VACANCIES ARE FILLED

Cooke Wants Lane to Serve as Chairman.

WRIGHT AND WILCOX OUT

Kennedy Declines to Reconsider His Resignation—A Successor Is Not Yet Chosen.

At the meeting of the Republican Territorial Committee held on Saturday evening the resignation of Chairman James A. Kennedy was accepted without comment, it being shown to the committee by one of the members that Mr. Kennedy's decision was final. The resignation of Vice-Chairman John C. Lane was not voted upon as representations were made that he would possibly reconsider the same, and action was postponed until the next meeting. A. G. M. Robertson, A. L. C. Atkinson and Ed Towse were elected to fill the vacancies of the committee caused by the resignations of J. A. Kennedy, B. H. Wright and Charles Wilcox, and E. C. Winston succeeded T. Stewart.

When the meeting was called to order it was suggested that there were not enough present to constitute a quorum. It was contended by some that thirty constituted the membership and that the fifteen present, including proxies, were not a majority. Others contended that Stewart's resignation having been accepted there were but twenty-nine members on the committee, and that the fifteen were therefore a majority. The discussion was brought to a close by the entrance of other members. The meeting was called to order by Colonel J. H. Fisher and George Renton was elected temporary chairman of the meeting. Those present were: J. P. Cooke, J. H. Fisher, J. W. Jones, George F. Renton, W. J. Coelho; by proxy, Andrew Cox, by Senator George Carter, F. B. McStocker of Oloa, J. Castle Ridgeway of Hilo, D. H. Kahalelelo of Pukoo, P. N. Kahokuuluna, of Lahaina, M. H. Reuter of Hana, Matt McCann of Lahaina, Dr. B. F. Sandow and T. Brandt of Waimoa (Kauai), John A. Palmer of Makaweli and John D. Willard of Lihue.

The resignation of Chairman Kennedy was first considered. J. P. Cooke announced that Mr. Kennedy had come to a final decision in the matter and would not reconsider his resignation. It was therefore accepted unanimously. The resignations of B. H. Wright, Charles Wilcox and John C. Lane were next read. Cooke stated that Wright was unchangeable as to his resignation and it was believed that Wilcox had made up his mind finally. Both were accepted. Lane's resignation will be acted upon at the next meeting, although it is believed he will recall the same before that time. In due order the names of E. C. Winston in place of Kennedy, and A. G. M. Robertson, A. L. C. Atkinson and Ed Towse in place of Kennedy, Wright and Wilcox, were elected.

George R. Carter proposed that the committee proceed to elect a permanent chairman, but Cooke favored a postponement to the next meeting, which will take place next Saturday evening. It was his desire that Lane should take Kennedy's place and he wished to give him time to think the matter over. The committee held to Cooke's suggestion.

RECKLESS WITH LOCOMOBILES

Too Much Speed Used in Running the Steam Carriages.

Honolulu, July 4, 1902.

Editor Advertiser: In the interest of the traveling public, and especially those who ride in carriages, or those who use bicycles as a means of conveyance along the streets of this city, I wish to offer a protest against the speed which the motormen of the public locomobiles propel their carriages.

As an illustration of their seeming recklessness and indifference to the safety of others who may be on the road, I was this afternoon driving slowly up Richards street to Beretania avenue, and was about to turn the corner opposite the Central Union church when a public locomobile suddenly, noiselessly, and without warning appeared in front of my horse. When the operator of the vehicle saw me he rang the bell, but not before the locomobile was well up to the corner, and too late to have prevented an accident had my horse been traveling at one-half the rate of speed at which he was going. I say one-half, and use the word advisedly, for a horse and carriage would not be allowed to speed within the city limits at the rate the motormen of these vehicles, which are for hire, arrogate to themselves. A few days ago I was walking on King in the neighborhood of the Castle Memorial Home, when one of these machines steamed by as though shot out of a cannon. Every person on the street in that vicinity stopped and gazed at it.

I have no complaint to make against automobiles or locomobiles in themselves. I am glad they are here, and hope in time the manufacturers will have so perfected these modern horseless carriages that they will be as common on the street as the horse carsuit the duties he performed as the representative of the Queen. Think of what this strain alone was! He was a man of no ease and we were assured that his time for two years ahead was booked. What with receiving distinguished foreigners, potentates and diplomats, opening fairs, hospitals, schools and docks, speaking at this and that, and attending charities, political meetings, routs, balls and other gatherings, he had no spare time, and none of that freedom from care and responsibility which keeps a man from feeling his age.

"So I say that I was struck with the conviction he would fall in health suddenly when the weight of the crown was thrust upon him. Only three or four days ago I remarked this to Allan Herbert, with whom I was talking. He had more confidence in the King's strength, and when I spoke to Dr. S. D. G. Walters on the same subject, he took small stock in my ominous feelings. Then the next day came the public announcement that the King had been stricken. My premonitions were unfortunately too completely verified." FREDERICK O'BRIEN.
