the arrival of boats in your paper, for whom laden and to whom consigned. Such an addition would be of considerable advantage to the mercantile community, and in some degree benefit the trading class who frequently resort to Camden. I go head and hand for the future welfare of Camden, and the day is not far distant when I will be a citizen thereof. Yours respectfully.

Musquitoes—These "cantankerous stinging things," as Fanny Kemble terms them, have commenced a regular siege, which will not terminate until they are put to flight by a severe frost. It is about once in three years that we are visited by these nocturnal marauders, and now that they have come, they seem determined to make up for lost time, charting their fangs with a dexterity and address "worthy of a better cause." Their songs too, are as merry and as remorseless as ever. Syren like, luring but to destroy. Would that we could transport a few, for the benefit of the Gethonites, those amateurs in music. A choir of real Carolina musquitoses would draw the fullest houses ever seen in New York.

DEATH OF ANTON BERN.—Col. Bern died yesterday, (says the New York Journal of Commerce) at Staten Island, aged 81. He has filled a large space in the history of the country, though a part of it might as well have been left blank.

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN?

Wholesale Matrimony—It seems that Miss Harriet Martineau, long as she has been lecturing in the states, has not yet been at Bangor—or else her lectures are very lightly listened to there, for the Bangor Commercial Advertiser, says—"According to a statement of the city clerk, intentions of marriage have been published by him of two hundred and twenty-one couple," and he thinks, if it had not been for fear of a French war, he should have had fifty more."

Miss HARRIET MARTINEAU lecturing against matrimony! Surely there is some mistake. The author of the above paragraph must certainly allude to FANNY WRIGHT, and not Miss MARTINEAU—She, we believe, is content to set the example (but enough in all conscience,) of celibacy, without trading matrimony; and her writings are mostly upon Political Economy, so that we cannot at all conceive how her name obtained a place in the above paragraph.

Communications.

For the Camden Journal. I perceive a notice in the last Journal, signed "P." designating a route for the great Ohio and Charleston Road. I perfectly agree with the writer, from Charlotte to Charleston, but if the road can be made with the same convenience, from Ohio to Willsborough, N. C., that it can to Asheville, in Buncombe county, N. C. I believe that to be the best route, as the expense of a bridge across the Catawba river will be saved, and there will be no other bridges, more than fifty or a hundred feet long, and it will strike the dividing ridge between the Yadkin and Catawba rivers, within thirty-five or forty miles, and will run parallel with the Catawba without any obstruction of water courses, except small creeks, all it crosses Santee river, I judge about fifty miles from Charleston. This route will bring the road nearer the centre of the states of North and South Carolina, and will be more likely to attract the attention of the people of both states.—The road can only touch the corner of the state of Tennessee in any direct route, therefore the people is not so much interested in the course it will take.

To the Editor of the Camden Journal.

Sir—Since reading a couple of articles in your last numbers on the subject of a turnpike from the up country to Camden, one over the signature of "A Voice from the Indian Lands," and the other signed "A Citizen of Flat Rock," (the whole of which I approve) I have been up to Camden, and perceive that we are so far from having a turnpike from the lower country to Camden, that our old public roads are (for want of proper attention) nearly closed up with bushes in many places, and are so badly washed by the late heavy rains, that it will be difficult for a wagon, with an ordinary load of produce, to reach your town—and as the commissioners of my district have, I think, done an unusual quantity of work to our roads, leading to Camden, as far as the Kershaw line, and as it is only from the district line to Camden that the roads are so neglected, I have thought proper to say that if you will ascertain from the commissioners of your board, (which I have no doubt but your devotedness to the interest of Camden will induce you to do,) that the roads will soon be put in good order, and will inform me of the same, by addressing a line to "C." Mechanicsville, S. C. I will take pleasure in giving publicity to the same in my vicinity believing it will be one of the inducements for more traffic from my district, to be sent to Camden, and lead to Charleston, market.

A SUMMER PLANTER.

The late Election—Various causes have been, and will be assigned, for the late defeat of the Whig party. Every reason but the true one, will be published, in order to induce their deluded followers once more to go with them, though certain of defeat. The true causes of their defeat were these—they pretended to be for Reform, when they knew, if elected, they could not effect it, because they had but two electors in the whole State, known to be favorable to that measure.

They had promised the people economy, and yet, when called upon, refused to show the necessity or expediency of incurring the enormous debt incurred within the last five years of their administration, loading the people with a weight of taxes which they must endure for years.

They vaunted of Harrison's Republicanism, when they knew he voted to sell a white man for jail fees.

They attempted to deceive the people by crying victory, for States in which they had been defeated.

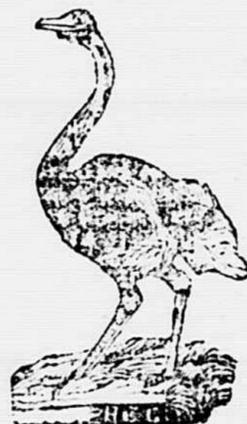

They made charges against Gen. Jackson's administration, and in the same moment furnished proof of their falsity.

The people turned in scorn from such shallow artifices, predicated on their ignorance, and refused to support a cause based upon such a weak and rotten foundation. They despised arguments which implied an insult to their reasoning powers, and they looked with contempt upon a party, that relied for success upon blinding and deluding the people.

Mammoth Exhibition.

From the Zoological Institute, Baltimore, Under the Direction of FEED, BROWN & CO.

This magnificent collection of rare Beasts and Birds from Europe, Asia, Africa, North and South America, embrace the most extensive variety of specimens of animated nature ever offered to an American public. This immense establishment is transported in 35 wagons, drawn by 80 matched grey horses, and requires the aid of 50 men to complete its operations, besides one which travel on foot. There are in the Institute, near 100 BEASTS and BIRDS, which have been obtained at an expense of more than $100,000. The living specimens of Natural History represented will be offered for public gratification, under a spacious pavilion, 300 feet in length by 100 feet in breadth sufficiently capacious to contain 5000 persons, on Broad street, Camden, on Monday and Tuesday, 3d and 4th days of October.—Hours of exhibition—on Monday from 2 until 5, afternoon and from 7 until 9 evening, Tuesday from 10 until 12 morning, and from 1 until 4 afternoon.

The Managers have effected an engagement with the very and justly celebrated Washington Military Band from Philadelphia, who stand unrivalled by any travelling Band in the United States. Mr. S. Bailey, the celebrated conjuror of the brute Creation will enter the cages to a full grown black maned African Lion and Lioness, also to a pair of Royal Bengal striped Tigers and to a Leopard, Jaguar and Striped or untameable Hyena, in some cage, and handle and wantonly chastise them while in their dens, with fearlessness and safety.

Previous to the cage performances the Ponies and Monkeys, also the Elephant will be introduced into the circle and go through with their pleasing performances.

Admission to the Menagerie 50 cents; children under ten years of age half price. Sept 24—35

The sketch book of Character

Or Curious and Authentic Narratives and Anecdotes respecting Extraordinary Individuals. In preparing the following work from ample materials, care has been exercised to avoid, in the main, the beaten track of former compilers; to present the reader rather what was inaccessible, than to copy well known biographies and events.

The principal object of the present collection, is to supply a pleasing variety of that kind of incident, which, by exhibiting the marvellous in circumstance, and the extraordinary in character, displays the occasional waywardness of event, and its frequent curious operation upon the human mind. It would be easy to prove that, independently of mere entertainment, a knowledge of remarkable facts is necessary to correct the judgment, even upon every-day transactions; and that in the science of life, as well as in every other, it is necessary to become acquainted with the exception to the general rule.—To estimate properly what is, we must possess some knowledge of what may be; and the information is only to be acquired by an attention to the memorable and peculiar, which have been.

The publication was commenced in July. It will be issued in semi-monthly numbers, containing 80 pages each, and will be completed in five months, or sooner, at the option of the Publisher, and will contain, in all, over 400 pages. The numbers will be sent by mail to any part of the Union, carefully packed.

Terms.—One Dollar for the complete work, or six copies for Five Dollars. Address L. A. GODEY, 100 Walnut street, Philadelphia.

Celebrated Trials, and cases of Criminal Jurisprudence,

OF ALL AGES AND COUNTRIES FROM THE EARLIEST RECORD.

Selected by a member of the Philadelphia Bar. Treason—Sedition—Witchcraft—Robbery—Mutiny—Heresy—Libel—Murder—Piracy—Forgery, &c. &c.

These remarkable and deeply interesting Trials have been collected from all the best sources which the public and private Libraries of this country afford. The numbers will embrace many recent cases furnished exclusively by the London Annual Register, and recourse has been had occasionally to manuscripts where printed documents could not be procured.

It is believed that the collection supplies a striking deficiency in the library of the Lawyer, Physician, and general reader.

To members of the Bar the publisher need hardly recommend it, as they must know its worth, but to the general reader, who may be misled as to its character, the publisher assures them that it will be found when completed, a volume of the most intense and exciting interest.

One singular and alarming fact presents itself in the murder cases, and it is that so many should die protesting their innocence. Is it to be believed that upon the verge of eternity they could so loudly proclaim that which they knew to be false, when not a hope of escape is held out to them; the "Circumstantial Evidence" cases, of which there are five; would make us think otherwise. It is a subject that may well make one ponder upon the law which demands life for life.

The publication was commenced in July, and the numbers are issued semi-monthly, each number containing 120 pages each, printed on fine white paper of the size of the Marryatt Novels, and will be completed in October,—making a volume of 600 closely printed octavo pages. The numbers will be sent by mail to any part of the Union, carefully packed. Terms $2 for the complete work, or three copies for five dollars.

It is worthy of remark, that a similar work is published in London at about 70 cents a number, and contains only 75 small duodecimo pages. This edition will cost but 40 cents a number, and contains 120 large octavo pages.

Address L. A. GODEY, 100 Walnut street, Philadelphia.
