NEW JURY IS DRAWN

McCarthy Case Again on Trial.

CATHCART GOES FOR GEORGE DAVIS

Latter Attorney Says Last Grand Jury Indictment Was a "Job."

The third trial of the McCarthy case was begun before Judge Gear yesterday afternoon. At the opening of court in the afternoon the court allowed the withdrawal of a juror from the first panel, and a mistrial was declared. Deputy Attorney General Douthitt insisted upon a trial for McCarthy at this term of court, and the court thereupon ordered a special venire for 25 talesmen. It was 3 o'clock when Bailiff Ellis had succeeded in corraling a sufficient number of men, but the jury was not difficult to secure. The following is the jury as finally impaneled: H. A. Wilder, N. E. G. Jackson, R. Duncan, D. L. Austin, J. M. Levey, J. H. Worrall, Louis Singer, W. H. Rogers, W. Broadly, W. Roland, W. W. Diamond, and A. L. Soule. The trial was thereupon continued until this morning.

DAVIS IS CALLED DOWN.

George Davis' continued attacks upon the attorney general brought forth a sharp rejoinder from Deputy Attorney General Cathcart yesterday morning. Davis had been appointed counsel for the Williams brothers, who were acquitted of the charge of burglary last week, and immediately reindicted by the grand jury on a charge of larceny in the first degree. The defendants were up for arraignment yesterday, but Davis was not present, though soon afterwards he was noticed passing the door of the court room.

Judge Gear called him in and wanted to know why he didn't appear in behalf of his clients. Davis replied that he had been working hard on charity cases for a week and thought he should be allowed some relief now. He asked to be excused, but the court refused, and then Davis began to rant and roar in his usual style about constitutional rights, and stated that these boys had been indicted by the attorney general through a "job."

Douthitt objected to the remarks at this time, and Davis began to hedge. Then Cathcart took a hand and wanted the court to understand that the attorney general did not indict the Williams brothers, but they had been regularly indicted by the grand jury. Davis retorted that Cathcart wasn't the attorney general "yet," to which the latter replied that he had conducted the criminal cases before the grand jury.

Davis then suggested that probably some of the young attorneys might be given a chance, or that Col. Fitch be allowed to defend by himself. "I am under heavy expenses," said Davis, "and am not overburdened with cash."

Mr. Thompson, who was representing Col. Fitch, said that he was also laboring under the same unfortunate stress of circumstances.

Davis muttered something about "spendthrift," and then shut up. The case was set for this afternoon, but will probably go over for the term, as tomorrow is the last day.

There was another squabble about a case in which Mr. Chillingworth was interested, and he also asked for a continuance. Mr. Cathcart objected, and wanted the matter heard this term, as the witnesses were liable to become scattered. Here Davis chipped in and suggested that the witnesses could be sent to jail, and Cathcart replied angrily that there was little justice in holding the witnesses in jail, while the defendants were at liberty on bail.

THE INJUNCTION CASE.

The Rapid Transit injunction case was argued before Judge Robinson yesterday, and by him taken under advisement. He will render a decision Saturday morning.

The plaintiffs, a Chinese corporation, ask that the Rapid Transit Company be restrained from building its lines through the land alleged to be owned by them near Waikiki. The defendants have agreed to discontinue operations until the decision is given tomorrow.

SUPREME COURT ADJOURNS.

The Supreme Court adjourned yesterday for the session, to April 21st. The appeal from the attorney general's ruling on stamp duty on written proxy is to be submitted on briefs.

COURT NOTES.

Judge Humphreys made an order yesterday dismissing the case of Territory vs. Liuokalani in accordance with the Supreme Court decision.

An answer has been filed in the divorce case of Thomas Smith vs. Margaret F. Smith.

Chas. F. Murray has asked to be appointed administrator of the estate of T. B. Murray. The estate is valued at $2500.

The eighth annual accounts of the J. H. Wood Trust were filed yesterday, showing receipts for the year to be $6756.18 2-3 and expenditures $5089.06. Part of the estate is invested in $2000 Oahu Railway and Land Company bonds.

Application has been made for the appointment of a trustee for Lucinda J. Walsh, a minor, in order that she may withdraw a deposit of $180 from the First National Bank.

Chung Kin has sued Hyman Bros. for $10.00, and for $1000 damages for alleged unlawful action in carrying away goods from plaintiff.

WED IN SALT LAKE.

Marriage of Edwin Fernandez and Miss Lydia Roberts.

The romance of two young lives has come to the old-fashioned ending that we used to read about in story books. "They were married and lived happily forever afterward." Such is applied to the marriage of Mr. Edwin Fernandez and Miss Lydia Roberts of this city. Mr. Fernandez is a son of President Fernandez of Honolulu, and his family are ranked high among the nobility. He is a very clever and promising young man. On his arrival in America he became enraptured with the personal charms and womanly characteristics of one of Provo's belles, Miss Lydia Roberts, and while all was not very agreeable in some ways, the love was reciprocated, and the sweet tyranny that held each other captive soon conquered, and they were married in Salt Lake City on Tuesday last. Mrs. Fernandez is a very charming lady, highly respected and dearly loved by a large circle of friends. She is always very prominent in all public affairs here in our city, and realizing that they have concluded that "love is heaven, and heaven is love," we all join in wishing them unbounded success. The happy couple, it is thought, will reside for some time in Salt Lake and then go on to Honolulu to make that their permanent home.—Salt Lake Herald.
