FATHER DAMIEN DEAD.

The Famous Leper Priest Goes to His Long Home—Sketch of His Life by Charles Warren Stoddard.

By the steamer Mokoli that arrived from Molokai on Saturday morning news was brought of the death of Father Joseph Devenster Damien, the Roman Catholic priest who had gained world-wide fame for devoting his life to ministrations among the inmates of the Molokai leper settlement. He died on Monday morning, April 15th.

Father Damien had been sixteen years in that living tomb, and three years ago contracted the terrible disease that has ended his days. Upon his death he was dressed in priest's vestments and the following day the body was laid in a coffin that the Sisters had lined with white silk. A requiem high mass was said on Tuesday by Father Wendelin, who preached to a crowded church from the words, "The Good Shepherd layeth down his life for the sheep."

The following sketch of Father Damien's early life and instatement at the settlement was written by Charles Warren Stoddard after getting the story from the priest's own lips at Kalawao. It is reprinted from a little work, "The Lepers of Molokai," by that well-known author, and the copy of this paper was mailed by the late priest to the local editor of this paper only a few weeks ago, for use in writing a sketch of Father Damien and the Leper Settlement to the order of an Australian newspaper editor. An autograph letter from the then dying Father, pathetic in its statement of the writer's weak condition, was retained to the gentleman soliciting the article. Mr. Stoddard, who wrote the book four or five years ago, said: "Born in Louvain, Belgium, January 3, 1840; when he was but four and twenty, his brother, who had just entered the priesthood, was ordered to embark for Honolulu, but at the moment fell sick with typhoid fever. Young Damien, who was a theological student at the University, having received minor orders, and belonging to the same order as the Society of the Sacred Heart of Jesus and Mary (commonly called Society of Pezuz)—at once wrote to his superior, and begged that he might be sent upon the mission in his brother's stead. In one week he was on the Pacific coast country. He was ordained upon his arrival in Honolulu, and for a few years led the life of toil and privation which invariably falls to the lot of the Catholic missionary."

"In 1873 he, in common with others of the clergy, was invited to be present at the dedication of a beautiful chapel, which was completed by Father Leonard Waluku, on the Island of Maui. There he met the Bishop, who expressed regret that he was still unable to send a priest to Molokai; for the demand was far in excess of the supply. Father Damien at once said: 'My Lord, I hear that a small vessel will next week take cattle from Kawaihae to Kalanapa; if you will permit me I will go there to help the lepers make their Easter duties.'"

"His request was granted, and, in company with the Bishop and the French Consul, he landed at the settlement, where he found a colony of eight hundred lepers, of whom between four and five hundred were Catholics. A public meeting was immediately called, at which the Bishop and the Consul presided. His Grace arose to address the singular gathering, and said: 'Since you have written me of that year that you have no priest, I leave you one for a little time; and, imparting the benediction, he returned immediately to the vessel, which was to sail that very hour. Father Damien added: 'As there is no priest to be done here, by your leave I will not even accompany you to the shore.' This the good work was at once begun. It was high time; the lepers were dying at the rate of from eight to twelve per week. The priest had not time to bury himself a bur—he had not even the material with which to build it—and for a season he slept in the open air, under a tree, exposed to the wind and the rain."

"Soon after the French Consul, in congratulation from the white residents of Honolulu—chiefly Protestants—together with some lumber, and a purse of $120; then he put up his little house, and began to feel at home. After receiving some work at Kalawao, he was obliged to go to Honolulu, there being no more convenient priest to whom he could make his confession."

"The sketch proceeds to relate the cool reception Father Damien received from the President of the Board of Health, who in the course of an interview said the priest might go to Molokai, but if so, he must remain there for good. It was in vain that the Father urged the necessity of one priest having to make confession at stated intervals to another. 'An eminent physician,' one of the Board, pleaded the cause of the priest and, aided by the French Consul, a special permit was obtained on which Father Damien returned to Kalawao. Mr. Stoddard continues: 'Shortly after his return he received official notice that he must remain where he was; and that on any attempt to leave the island, or even to visit other portions of Molokai, he would be immediately put under arrest. The notice was sharply worded. This roused the indignation of the priest, and he notified the Board of Health that if they would attend strictly to their duties, he would attend to his. When it became necessary for him to visit a priest on a neighboring island, he did so, asking no aids of any man; he also visited his scattered flock on the circuit of Molokai, attending faithfully and fearlessly to the wants of his people."

"Often on these rounds he was the welcome guest of a gentleman, the son of a Protestant missionary; and on one occasion the host said to him, playfully: 'I suppose you are aware that I have orders to place you under immediate arrest if you presume to leave your leper settlement?' And this was the sheriff of Molokai."

"Six months later a permit came, granting Father Damien leave to come and go as he pleased; but in eleven years how seldom has he cared to use it!"

CAMP DRILL.

The Honolulu Rifles Going into Camp Two Days and Nights.

The Honolulu Rifles having decided to go into camp two days and nights next month, the officers of the battalion are absorbed in planning arrangements to make the event a success. Yesterday Major Hebbard, Captains Zeigler, McCarthy and Fisher, and Lieutenants Robertson and Wichman, with a couple of invited guests, drove out to Diamond Head region to inspect eligible camping places. They took a wagonette from the Hawaiian Hotel Stables. Major Hebbard holding the lines of the pair of horses.

Going by way of Moiliili the party returned round Diamond Head and through Kapiolani Park. The Major and Captain McCarthy had packed a first-class lot of picnic commissariat aboard, which enabled a satisfactory inspection to be made of a good encampment site at Waialeale. It is a large level tract well shaded with kaava trees, but having enough open ground for battalion or skirmish drill. Water is obtainable from a well within easy distance. The spot is about two hours' moderate marching from the Army, but the cars may be taken to Punahou if deemed proper. Hon. S. M. Damon has placed this ground at the disposal of the battalion and it will likely be chosen for a requiem mass for the repose of Father Damien's soul. It is estimated that 120 men will enter camp. To the public the encampment will be an attractive novelty; to the second battalion it may be a valuable means of military training.

THE PEOPLE'S SAVINGS.

Great Increase of Deposits the Past Quarter—The Most Sanguine Predictions Fulfilled.

The business of the Postal Savings Bank has continued to increase during the past quarter as rapidly as at any time since its establishment in 1886. The Postmaster-General has furnished the following statistics showing what has been done during the past three months, and the condition of the Bank on March 31st.

Balance due depositors Dec. 31, '88 $177,475 85 Total deposits in Jan., $72,721 03 " Feb., 79,879 85 " Mar., 71,371 04—220,971 92

Balance due depositors Mar. 31, '89 $613,202 50

The number of pass books out on the 31st of December was 1,800, and the number out on the 31st of March was 2,128, making an increase during the quarter of 268. This indicates that about one in every forty of the entire population has a pass book, and the average amount standing to the credit of each depositor is $288. This, it must be admitted, is very creditable to the Hawaiian people.

Mortgagees' Sales. Mr. J. F. Morgan conducted a series of mortgagees' sales on Saturday, the aggregate realization of which was $4,875.

Premises at Kalawahine, Honolulu, mortgaged by S. M. Kaanaka to Bishop & Co., were bought by Mr. W. C. Aohi for $300. One-half interest of the same amount standing to the credit of each depositor is $288. This, it must be admitted, is very creditable to the Hawaiian people.

Two pieces of land with all buildings and improvements thereon, at Aala, Honolulu, mortgaged by James Keau to Bishop & Co., was sold to Mr. Lau Chung for $3,000.

Two pieces of land and a lease, mortgaged by A. Morgan to Bishop & Co., were bought by Mr. W. S. Wond for $1,500.
