TENNESSEE... Epitome of Interesting Events That Are Transpiring Over the State

Paris—The Grove county high school has opened its fall session under possibly the most auspicious circumstances during its entire history.

Trumble.—Lightning struck a barn on the farm of E. E. Parks and destroyed the entire contents, including seven binders and about two thousand bales of hay.

Cordova.—Walter Carter and Eugene Weakley left for the navy training school. They left over the N. C. & St. L. railroad for Nashville, where they will be transferred to California.

Trumble.—The Trumble high school opened with 248 pupils. It has the name of being one of the best schools in Dyer county and has turned out more teachers than any school in the county.

Cordova.—The Baptist church is in the midst of a revival. The Rev. Dr. D. A. Ellis of the LaBelle Baptist church, Memphis, is doing the preaching. The Presbyterian church has just closed a very successful meeting.

Trezevant.—Teachers of Carroll county held an institute at Huntingdon on Aug. 31. Among the subjects discussed were the following: "Present Conditions and Outlook in My Home Community," and "Community Organization."

Nashville.—E. S. Shannon was reappointed as postmaster at Nashville for a four-year term. Mr. Shannon was formerly secretary of the Nashville board of trade. He was appointed postmaster four years ago to succeed the late Maj. A. W. Willis.

Chattanooga.—Judge Moses Wright at LaFayette gave Mrs. Will Cornish, self-confessed murderer of her husband, life imprisonment. Mrs. Cornish on the night of May 19 chopped her husband into small pieces and dumped his dismembered body into a well.

Friendship.—A. G. Young, 13-year-old son of Bob Young, who resides north of this place, was instantly killed by a falling tree. The young man and his brother were cutting down a small tree, and he stumbled and fell, the tree striking him on the head and killing him instantly.

Milan.—Mrs. J. M. McCormack of Memphis, field secretary of the Red Cross work for West Tennessee, made an address at the Presbyterian church in the interest and progress of the work, showing the aid being given by the chapters of this work. Much interest was aroused by her talk.

Parkville.—Explosion of an oil switch in Plant No. 1 of the Parkville development of the Tennessee power company, which rendered the concrete and steel building for several hours a seething furnace, resulted in the death from burns of Thomas H. Sandifer, superintendent, and entailing a loss in excess of $100,000.

Dyersburg.—Rev. Grover C. McMillan, pastor of two of the Cumberland Presbyterian congregations of the county, left for New York to report for Y. M. C. A. work overseas. Rev. W. W. Powell, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Dyersburg, received a telegram from New York to report there at once for overseas Y. M. C. A. work.

Nashville.—Solomon S. Butler, an aged citizen of Nashville, was struck and almost instantly killed by a street car at an early hour one morning last week, the blow causing a fracture at the base of the skull and a deep gash upon his head. Mr. Butler had been deaf for about 10 years, and is thought not to have seen the approaching car.

Memphis.—The board of missions, with the presiding elders of the Methodist conference of the Methodist church, met in Memphis. The Rev. R. A. Clark, D.D., of Covington, was elected missionary secretary for the conference. Dr. Clark will greatly aid in raising the $35,000,000 called for for mission and church extension in the centenary drive.

Dyersburg.—The local board was called upon for 45 white selectmen to enter for Camp Wadsworth Sept. 3, 61 negro selectmen for Camp Sherman, Sept. 1, eight limited service men for Camp Wheeler, Sept. 6; seven special service men to University of Tennessee, Knoxville, and two limited service men to Camp Greene. The local board registered 33 men Aug. 24.

Knoxville.—Three tragedies occurred here in quick succession, beginning when a frightened cow killed Charles Warwick, 6 years of age, beating the child's body into a pulp as she dragged it over the streets at the end of a rope in which he had become entangled.

N. W. Wardrop, aged 65, a yard employee of the Southern railway company, met death when he stepped in front of a train in the yards. Isham Gurley was shot and instantly killed by Louis Moses, an auditor for the government at the Mussel Shoals, Ala., nitrate plant.

STEEL WORKERS WILL ORGANIZE... Men in and Near Chicago to Follow Example Set by Stockyards Employees.

After Formation of Unions, Recognition and Wage Increases Will Be Asked—Other News of Interest in the Labor World.

Organization of workers in the steel companies in and near Chicago has begun following a conference of officials of the Chicago Federation of Labor.

The action follows a proposal made to the American Federation of Labor several months ago that the steel workers of the country be organized as the stockyards employees were.

Headquarters will be established in Chicago. When enough men have been recruited to form a union demands for recognition and wage increases will be made, it is planned. If these are not granted federal intervention will be asked. A series of wage increases, generally at 10 per cent at a time, has already been given United States Steel workers at South Chicago, Gary, and Joliet; also increases to workers in other steel mills.

Prominent members of the Trades and Labor council and the board of trade in Vancouver, B. C., have formed a committee as a court of appeal and conciliation board to avert strikes, if possible.

Vancouver (B. C.) street car men are to receive a minimum of 40 cents an hour, and maximum of 51 cents an hour, two years' service to determine the maximum pay. They receive the eight-hour day and get time and a half for overtime.

The right of workers of ammunition plants to organize in trade unions or groups and to bargain collectively through chosen representatives is recognized and affirmed in an award made public by the national war board in a controversy between the Smith & Wesson company, arms manufacturers, and their employees at Springfield, Mass.

For the third time within a year the wages of the employees of the Homestead and Mifflin Street Railways company, Pittsburgh, have been increased. The latest increase is three cents per hour and makes the wages of motormen and conductors who have been in the service of the company more than three months 47 cents per hour.

Women engaged at men's work at the south works of the American Steel and Wire company are "holding down" their positions equally as well as the men did, according to a statement by the superintendent of the plant. They have released a large number of men for overseas duty.

The women are painting wooden wheels used for coiling rope and wire, splicing rope, building reels in the carpenters' shop and other articles used in the plant.

Issues between the Western Union Telegraph company and the post office department were established when Postmaster General Burleson announced that he had approved an application from the company for increased salaries for its employees.

"This increase was not discriminatory in any manner," he said. The company has announced a 10 per cent increase for members of its Western Union Employees' association, not effective to members of the Commercial Telegraphers' union holding similar positions and doing similar work.

The basic eight-hour day was not established in the Bethlehem Steel company's plant at Bethlehem in the recent finding of the war labor board, the board announced in correcting the original statement of its finding.

The eight-hour day previously applied to machine shops of the plant, but under the war department's interpretation of the eight-hour law, was not applied in the board's finding, to all branches of the plant engaged in the production of steel billets, rolled steel, or other unfinished products for the open market.

For the first time in the history of Lancaster, Pa., an organization of street car men was formed there by James Maurer, president of the Pennsylvania State Federation of Labor. Almost a hundred men made application for membership. The organization followed the granting of the third increase in wages for the men in three weeks by the Conestoga Traction company. The scale is six cents under that approved by the war labor board, and the men will demand an increase to meet the government scale. At the same meeting the local boilermakers were organized.

The workers in the big Krupp works in Essen threaten to strike, according to a dispatch from Amsterdam. The unrest is said to be spreading to the big industrial centers of Bochum and Barmen. The dispatch does not state what reason the workers give as cause for their threatened strike.

Herbert Bayard Swope, New York newspaper writer, has been appointed an associate member of the war industries board. Chairman Baruch announced that Mr. Swope, who has studied war problems both in this country and abroad, will sit with the board and act as assistant to the chairman.
