MONDAY MAY 5

HONOLULU DAY.

The plan for a Honolulu Day, when there shall be kept open house for the residents of the Islands, and every arrangement possible made to bring visitors to the Territorial Capital, is one which deserves every encouragement.

There has been such success with one feature of County days, in California especially, that it might be the part of wisdom to look into it carefully before any definite plans are made.

If such a plan is decided upon here, there might well be several blocks partly or wholly given up to the plan.

As to the widespread effect of such a gathering it is true certainly that if Honolulu could be made the objective of a large percentage of the Island folk who usually come here scatteringly, and some not at all, there would be more and better trade.

THE PHILIPPINES.

One of the best things that could happen to the United States, now that Cuba is practically off our hands, would be to give the people of the Philippines a chance to buy their independence for a sum equal to what that turbulent group has cost us.

The argument for keeping the Philippines is one of trade. But we haven't had to acquire Europe to get our enormous trade there.

Nor must it be forgotten that we are poaching in the old world, while for-bidding old world people to poach in the new.

Finally we fear the results to the Republican party. An issue is being made for the enemy on which he will take the traditional American side.

To call a Philippine convention; to offer the islands at cost, maintaining a protectorate while payments are coming in; to reserve one coaling station for permanent use; to set up a free republic in the East Indies such as we ordained the other day in the West Indies—that way lies peace with honor.

There must now be enough dust on the Wilcox bills to fit out the Delegate when he comes home to throw some in the Home Rule eye.

General Funston swam the Bag-Bag and now is invited to put his head in it.

PROGRESS AND VANDALISM.

Just at the time when, with faces to the rising sun the people of Honolulu are preparing for a future which looks bright, it would seem to those who find great charm in the tropical aspect of the city, that there is a point where progress and vandalism meet.

One by one, in the putting back of sidewalks and fence lines, there have fallen beneath the ax of the street maker great, royal palms which formerly constituted one of the greatest charms of the city.

The question is not Why but Where, for the idea once fairly grounded that Honolulu must be widened and straightened into a New England village with its straight lines, its high houses and its trim lawns alone, there is no telling what may be the accomplishments of a road jury in the undoing of the work of gardener and nature in scores of years past.

There must be done nothing which will destroy the charm of Honolulu as a resort for tourists. It is hardly probable that people tired of the cold and weary winters of the north will choose to come to Honolulu if the exquisite charm of the tropics is destroyed by the making of the city modern in every respect.

With the progress being made by the Builders' Exchange, that association of business men will soon be where it must be considered in all matters affecting the city's interests.

Cuba became a republic on the first of May. Before a great while its flag will appear on the seas. Noting how big a fleet the sugar business gave Hawaii in the old days, what may not be expected of the big West Indian island when its maritime business begins to boom?

The Hilo Tribune (C. C. Kennedy, Pres.) republishes as its own leading article the Bulletin's editorial bolting Roosevelt. Evidently word was passed along the line to read the President out of the party.

If Senator Kalaoukalani is a staunch supporter of Home Rule organization he must have been converted after the meeting of the committee by Emmeluth, who undertook the task.

The American consumer wasn't long in finding a way to counter on the beef trust. Just as soon as beef went up he stopped putting it down.

General Miles will soon observe the President's handwriting on the wall.

THE IDEAS GOOD BUT MONEY SCARCE

J. H. Boyd, Superintendent of Public Works, has been busily engaged on the recommendations of the Board of Health, published in Friday's Advertiser, in regard to the filling of low districts in Honolulu.

"It is well enough," remarked the Superintendent, "for the Board of Health to submit these recommendations, but I am at a loss to know how to carry them out. I am thoroughly in sympathy with the determination of the health authorities in the matter of improving the sanitary condition of the various localities mentioned, but I have no money with which to carry out the work.

"It seems to me that the Board of Health should have had inserted in the last appropriation bill an adequate sum for this particular purpose."

WAITING FOR FEDERAL LAW

Although Prof. Shorey frequently reports to the Board of Health the sale and use of adulterated and impure foods in Honolulu, prosecutions of those dealing in such are rare.

"There are two reasons for it," explains Prof. Shorey. "In the first place local merchants buy their goods on the Coast in good faith and sell them in good faith. They have no means of knowing that a can of this or that is impure, or a bottle of this or that is adulterated until complaint comes in from customers.

"What we want and what is and will be necessary, is a Federal act on this matter—an act that will apply to all States and Territories. With a general act of this kind we will be enabled to proceed against any offender under our law, and the packer of impure foods on the mainland will speedily get his deserts."

Pains in the Back

Are symptoms of a weak, torpid or stagnant condition of the kidneys or liver, and are a warning it is extremely hazardous to neglect, so important is a healthy action of these organs.

They are commonly attended by loss of energy, lack of courage, and sometimes by gloomy foreboding and despondency.

"I had pains in my back, could not sleep and when I got up in the morning felt worse than the night before. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and now I can sleep and get up feeling rested and able to do my work. I attribute my cure entirely to Hood's Sarsaparilla." Mrs. J. N. PERRY, care H. S. Copeland, Pike Road, Ala.
