GAMBLERS ROUTED.

The Deputy Sheriff Had a Busy Day.

LEAVES SICK BED TO MAKE ARRESTS

"Standing Room Only" Sign Displayed at Police Station Last Night.

Oh the che fa men and the fan tan men And the gentry who juggle the bones, They're sore distrest and they cannot rest—

They're filling the air with moans; And this is the reason they're sad at this season— The crux of their travail and pain: Their respites o'er and they're safe no more.

For Chillingworth's round again.

The Kanaka man and the Japanese, The hoale and bland Pake, Are well aware that there's danger near; That there'll now be the devil to pay; They played it down slick when "Old Siert" was sick,

But henceforth they'll gamble in vain. For "Ten and costs" is a thing that frosts, And Chillingworth's round again. H. M. AYRES.

Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth signalled his return to convalescence by yesterday rounding up five crap-shooters who were chasing the elusive simoleon on a Kakaako preserve. The names of those bagged are: S. Smith, H. W. Kinney, "Lucky" Kaaina, George Harbottle and Lino Kamoku.

"You'd better write it down 'Unlucky' this time," said Kaaina to the clerk at the receiving station.

While "seven-eleven" is considered de rigeur as a Sunday recreation down Kakaako and Kewalo way, "Russian War," or as it is sometimes called, "Chuck Luck," finds favor among the sports who woo fortune with the "bones" on the Ewa side of the river. This is well evidenced by the arrival at the police station yesterday afternoon from Palama of a batch of seven gamblers whose luck was chucked when we seen eye of the law spotted them. They were Frank Joe, Roma, Kaunabe, Takata, Komasa, Takawa and Tanaka.

"Russian War" will be actively prosecuted in Judge Wilcox's court this morning.

T. K. Nee and Chun On are booked for affray.

Among the week's end victims of the jovial jarum are Jack Carlisle, J. McNeil, A. Sheer, Kaleiken, F. Cornero and Cook.

Moanalua, the young man with the simpering smile who has become known to local fame on account of his weak nose for wearing big crope bows on his shoes, is a transient guest at the station pending an investigation. He was found in possession of several articles which he doesn't quite remember where he obtained.

F. Achi, J. Keolani and Kofsky are registered "common nuisances," and will be given a chance to deny it this morning.

For disturbing the quiet of the night Popek, Sauvansky and F. Mahsha are numbered among Turnkey Melanphy's guests.

An Italian who said he was Batchigalupi was hauled in on Saturday night for molesting a red danger lantern stationed on a mud heap on King street while in the execution of its duty. Batchigalupi told the High Sheriff that "he didn't want to do it," and that the functionary believed him and let him go.

Long before 7 o'clock last night the "Standing Room Only" sign was displayed at the police station. This state of affairs was brought about in large measure by Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth unexpectedly leaving a sick bed and making an unannounced visit to some of the strongholds where the sale of the fa tickets is wont to proceed merrily, and where the dice make music day and night.

The gamblers who haunt these places have been in high feather since Chillingworth was prostrated by the grip and have not hesitated to make hay while the sun of his official badge shone not among them. Yesterday he descended upon Twiell, without having sent word that he was coming, and Takahashi, Hara, Mada, Nakano, Nakamura and Yamoto were shipped to the station as souvenirs of his vigilance. "Seven-eleven" was the charge against the sextette.

From Twiell the Deputy Sheriff proceeded to River street and swooped down on a che fa convention with the result that the following scalps were added to his official belt:

M. de Costa, Kawahau, Wallolena, Mallekini, Kanwai, Henry Dallison, Kinilau, Naanao, Ah Chong, Kahanihi, Ah Ma, John Hui, Mahana, Tuawina, Kale, W. Nuuanu, Ah Kan, and Ah P.

About 7 p. m. a drunk blew in who, when asked his name, barked like a dog; he was seemingly a case for the pound rather than the police, in the estimation of the station clerk.

Drill Shed Gambling. The drill shed is becoming a favorite place for the game of craps, or "7-11." Almost any night excitable groups of young men and mere boys can be found in corners of the big hall eagerly throwing the two dice which make and unmake the fortunes of the players.

They're filling the air with moans; And this is the reason they're sad at this season— The crux of their travail and pain: Their respites o'er and they're safe no more. For Chillingworth's round again.
