Every voter must register.

HAVE YOU read the National Herald of January 16th? "Muldoo's Picnic" is heavy tragedy by comparison.

How Don Cesar Celso Moreno will clap his sides and scream, when he hears of his darling as Mechanic's representative and "National Reformer." As we remember the Don, he was a man of portly habit, and ought not to be subjected to these appetitive risks.

It is urged occasionally that Messrs. Bush, Wilcox & Co., are only part of a trick to capture the Government, and that later these gentlemen will be relegated to Limbo, while the better men of the opposition do this, that, and the other. We hope so; it will be one of the first authentic cases of the tail wagging the dog.

AND now it appears that even Mr. W. O. Smith is not a sugar man. He owns no sugar stock at all. This is too bad, for it spoils their "whisky, sugar and prayers" cry. But then, they don't require sugar, they can all take their whisky straight and without prayers too, judging from the make-up of their various tickets.

THAT a thing "fits like a square plug into a round hole" is tolerably expressive, but some of these National reformers fit the benign utterances of their platform like a kerosene tin into a milk jug. Fancy J. E. Bush as an advocate of decentralization; or for that matter think of slogger Sullivan as presiding elder of a quaker meeting.

IT is a pleasure to turn from the fervid leaders of the Leo o ka Lahui, to the forensic statements of a little circular or "dogger" that has come into our hands, the same being entitled "The Law of God, as changed by the Papacy." It is well printed on tinted paper, and "goes," so to speak, for adressed Papacy. In spite of this, and of most convincing arguments, Papacy obstinately refuses to yield, and the prospect of having Saturday on Sunday, or two Sundays in the week, is so remote that it is not held out even by "National Reformers."

ONE of the organs of the "anything to beat the Reform party" crowd thinks to create discussion by printing that Messrs. Young, Halstead and Schuman and their friends are going to bolt because they were not nominated. Don't give yourselves any unnecessary distress of mind, friends. Messrs. Young, Halstead and Schuman are not made of the same stuff that enters into your make-up. They don't bolt if not nominated, they stand by their principles and vote for honest and good Government. No rag and bob tail for them, if we may be excused for indulging just a little in your style.

IT is authentically reported that Mr. T. R. Lucas has made the statement that R. J. Greene, one of the Reform Noble candidates, has boasted that he "was the first man to kill a kanaka on the 30th of July."

The injurious effect to Mr. Greene of such a statement, especially among a large body of the native electors is manifest. It plays upon half healed wounds and smouldering passions, and as a political card will undoubtedly have a part at least of the desired effect.

IT is hardly necessary to say that the charge is false, Mr. Greene having distinctly stated to an interviewer that he never made such a remark, and so far from indulging in the feelings attributed to him, was very thankful when the day in question was over, that he had not been compelled to take human life at all.

supporters who regard Mr. Greene's conduct on the day in question as no indication whatever of hostility to the natives, but simply the response of a good citizen to the call of public duty, all the more commendable because it involved the jeopardy of his own life.

Mr. Lucas should be the last one to indulge in such immaterial and personal remarks as the one attributed to him, for he himself, owes much to public forbearance in this respect. We all remember the unpleasant fact that it was a firm in which Mr. Lucas was a partner, which spent the last few days before the 30th of June in barricading the Palace gates when for aught men then knew, it was to be themselves, their own friends and relatives who were destined to beat their lives out against those barricades in protest against a state of affairs that had become intolerable.

It was probably the thrill of disgust that followed which led the Legislature to throw out the claim of this firm for the services in question.

Two years have since passed and the community with commendable good nature towards Mr. Lucas, which he evidently is not inclined to show to others, has made no use of these circumstances thus far against him.

IT is to be hoped that both sides will show good sense enough to avoid creating prejudice against any candidate on either side because of his support of the new order of things either on the 30th of June or July.

WHY THE OPPOSITION IS A RE-ACTIONARY PARTY.

We speak of the Opposition to the Reform party as the "Re-actionary Party," first, because its leaders are the very men who, until they were forcibly stopped from doing so, were running the Government as a private machine, who were part and parcel of the gang which was making the name of the country a by-word and bankrupting the Treasury; and second, because of their principles, or rather their lack of principles.

They have gotten off a lot of clap-trap in what they call their platform, but in all their speeches and all their newspapers there is an absolute lack of reference to the principles set forth in the platform.

Mr. Antonio Rosa, as President of the Hui Kalaianua, sounded the key-note of the campaign in his army speech the other night. It was "race prejudice." The Elele has for months been ding-ing into the ears of its readers a never-ceasing stream of bitterness concerning the usurping "H-a-o-l-e," the "Missionary," and the down-trodden Hawaiian.

Mr. Bush rings the changes on the usurping foreigner and urges the Hawaiians to right their wrongs by treating the haoles as the Samoans did the Germans.

Mr. Wilcox's sole capital is the race prejudice which he has excited and is still exciting. In view of these facts, in view of the specific declaration made by Mr. Rosa as to the position of himself and his society, and knowing that these gentlemen are the recognized leaders of the party, we feel justified in designating the party which they represent as a reactionary party, even though there may be other men on the ticket with them who do not entertain such sentiments.

Race prejudice is the one plank upon which the Re-actionary orators and newspaper writers seek to win the coming election.

"PLEGGED AND HONEST CANDIDATES."

ONE of the organs of the party of abuse, the "National Herald," glorifies the "pledged and honest candidates" of their faction. Let us see, another of their organs names the whole list. As we have before remarked, many, indeed most of their candidates are well known gentlemen who will not, if elected, consent to become tools of retrogression; but when these organs parade the whole ticket as "pledged and honest" and at the same time hurl innuendos and slurs at the opposing candidates and the administration, it becomes necessary to show up the hollowness of our neighbor's professions. "Pledged and honest candidates!" Here they are: John E. Bush; A. Kauli; A. Rosa, (an ex-Minister of the notorious administration when "waste" is a very gentle word for the expenditure of public money); R. W. Wilcox; J. W. Kaula; W. H. Cummings. Their names are sufficient pledge of what they are. And of the others, J. S. Walker; J. T. Baker; J. K. Kamaunano; D. H. Nahini; J. N. Kapaia; J. Kamaele; J. Nakalea; E. L. Kana'i, and G. B. Palouha, have all established records for abject subservience to that same administration which did so much to destroy Constitutional government in the country and ruin the public credit and national character abroad. To hold up these gentlemen as the proper persons to protect the true interests of the Hawaiian is, to pervert the true meaning of language, to utter the blackest white, that filth is purity. And now it lies with those other gentlemen to show that their associating themselves with men whose record is such, is not merely for the purpose of using any means to beat, anything to get it. How about Bush's promise—if the Portuguese would vote for him (in effect) that he would pay them $2 per day. Perhaps he would, but he would not pay his own bonded people any $2 per day. Yet he is the apostle of equal rights, equal pay, equal opportunities, equal rights and no restriction of Chinese, in fact equal anything if he can only get in. Let the so-called National Reform Party remember, as the electors will not fail to do, that they carry Bush, Wilcox and company on their shoulders with all that that means.

CORRESPONDENCE.

We do not hold ourselves responsible for the statements made, or opinions expressed by our correspondents.

The Reform Party.

MR. EDITOR: A person signing himself "One who knows," writes to the Bulletin of the 16th inst. and attempts to make points against the present administration by reciting various so-called misdeeds of the Reform party of 1887 and joining them with certain acts of the present Cabinet, charges them all as misdeeds of the Ministry. The record of this Government dates from July 1, 1887, and is confined to its Ministerial acts. Upon that and that alone is to be judged. Anything else is false and calculated to mislead. Probably not many know what it means, but nonsense about dropped revolvers and still better care. The native cares about the results obtained by the Government under the present Constitution, and of that record the Reform party may well be proud and can urge it as a sufficient reason why it deserves the continued confidence of the country. The Legislature of 1887 condemned what it believed a departure from the strict intent of the appropriation bill, and since then there has been no misappropriation nor attempt at misappropriation of public funds. The charge or innuendo of that letter is false. There is no similarity between the misappropriations of the old regime and anything done or attempted to be done by the present. To illustrate: The appropriation for the opening and extension of Queen street—$5,000—was all used, but not one dollar of it went toward that object, under the old. Under the new, for instance, the appropriation for waterworks at the leper settlement not proving quite sufficient, the Minister deemed it proper to supplement that and complete the work by using a part of the appropriation for "general expenses of the leper settlement." This was opposed by the Auditor General. The public will no doubt decide next whatever may be the strict letter of the law, there was no violation or attempted violation of its spirit or intent by the Minister. But the whole letter is made up of innuendo and so is false. Let Mr. "One Who Knows" bring forward the work accomplished by this Ministry and let it be the country to judge between those who ask for a trial and they who have been tried.

ANOTHER WHO KNOWS.

MR. EDITOR: Rumors have been afloat lately that Mr. Rosa has been hiding from time to time to the natives, and that he was presumed to put down the late riot work, and brought to justice. This circumstance probably gave additional significance to Mr. Rosa's assertion at the mass meeting of the Opposition, that his party would not molest until they had driven a certain obnoxious element among the foreigners out of the country. The question arose at once who was included in Mr. Rosa's prescribed list and what constituted in his opinion an "obnoxious element," with an occasional query perhaps to whom it or not the obnoxious element would drive at Mr. Rosa's bidding.

The following open letter from Mr. Rosa published in Hawaiian last Saturday in the National Herald, throws some light on these questions. The letter was written in response to another addressed to him in the same paper and explains itself. After making some comment on Mr. Kane, Mr. Rosa thus continues:

"As to your request for my legal opinion concerning the shooting of those seven persons who were killed on the 30th of last July, and of the four who were wounded, I can answer without hesitation, (they those who killed them) are guilty of the crime of murder and manslaughter, and their names are all known. And that the lawyers of the city, and by others who knew that some of those who shot and killed were very clearly guilty of the crime of murder as stated above. And I believe this will not be denied. I am sorry that you, a Hawaiian, have publicly asked for my legal opinion during these days of rioting. Perhaps this will suffice, and don't you ask for my opinion again on this matter in public. I will tell you the truth in regard to the good of the public if you will come to my office."

Honolulu, Jan. 18, 1890.

The editor of the Herald comments editorially on Mr. Rosa's letter as follows, and throws still more light on the subject in hand. "Our readers will remember a portion of the article of 'True Hawaiian,' a correspondent whose thoughts we published yesterday relating to those who shot down Hawaiians on the 30th of July, 1889, without having any authority for so doing. 'We have seen that Kane and Achi are with the Reform party, and if that party succeeds it is very certain that the Cabinet will be continued in office, and they two, with Kaula, will help to keep them there. In the event we see that those shooters will not at all be tried for murder or manslaughter. But in case the National party are victorious, the Government will be urged to take up the case and prosecute them immediately. Therefore, this is the time for the nation to deliberate, and when the day of election comes, pass those fellows aside, for the wound will not be healed by them, for the time is very near at hand when the real rights of all native Hawaiians will be vindicated upon their own soil. The National party is the party that will save us, but those others are they who will utterly destroy us.' There are two important and unpleasant conclusions to be drawn from all this and which stare one in the face neither or no. The first is that the natives must be wrought up into an utterly unreasonable frame of mind when a prominent and professedly conservative leader among them can, with the popular approval, advance such doctrines and the editor of a public newspaper is it necessary to promise the populace, as a reward for voting the Opposition ticket, that the citizens who suppressed the riot in question would be proceeded against for murder!"

The second is that there are foreigners among us who are making use of or contumacious appeals to race prejudice for political purposes with the intention, no doubt, of allaying these prejudices when their ends are served. Any reasonable man knows, however, that if the had hood stirred up by these appeals must run its course, and will notwithstanding all attempts to cool it down by those who stirred it up, find expression in many ways in the legislation and administration of the country if placed in power. If the Opposition resort to such appeals to get into power they must keep them up to stay there.

as Walter Murray Gibson and this country learned to their cost.
