ONE FOR THE KAMS

Oahu Fell Down in the Eighth Inning.

THE GAME WAS SADLY ERRORFUL

Little Yates Was the Hero of the Day—J. Marcallino a Heavy Hitter.

Contrary to general expectations, Kamehameha defeated Punahou last Saturday in the first of the series of games for the intercollegiate pennant. A large number of spectators were present on the Kamehameha campus, and the visitors were rewarded with an interesting exhibition of the national game.

The game was very even up to the eighth inning, when the Kams put a good thing or two through and came home on the chin-strap.

In the fateful eighth Yates connected with the ball, which traveled with a comet-like motion, and was recorded on the minutes of the game as a three-bagger.

Four of Punahou's tallies were obtained through the medium of John Marcallino. Will Campbell also played a star game for the Oahuans.

Castle held good until the eighth, when he acquired that tired feeling, and panic ensued. Lemon, for the winners, was a good boy on Saturday, and behaved himself as nicely as could be desired. It is a great arm he has. He and Kekuewa make a strong battery.

The game generally was marked by an over-sufficiency of grandstand plays. The wretched ground was more or less responsible for most of the errors made.

The Kams were jubilant over their victory, as it in some measure atones for their recent field and track defeats by Punahou. Three games must be won, however, before the championship is decided, and the excellent showing made by the collegians on Saturday renders the result of the series anything but a foregone conclusion.

The umpiring of Messrs. Babbitt and Bowers on Saturday was very satisfactory.

The second game of the series will be played next Saturday on the campus of Punahou.

Hapai, Punahou's crack fielder, was laid on the shelf last Friday by running an ice-poker through his hand. His absence was greatly felt by the college nine.

Jim "Old Pal" Gorman, the old Star baseballer, is in the Queen's Hospital, a victim of appendicitis.

COATS' CHARGES DID HIM PROUD

Last Saturday evening the members of the gymnasium classes of the Young Men's Christian Association gave an athletic exhibition for the benefit of a large and enthusiastic number of spectators. The work done was under the direct supervision of Professor A. J. Coats, and spoke volumes for his efforts along the line of physical culture.

Each of the classes did its turn, and the various numbers of the program revealed a number of young men who possess the making of first-class athletes.

MARRIED MEN'S POOR CRICKET

Allow Bachelors to Defeat Them by More Than Sixty Runs.

The first of the annual series of cricket matches between the Bachelors and Benedicts, was played at Makiki last Saturday afternoon.

The double-harness aggregation were palpably out of form, and allowed themselves to be disposed of for the cheap total of forty. This was in large measure due to the excellent trundling of McGill.

The "hope-to-be's," thanks to the hard hitting of R. Anderson, and the stylish willow wielding of Blackman and Bottomley run up a score of 193 before they were disposed of, which included no less than eighteen byes. Viggo Jacobson recorded the minutes of the game.

THEY ARE STILL AT THE TRACK

Withdrawn Horses Like the Famous Feline Came Back Again.

J. O. Mack or John D., whatever the name of the "seven straight heats under 30, any day of the week, for $1,000—on paper" horse may be, is again at the track, and local race goers will have the extreme felicity of seeing his ringbone during the coming races.

Wayboy is also at work again, and yesterday Jim Quinn was driving him, and will continue to do so.

It is pretty safe to bet that Indra will also face the starter next month unless his injury has opened his owner's eyes to the utter futility of keeping him in training. Indra was once a fair class horse, and among the horses he has defeated are Cash Day, Newgatherer, Iola and Speculation. His owners regard him to death, however, and there is not a track in America today on which the poor old horse could earn his salt. He deserves to be superannuated. To race him is to court investigation by the S. P. C. A.

An owner who thought that he was the Whole Thing got turned down at the meeting of an August Racing Body, and to get even with himself, removed his attenuated Crocks from the track. The same evening he rehearsed in his mind what his friends had said to him about his Action, and he felt so put out with himself that he tried to bite his ear. Falling in this laudable endeavor he lent the attenuated Crocks to some persons he wanted to get square with, for a whole month, on the condition that they go halves with him in Training Expenses and Purses. Then he had a notice put in the Diurnal Blast airing his virtuous indignation, and intimating that he felt sorry that his withdrawal from the turf would be such a loss to the Sporting Public.

Moral: The Horse is an Intelligent Animal, but this doesn't necessarily endow a Horse Owner with Savvy enough to observe when he is cutting his own throat.

Encore: Virtuous Indignation won't pay Feed Bills.

The Hilo horses did not come on the Kinau, as was expected, and it is reported that Socialist has not yet arrived in Hilo.

Violin and Waldo J look to be the only entries in the free-for-all. The mare went a mile in 2:21 on Saturday, very nicely.

Waldo J continues to go up in the air in discouraging fashion; doubtless this is the result of the repeated speed checks the "white ghost" has received in his preparation. He catches very quickly, but can't afford to make many breaks with a horse of Violin's great speed alongside of him.
