

POLITICAL NOTES.

GRANT is going to rank all of the Mormon faith out of Federal offices. It is announced on good authority that the Indiana delegation is solid for Kerr for Speaker.

You can also consider Hon. Gilbert C. Walker, of Virginia, in the race for Speaker of the House.

It is claimed that the recent election in Virginia sealed the doom of the color-line in politics.

There is one Southern paper which favors Sam. Randall's designs on the Speakership, the Richmond Whig.

Known-Northern holds are said to be again ringing into existence in Maryland, Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

Chief Justice Waite is a late Presidential possibility. Legal minds are too heavy for this per-verse generation.

Backs Pomroy advocates the repudiation of the national debt in full. As a statesman Brink has few if any equals, and the Lord is praised for the same.

JOHN MULLER nominates Henry Woodworth Longfellow and James Lathrop Motley for rival Presidential candidates next year.

EX-SENATOR GWIN, of California, is said, will soon visit the South in order to urge his old Democratic friends to fight inflation.

The Freedman's Bank has paid a dividend of 20 per cent, which is nearly $600,000. Total liabilities $3,000,000. This is a chapter of inflation for you.

WITHIN the next few weeks we may expect to see some respectable member of Grant's Cabinet step down and out to give place to some one who can conscientiously keep company with Chandler.

THE New York Tribune thinks that an inflationist or designer on the currency question has no more chance of a nomination for the Presidency than Andrew Jackson has.

EXERCISE day in New York is said to have been remarkably quiet and orderly, and "free drinks" few and far between. Gov. Tilden's vigorous preparations to preserve order and prevent fraud doubtless had no little to do with it.

AFTER the election the N. Y. Tribune thus facetiously summed up the situation: Against inflation, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, New York. For inflation, Samuel F. Carey, Judge Kelley, Wendell Phillips, and Richard Sebell.

THE Washington Chronicle thinks "it may be unfortunate for the country that the Democracy have control of the House of Representatives," as it "may hold us two years back in the path of progress." Yes, it will hold third term, civil rights, centralization "progress" back a number of years. Some people who profess to be such devoted admirers of the old government do not seem to realize that "progress" and the fixed Union are incompatible.

THE Washington Chronicle says, "The Government Departments need a thorough sweeping out previous to the Presidential election. A big Sibley treat would not hold all the Democrats in office under Republican rule." Just hold up for a year and you will be saved the trouble. We shall then witness the biggest house-cleaning spree this blessed country ever experienced.

THE Cincinnati Enquirer is as modest as the Nashville American—but, hold—a thought!—is the American but a disciple? The Enquirer requests Gov. Hayes to decline the Governorship of Ohio "because he knows William Allen is the choice of the people of Ohio on an honest vote." It would be dangerous for a man to rub his hoof against that man's cheek.

THE Republican party was beaten in 1874 by Grantism. The Democratic party has been beaten in 1874 by inflation. The elections of the two years, taken together, prove the existence of an independent vote which has both the power and intelligence to dictate the result in 1876, and to secure the triumph of sound principles. [N. Y. Tribune, 4th.]

WE have as a party suffered not a little during the past few months, but have not by any means been defeated, and have no occasion to be down hearted over the prospect for '76. There are at present nineteen Democratic States, only three of which cannot be counted on positively for next year, with 188 electoral votes. On the other side there are nine States, no ten of which are certain to go over to the Republicans, with 181 electoral votes, a difference in our favor of seven votes.

CONCERNING the defeat in Ohio and the Democratic leaders in that State the Courier-Journal says: It was the French custom to disgrace defeated generals. The policy, though vigorous, shielded the army against treason or incompetency. It would be well for political organizations to treat with similar severity the charlatans who, without capacity, set themselves up as leaders in critical times, and makes the success of a great movement the sport of his imbecility, his small vanity, or smaller resentments.

THE Democratic party should now have these Jonahs overboard with a stone about their necks. They should be drowned like so many blind kittens.

PROBATION STATE TAXATION.

As for the only article we that we can see in legislation, or rather the only good use that we can conceive of their being put to, is the pending of what they have done, and we think that our own Legislature might justly not be advantageously proposed in extra session to undo what the both they made of things last winter.

That they would undo it we haven't a doubt for we will not credit any one of them with that degree of thick-headedness or that moral courage which would prevent them from entertaining an adequate appreciation of the wrath to come next year.

As our readers know, that glorious array of legislative talent which congregated in all the glory of Solomon at the Capitol last Winter enacted a law "for the relief of the oppressed tax-payers," which law suspended the payment of taxes until the first day of the present month, with interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum, from November '74. On that dread day the collector is commanded to distraint for taxes in every case of non-payment, and from then until the first day of December the work is to go bravely on, nothing being exempt from distraint. Upon all property thus distrainted, beside the taxes and the interest at six per cent, there is a penalty of twelve per cent, and four per cent, more for issuance and service of distress warrants. We quote from the Nashville American:

"The twelve per cent penalty to which allusion is here made becomes operative on the first day of December, so that if a man fails to pay his taxes by that time and his land is condemned, he has to hand over not only the twelve per cent penalty, but also seven per cent interest, as well as four per cent for the issuance and service of distress warrants, making a total of 23 per cent."

It is condemned, he has to hand over not only the twelve per cent penalty, but also seven per cent interest, as well as four per cent for the issuance and service of distress warrants, making a total of 23 per cent."

A YERES bill has been found against Hon. R. K. Butler for alleged fraudulent practices in the Suggs Fort matter.

There is a society of ladies known as the Wide Awakes in a Rhode Island city. Doubtless their motto is, Well, you're home at last, are you?

St. Louis is to have a new hotel containing two thousand rooms. It will be the largest in the world.—A company of Boston capitalists are at the bottom of the project.

Yes, the lawyers must always have their share and that of every one else. A legal ring will get three million of the four million Geneva award.

You're man, stop smoking. It costs you at least twenty dollars a year, save that twenty dollars up until you are sixty-five or seventy years of age and your son will have $4,000 or more to spend.

They say Joaquin Miller's person is liberally besprinkled with diamonds as a nigger minstrel's fingers. It paid him to quit horse stealing and take up with writing poetry.

"PHILADELPHIANS start worse than any other Americans." All owing to that obnoxious poetry column of the Public Ledger. No one knows how soon he may be a victim, and he just can't help looking that way.

The following statistics of vitality in Prussia during 1874 are enormous if not peculiar. Whole number of births 1,027,276; illegitimate, 76,569; still-born, 42,329; marriages 244,772; deaths, 692,907; the males by a few thousands in excess of females.

We are informed that thirty colored ladies of Detroit have a secret social and literary society, the meeting room for which bears no less august a name than "the Queen of Sheba's royal council chamber."

Poor, desolate, bleeding, grass-hopper-plagued Kansas can't grow grass over nine feet high. So intimates a tale in the Chicago Inter-Ocean, which has some how got every thing up to its Southern-out-erage key.

"A WOMAN started to death in Passaic county, N. J., where there is a 600 Republican majority." Well, what's remarkable about that.—We're surprised that any one should take the trouble to mention just one such case where there is room for thousands.

Our navy only costs us twenty-three millions a year. But what in the fire is the use of the navy. Abolish it, and get Sergeant Bates to carry the American flag around the world. The Sergeant might be pretty badly used, get kicked and cuffed by every blasted foreigner who chose to do it, but that's just the fate of this great republic, for all her expensive navy.

HERETROPEMY is a new word coined by Richard Grant White to show the world that he really did know better when he declared in a late number of the Galaxy that two plants make a quart. Perhaps the compositor who recently made us declare editorially, when speaking of the hostile attitude of the lower classes of the Chinese people to foreigners that they were "animated by an intense feeling of hospitality," &c. Of course it was only heretropy in him, and we'll lay aside our shot-gun and allow the young man to return to the bosom of his family.

After reading this, what young man will not pack his traps for Chicago? A girl of that city says, "I am proud to say that, though I am an heiress of over $3,000,000, I understand housekeeping in all its departments thoroughly. I am nineteen; but have never been in love or even had a fancy for any one; but should a man that I love ever offer himself to me, I would say, 'yes,' though he had but six hundred a year." But where has she been hiding herself away from those Chicago fellows all this time.

QUEEN Victoria and Princess Beatrice recently attended the funeral of John Brown's father, a Scotch farmer, following the corpse from the house to the hearse, which could not be brought near the house owing to the broken state of the country. After the hearse moved off the Queen returned to the house and stayed some time with the widow. Many members of the royal court were also in attendance. Such an exhibition of attachment to a faithful domestic is rarely witnessed in lower circles, and it certainly has no parallel in royal chronicles.

THE STAR SAYS.

The Star says Gen. O. E. Babcock, private Secretary to the President says with reference to the special dispatch from St. Louis to the Cincinnati Enquirer, stating that he has been indicted by the Grand Jury at St. Louis for conspiring with the government out of the taxes on crooked whiskey, that he does not believe that any indictment has been found against him for several reasons. In the first place he has never had any intimation from any source that his name was to be presented to the grand jury, and finally, that he knows nothing of nor has he ever had any connection directly or indirectly with the whiskey ring. Until he receives reliable information that such action has been taken by the grand jury, he, of course, will have nothing to say. Of the man Fitzroy, who it is stated turned State's evidence, he knows nothing, although he believes he did see him once, and only once, in St. Louis.

Dr. PARK & McLEISH, 22, No. 21 East 11th Street, New York.

Behm's CHATTAHOOGA COMMERCIAL COLLEGE. No. 251 Market Street, Post Office Block, Chattanooga, Tenn.

The undersigned would inform the young men of Greenville and vicinity that he has established a Commercial College, in the city of Chattanooga, for the purpose of teaching the science of Book-keeping, and all the various branches.

The course of lessons will embrace forms adopted by Wholesale and Retail Compound Partnership, Commission Sales, Accounts Current, Accounts Receivable, Commercial Correspondence, Mercantile Arithmetic, Penmanship, &c.

His plan of teaching is practical. No text books are used. Students will be required to keep Books just as they would be required to do in a Counting House. This enables him to acquire the real practical knowledge of Keeping Books.

A course of lessons can be completed in from 12 to 16 weeks. Time, however, is not limited.

All will find a thorough business education is of importance, whether Farmer, Merchant, Mechanic or Professional Man. A course of lessons in this school will give the student a thorough business education, enabling him to take charge of a set of books in any Counting House, and conduct them with confidence.
