Races at Park Draw Thousands to See the Sport.

Fast Track and Fine Fields Furnish Splendid Entertainment and Records Are Broken by Favorites.

FINE racing and femininity, fast furlongs and flowers, were the rule at Kapiolani Park track yesterday when the Hawaiian Jockey Club's eighteenth annual racing meeting drew thousands of people to the Waikiki pleasure grounds.

The race for the Rosita challenge cup was one of the greatest horse races ever seen here. Weller was matched against Del Vista, rejected being withdrawn.

It was a great crowd, although not a record crowd. Stands and quarter stretch alike blossomed in summer greens and picture hats.

The division of the groom for the box holders and those who were out for the quieter amusement as differentiated from the more thorough sport, proved quite a success.

WEDAY OUTPOINTS AGNEW ALL THROUGH THEIR MATCH

ACCORDING to an agreement between the principals if both were on their feet at the end of the tenth round the fight was to be declared a draw.

When Referee Frank Turk made this decision at the Opera House last evening there was a roar from the four hundred, more or less, attendants upon the prize fight, and the cry "Weday" drowned the voice of the referee.

There was a long wait before the men got together. There was squabbling over a referee and finally Frank Turk was chosen.

Weday had the fight all the way. He lunged away twice with a rush. Lono prevented a good start as he would not move.

NULLAH WINS FIRST. The half-mile event to open the day found a fair crowd in the stands and some earnest speculation.

CYCLONE TAKES HIS RACE. It took a little scoring to get the did the leading and the landing, too. His swings on Agnew's head were clean and his counters swift.

Agnew as a fighter is a solved conundrum. His showing proves that while he is still clever he is not fit for a hard ring contest.

The announcement that the two had an agreement to draw, unless there was a knockout, was a blow to the Athletic Club.

The preliminaries were entertaining. The Japanese wrestling was excellent and Professor Le Boeuf and Mr. Moore handled foils like masters.

harness horses away. Quinn's Cyclone was thought to be the best by the talent and $25 to $20 was the ruling figure in the speculation.

The second heat found no one ready to speculate on the go, as Cyclone had never been more than jogged. They got away fairly, Albert M. a head to the good, but Quinn went out at the eighth and never was headed and never urged.

POLO PONY RACE. The start was an excellent one. Potter, who had been a favorite before Rice brought down Gypsy, leading by a length.

HARRISON WINS WAIKAPU CUP. Carter Harrison and Nullah were not at the post long but got away on the second break, with Nullah a head to the good.

WALDO J'S SPEED. The luncheon hour was spent in warming up the free-for-all candidates and the crowd, well pleased with themselves, were ready for the rare sport of the afternoon.

The crowd was ready to applaud such a race and did so liberally, especially upon the announcement that Garrison's time was beaten, the three-quarters having been negotiated in 1:15 1-5.

Picnics Provide a Good Time for Many Parties.

College Grounds in Festal Array for Church Folk—Old Waikiki and Pearl City Scenes of Gayety.

THE beautiful Oahu College grounds yesterday presented a scene of life and enjoyment which bade fair to make the annual picnic of the Central Union Sunday school for 1902 the greatest success recorded in its annals.

The hard work which the committee have borne to prepare each and every part of the celebration to fit into every other part, and thus form a complete whole, was manifested in the smooth and perfectly arranged manner in which the affair was carried out.

Half a dozen booths were erected on the grounds, from which were dispensed lemonades, soda water and other cool beverages, while from beneath the large main tent the more material refreshments were served.

The morning was opened by several games of "scrub," and the general interest shown in sports when no old time rivals compete, lent much zest to the see-saws were in early operation and the "High-low," "High-low" of the riders, to the time of the moving board, gave evidence of the happy hearts within.

One of the most attractive games to the little ones was played on the embankment in front of the magnificent brown stone structure called Paiahi Hall.

On the campus there had been laid out four extra diamonds of various sizes, so that all ages and heights might be accommodated.
