ARRIVAL OF THE AUSTRALIA. At 11:45 yesterday night the Australia was signalled off Diamond Head. She reached the wharf two hours later, and her arrival "at that time of day" was rather unexpected.

Weather—Left San Francisco, Friday January 24, at 2 p.m., with a moderate N. W. wind; passed North Head at 3 p.m. January 25: 4 p.m. wind backed around to S. E., blowing a gale with a rough sea and very heavy W. S. W. swell; at 10 p.m. set the main trysail, reefed, and hove to, the sea boarding the vessel in large quantities, so as to render steaming impossible. January 26: 4 a.m., wind veered suddenly to W. N. W. in a terrific squall, blowing with unabated fury and raising an ugly cross sea, the ship going under slow bell; wind and sea moderated towards midnight. January 27: Weather clearing as the wind veered to the N. E., the ship going at "full speed" again, and ending with fine weather and smooth sea. January 28: Weather clear and fine; wind E. N. E. and smooth sea. January 29: Wind S. E.; fine weather and smooth sea. January 30: Clear and pleasant; heavy westerly swell the last twenty-four hours.

Annexation. A special dispatch received at Chicago on the 1st instant, from Ottawa, Canada, says that "Colonel Ashford, the commander of the Hawaiian Army" admits that he would not be surprised to see the islands annexed to the United States in the near future.

San Francisco News. Alexander G. Abell, who was for thirty-five years Grand Secretary of the Masons and was recently attacked by W. L. Baker, a cheap actor, and "Big Bertha," the Confidence Queen. "Big Bertha" made the first assault with a riding whip, and was followed up by Baker, who dealt her two blows in the face. Thrum, who was seated in his office and was wholly unprepared for such an attack, soon recovered himself and drew a bowie knife, at the sight of which Baker ineffectually fled. The attack was precipitated by a skit which appeared in Thrum's paper. H. B. Rice is engaged in the work of organizing excursions to the islands, and is meeting with quite fair success. Lucky Baldwin has won his suit to compel the owners of the land on which the Baldwin Hotel is erected to sell him the property for $700,000. Robt. R. Hind of Honolulu is spending a pleasant holiday season at the Occidental.

American News. The Indian outbreak took a new turn on the 29th ult. at Wounded Knee on the edge of the Bad Lands. The trouble was due to the two companies of the Indians. Big Foot's men to the number of 200 bucks, squaws and children had surrendered to a detachment of United States troops and were about to deliver up their arms and go back to the Agency. Only a few guns were delivered up and when the soldiers attempted to search the wigwags, they were fired upon by the Indians and a general slaughter was inaugurated. The result was the killing of thirty men and three officers and about 100 Indians. The fight was a hot one and no mercy was shown on either side. It is now reported that the Sioux tribe numbering about 3,000 warriors has left the Agency and gone on the warpath, notwithstanding a dreadful blizzard and has been raging for some days past.

Opera House. Mr. W. L. Roberts' Benefit a Success—A Fashionable and Appreciative Audience Present. An unusually large audience turned out to hear the entertainment tendered Mr. W. L. Roberts Thursday evening. The programme opened with a scene taken from Pygmalion and Galatea. Mr. Roberts as the former and Miss Olive Berkley as the latter. Miss Berkley held the enraptured attention of the audience as she began to realize the ways of this world. The acting of this scene simply caused the audience to wish the whole of the play could have been enacted. Mrs. Berkley was heartily recalled after reciting a selection, and when it came to the vocal selections given by the Hawaiian Quintet Club, Honoluluans showed their appreciation of home talent by insisting upon their giving more than the programme called for. Miss Nolte in singing "Love's Joy," proved herself equal to what is expected of her by a Honolulu audience, which is by no means little. She received an encore, as also did Mr. Allen after singing "Fiddle and Lute." One of the principal features of the entertainment was the music furnished by Prof. Ordway. The audience could not get enough playing from him, and from the Quintet Club. Mr. Roberts' recitation showed what is already known of his strength and force of acting; in the "Nan, the Good for Nothing," he performed his part perhaps the best of all. J. H. Sims sustained his role of carpenter with credit, while Miss Berkley as "Nan," simply could not help capturing the hearts of the gardener, the carpenter, the engineer and the audience, too. It was an entertainment throughout that pleased all who heard it, and it was gratifying to see the large number who went. Mr. Roberts and Miss Berkley will leave Saturday with Aloha Nui from all.

Band Concert. This evening the Royal Hawaiian Band will give a concert at the Hawaiian Hotel commencing at 7:30 o'clock. Following is the programme: 1. March—Corporal's Guard. Ripley. 2. Overture—French Comedy. Keller Bela. 3. Waltz—Marians. Dellinger. 4. Selection—Martha. Plotow. Songs—One Two Three Four. Maui Girl. Wai Aniani. 5. Fantasia—Italian Melodies. Rampezzotti. 6. Mazurka—Entre Nous. Fant. 7. Polka—Concert (solo cornet). King. 8. Quadrille—Hit and Miss. Herve. Hawaii Point.

Until further notice, through the courtesy of the manager of the Hawaiian Tramways Co., a special car will leave the corner of Beretania and Punahou streets every Sunday morning at twenty-seven minutes past 9 o'clock, to accommodate the church attendants of the second congregation of St. Andrew's Cathedral.

Copies of the GAZETTE (12 pages) and ADVERTISER, in wrappers, for the outgoing mail, may be had at publication office.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO LETTER.

Per Steamer Australia, San Francisco, January 3, 1891.

(From our special correspondent.)

Sugar and Trade. New York, Jan. 2, 1891—Cuban centrifugal, 96 degrees, 5/8c.; granulated, 5 15-16c.

The local market is quiet, as might have been expected for this season of the year. Since the decision of the Supreme Court concerning the American Refinery case preparations have been made at the refinery to resume operations in full, and from this time forth the establishment will be run at full capacity. This is likely to bring on a renewed competition between the refiners, but the market is hardly worth fighting for until after the tariff bill goes into effect, at which time the California people will have an enormous supply of cheap Java and Manila sugar in their warehouses on Mission Rock. Supplies for the current six months thus promise to be ample for all requirements; and the California Refinery will be in a particularly favorable position to meet the spring and summer trade.

Considerable amusement has been created in political circles at Washington over the proposition that the United States government pay the Hawaiian producers of sugar two cents per pound on account of the virtual nullification of the reciprocity treaty consequent upon the passage of the McKinley bill. There is no likelihood whatever of any such boon being given Hawaiian planters. Congress is in a rather peculiar position now as regards expenses and appropriations, and the cries for economy. The right to pass the bill cannot be disputed, and the equities of the Hawaiian planters are not liable to receive much attention if the advice received from Washington are correct.

The King's Movements. Since our last letter King Kalakaua has continued to enjoy a round of pleasures including a trip to Los Angeles and the Coronado Hotel at San Diego, where he was the guest of John D. Spreckels. On his trip south His Excellency was met at Los Angeles by Mayor Hagar of that city and General Mc. D. Cook, with several of the prominent citizens. A large crowd was present at the depot, and the King was not only presented to them by the Mayor, but given the freedom of the city. The King expressed his pleasure at the reception accorded him and promised to stop on his return and make a more extended stay.

Previous to his departure on his southern trip the King enjoyed a high tea at the residence of Mr. Henry Heyman, and later in the evening received Claus Spreckels and John D. Spreckels at his apartments in the Palace. He attended church as usual, and on the following day visited the Odd Fellows' Home. The trip to Monterey was very much enjoyed by His Excellency. While there the King and Minister Carter had an extended conference relative to the policy to be pursued by the latter on his return to Washington in the matter of establishing wider reciprocal relations between Hawaii and the United States. It is acknowledged that Minister Carter has received instructions to open negotiations with Secretary Blaine of the character already outlined, but the nature of the proposed negotiations as detailed on will not be mentioned by any of the interested parties now in the city.

The Inaugural Ball Committee have extended an invitation to the King to be present at the coming inaugural ball at the Capital, but it is hardly probable that he will attend. In San Diego on the 30th inst. the Knights Templars gave a dinner to King Kalakaua and suite, after which the King and party adjourned to the asylum to attend a special meeting of the manditory for the conferring of an order. King Kalakaua will be made a shiner on his return to San Francisco. The King and his party visited the Sweetwater dam and spent the day on the Mexican frontier. The King left that city for San Francisco to-day, and will reach here on the 3rd.

It is understood and announced that King Kalakaua will leave for home on the steamer which goes home on the 12th inst, and not go to Washington as reported some days ago.
