TENNESSEE Epitome of Interesting Events That Are Transpiring Over the State

Clarksville.—Dr. T. H. Marable, mayor of Clarksville, is critically ill with an affection of the heart.

Smithville.—Allen Hendrix, a young married man, was shot and killed at the home of Felt Caldwell, by Jim Redman.

Lynchburg.—A. E. Capley and Andrew J. Cunningham were badly wounded by the explosion of dynamite cartridges.

Dyersburg.—The safe of the Farmers Supply company at Rollen, seven miles east of this city, was blown and $450 secured.

Fayetteville.—Dave Douthal and family had a narrow escape when their residence caught fire while the occupants were asleep.

Columbia.—Columbia has probably enrolled the largest number of pledge cards of any city in the state in proportion to population.

Shelbyville.—Wiley Chockley, the champion possum hunter of this city, while out hunting one night recently killed a catamount weighing about 22 pounds.

Jackson.—Orion O. Yarbrow is at a local sanitarium with a pistol wound in his head, as the result of mistaking the home of W. H. Thomas for that of his brother.

Selmer.—The McNairy county teachers' association held its monthly meeting in Selmer, W. N. Hix, the president, presided. A splendid program was rendered.

Milan.—The barn of Thomas Lessemberly, a leading farmer and stockman, living three miles from Milan, was consumed by fire, together with 500 bales of hay.

Nashville.—The Rev. E. E. Cobbs has been instituted rector of Christ church, with impressive ceremonies, the Rt. Rev. Thomas F. Gailor, bishop of Tennessee, officiating.

Union City.—A Red Cross auxiliary to the large one here was formed at Hornbeak, Mrs. Howard and Swigert, of the local organization, helping in forming the new branch.

Harriman.—After a six-day session, the thirteenth annual assembly of the Church of God has adjourned. There were nearly 1,000 delegates, representing more than 20 states, in attendance.

Memphis.—Ben N. Sawtelle III, 11 years old, mascot of the Memphis Zouaves, in a competitive or "punch cut" drill, with 30 men in line, had the distinction of finishing in third place and winning a handsome cash prize.

Knoxville.—Prominent members of the Tennessee Society of Colonial Dames went to the site of old Fort Loudon, thirty miles from Knoxville, and dedicated a memorial marking the location of the old fort, which played a prominent part in the early history of this section. The fort was built by the English in 1756 to help win the valley of the Mississippi from the French and Indians, and was named in honor of the Earl of Loudon, governor of Virginia.

Nashville.—The city of Nashville bid good-bye to the Vanderbilt hospital unit at a mass meeting, held under the auspices of the local chapter of the American Red Cross and Vanderbilt University. The unit is under military orders to leave for training at Fort McPherson.

Union City.—A large meeting of good roads people will convene here at an early date to lay plans to aid in the building of the Jefferson highway from Fulton to Memphis.

Chattanooga.—Corporal George J. Ogle, musician headquarters camp, Seventeenth infantry, was killed by being thrown from a truck of the quartermaster's department.

Knoxville.—Appointment of district chairmen in Tennessee has been announced by Mrs. A. H. Pardee, chairman of extension, Tennessee Federation of women's clubs.

Jackson.—Both wholesale and retail merchants of Jackson and Madison county have signified their intention of abiding strictly by the government policies on the food conservation.

Dyersburg.—The state convention of the Order of Macabees was held in Dyersburg.

Newbern.—The Dyer county chapter of the Red Cross has made its first shipment of hospital supplies to division headquarters at St. Louis. The shipment included eleven large boxes filled with hospital linens and garments.

Jackson.—Mrs. Thomas Polk, state regent of the D. A. R., and a number of others are at Nashville to attend the annual convention.

PROCLAMATION BY RYE GOVERNOR CALLS ON PEOPLE TO CONTRIBUTE LIBERALLY TO Y. M. C. A. FUND. Particular Attention is Called To the Great Aid the War Work Council of the Y. M. C. A. is Giving To Our Boys in the Trenches.

Nashville.—Governor Rye has issued the following proclamation on behalf of the War Work Council of the Y. M. C. A.: Our country being now a participant in the world's greatest conflict in arms, it follows that our soldiers who are hourly risking their lives for us, should have all the essential comforts of the times.

Spiritual comfort is one of the recognized needs of an army. The methods of the Y. M. C. A. are adaptable to this purpose and for services in numerous other ways that contribute to the comfort and happiness of modern soldiery as well as satisfaction of the fathers and mothers at home.

The effort of the War Work Council of the Y. M. C. A. of America is to obtain by popular subscription funds with which to maintain their facilities. It has the full endorsement of the president. Our generals of the army say its influence and service are inestimable.

Believing in the practicability of Y. M. C. A. service in the army, and recognizing and appreciating the splendid service it is rendering commending the untold good it has already done, now, therefore, I, Tom C. Rye, Governor, do hereby designate November 11th to 19th as "Army and Navy Y. M. C. A. Week for Tennessee," and urge all our people to receive with cordiality all committees or other persons calling upon them. I trust they will contribute to the cause, as their means may permit and the need of the work demands.

I believe no good thing is too good for an American soldier. TOM C. RYE, Governor. By the Governor: Ike B. Stevens, Secretary of State.

Burn Wood and Save Coal. Nashville.—After a meeting of the state advisory committee of fuel administration and W. E. Myer, federal fuel administrator, the following address was issued to the public:

"To the Public of Tennessee: "You understand that this country is in a crisis. Had it not been for the sending of food and money to the allies, Europe today would be under the heel of Prussianism. The support of this country in behalf of civilization has halted autocracy and the world struggle is now on between autocracy and democracy.

"It is imperative for this country to transmit men, food and fuel to the battlefield. Men, food and munitions cannot be sent unless there is sufficient coal to produce the steam that drives the ships across the ocean. One of the vital things today in this country is the success of our armies is the coal supply. This country has ample coal to supply the military demands and also to furnish fuel for homes and factories. This coal will be supplied if it is properly conserved. There is no occasion for excitement over the coal production and supply, but there is occasion for concern about conservation of coal. It is absolutely necessary that every reasonable means be used to the end of conserving the coal supply, that the comfort of the people, the operation of industries and the furnishing of coal for military purposes shall not be impaired. To the end of meeting the demands indicated, it is imperative that the people of this nation, including the people of Tennessee, should use coal conservatively and economize in its consumption in every possible way."

Not Too Late To Sign Pledge. S. W. McGill, director for Tennessee of the food pledge card campaign, received a message from Food Administrator Hoover to continue the campaign for signatures until the 300,000 fixed as Tennessee's quota had been received. Cards to the number of over 218,000 have already been signed and it is a matter of only a few days until the required number will have been signed.

Food Administration Makes Trip. State Food Administrator H. A. Morgan has gone to Washington for a conference with the national food authorities.

JOHN JENNINGS Jr. Announces His Candidacy For The Republican Nomination For Chancellor In The Second Chancery Division I hereby announce my candidacy for the Republican nomination for Chancellor, subject to the will of the voters in the primary election to be held in Campbell county and in the other counties of this division on Saturday, March 2, 1918 the law of the land provides that Chancellors shall be elected by the people. A republican nomination is equivalent to election, and therefore the only method whereby each and every Republican voter can have a voice in the choice of a candidate is by a primary election. The choice of a Chancellor is of as vital importance to the farmer, the business man and to the miner who lives many miles, from the county seat, and who cannot attend mass conventions, as it is to the man who lives within easy access to the Court House. The office belongs to the people and they shall fill it. For these reasons I advocated and my friends secured a primary election. For the first time in the history of this Chancery Division, the nomination of a candidate for Chancellor has been referred to the people. I promise, if elected, a fair and faithful discharge of the duties of the office, and solicit the support of all the people. Faithfully yours, John Jennings Jr.
