THE MAN WHO DYES HIS HAIR.

A Glimpse of Him as He Goes on His Bright, Sunny Way.
There is only one person in the universe who can compel as much attention from those who do not know him as the man who wears a wig, and that is the man who dyes his hair. His life is a prolonged ovation. Wherever he roams he creates interest. Everybody looks at him; everybody thinks about him; many talk about him.
Yet the general attention he receives should not be charged up to either his assertiveness or his vanity. He is usually a modest man, and always an unsuspecting one. He is serenely unconscious of the figure he cuts; entirely unaware of the distinction he enjoys.

Wrapped in the comfortable hallucination that the world can never discover his little secret, he floats through life on flowery beds of bliss. He fancies he has cheated Old Time completely. In his own opinion he has baffled age in the most ingenious manner. Under the influence of the dye he has softened his brain, or the belief that he has sliced twenty or more years from his apparent age without anyone guessing it, has upset his mind, none will ever know; but mental soundness seems to depart when hair dye takes its place among his toilet accessories. Whether the poison of the dye has softened his brain, or the belief that he has sliced twenty or more years from his apparent age without anyone guessing it, has upset his mind, none will ever know; but mental soundness seems to depart when hair dye takes its place among his toilet accessories.

Look at the face of the man with the dyed hair as he sits in happy unconsciousness of the fact that he is the cynosure of all eyes. His expression is one of childlike satisfaction. Under the influence of the dye he has softened his brain, or the belief that he has sliced twenty or more years from his apparent age without anyone guessing it, has upset his mind, none will ever know; but mental soundness seems to depart when hair dye takes its place among his toilet accessories.

He never notices that when he visits at the homes of his friends they open all their eyes. He never notices that when he visits at the homes of his friends they open all their eyes. He never notices that when he visits at the homes of his friends they open all their eyes.

Stallions at Marshfield!

"Bazaar."
(Throughbred.)
By Jack Malone, he by Lexington, 1st dam Ivy Lea, he by Lexington; 2nd dam, Bay Flower, by Lexington; 3rd dam, Bay Leaf, by imported Yorkshire, etc. dam, imported Bazar Black by Philo da Patah, etc., etc.

Bazaar was bred at the great Woodburn Farm, near Lexington, Ky. by the late H. A. Alversen, and was sold to W. L. Frierbach, of Sacramento, Cal., for $5,000. He stands 15 1/2 hands, weighs 1,000 lbs. and is a bright chestnut color. During his racing career he won many a favorite, and proved himself one of the greatest of horses ever a distance, most of his races being at two and four miles. He has already sired several colts in California that are winners among which are Lizzie Debar, Young Bazaar, Sophie, and also the imported Clydesdale Stallion DONALD DIXIE, Jr., which stands at the Marshfield track. Lizzie Debar was the fastest on record for two-year-olds at the distance. This year she has won several important events, and has proved herself to be a crack three-year-old.

Bazaar has now been brought back to Honolulu, and will remain here the balance of the year, and breeders, horse owners, and stock raisers should avail themselves of the opportunity to obtain his services while they have the chance. Terms, $40. Payable at time of service.

The imported Clydesdale Stallion DONALD DIXIE, Jr., will stand at the Marshfield track in California, and is a very superior sire, and should be liberally patronized as he is one of the very best animals of his kind. Terms, $30 for the season.

The public are cordially invited to call and inspect the above animals.
