NIGHT.

The sun has sunk down in a flood of flame,
Behind the wall of the sea,
And all that is left of the day is a name.
And a bitter-sweet memory;
When the day died the sky was red,
Amethyst, gold and blue,
But when the night frowned, the colors fled,
And the clouds took a leaden hue.
The sea seems sad that the day is done,
And with visage coldly gray,
Mourns for the kiss of the generous sun,
And his largesse of golden spray;
The sun was true, but the fickle sea
Will be rid of her sorrow soon,
And tune her voice to love-melody,
Courting the risen moon.
The lights flash out in the distant town,
And far off a lantern glows—
Rising and falling, now up, now down,
As port-wind a great ship goes;
The wind is a-roam through the iron-woods,
And up from the serried throng,
Arises, attuned to his varying moods,
A murmurous evening song.
The air is sweet with the flowers' breath,
On the wings of the night breeze borne—
Fragrance of garlands linked with death,
Woven by those who mourn;
Darkness is light to the lowly things,
And while the hills are sleeping,
Night's timid myriads spread their wings,
And carnival go keeping.

BAKING POWDER.

The profits on some of the well known high-priced baking powders are enormous, and the many different and misleading ways of advertising in nearly all cases, would ordinarily make the consumer believe that unless he pays a high price he receives an inferior baking powder. Their principal is against so-called alum baking powders. In the K. C. baking powder, put up by the Jacques Manufacturing Company, of Chicago, there is 3 per cent alum, which is entirely evaporated when cooked in bread or cake, leaving nothing but the phosphate property in the article consumed; or, in other words, absolutely pure. In many of the well advertised high-priced baking powders is contained Rochelle salts, which is far more injurious than a baking powder which originally contains a 3 per cent ingredient of alum. The K. C. baking powder has been upheld by all State authorities, and while the baking powder trust has several times tried to injure its reputation, both through the boards of health or courts, they have invariably failed to accomplish their end.

lation to every one who uses it, and simply demonstrates the old-fashioned lamp was a barbarous contrivance. THE ANGLE LAMP never smokes, smells or gives any trouble, is lighted and extinguished as easily as gas, and is the ideal light from every standpoint. We carry these lamps from $1.80 up.

Another Large Shipment of Angle Lamps. THE ANGLE LAMP

THE LIGHT THAT NEVER FAILS.

It seems almost incredible that any lamp could be good enough to take the place of electricity on even terms, yet such is the case with the ANGLE LAMP. All over the island people are throwing away their old lamps and replacing them with this lamp, not merely because it costs about one-tenth as much to maintain (cost is an object to some people), but, besides being infinitely cheaper, it is more brilliant and more reliable in the bargain. It is a demonstration that the old-fashioned lamp was a barbarous contrivance. THE ANGLE LAMP never smokes, smells or gives any trouble, is lighted and extinguished as easily as gas, and is the ideal light from every standpoint. We carry these lamps from $1.80 up.
