RACE WAR ON MAUI

Japs and Chinese In a Riot at Paia.

Harvest Home Festival Was a Brilliant Success.

New Matron for Maunaloa Seminary—Stock in Liquor and Telephone Companies.

MAUI, August 8.—Last Sunday, the 2nd, there was a small riot in the Chinese camp of Paia plantation.

A quiet game of "pai kau" (dominoes) was in progress between some Chinese and Japanese, when during a dispute, a Chinese hit a Japanese over the head with an iron coupling pin, cutting him quite badly.

On Friday, the 7th, before Magistrate Copp of Makawao, two of the five Chinese pleaded guilty of gambling and were fined $10 each, two were acquitted of the same charge, and the other one was found guilty and was fined $25 and costs.

Two of the Chinese and one Japanese pleaded guilty of taking part in the affray and were fined $5 each and costs.

HARVEST HOME FESTIVAL.

The Harvest Home celebration at Puunene mill last Saturday night was a brilliant success. It was one of the best and largest dancing parties ever given on the island,—recalling the Annexation ball in the Wailuku skating rink and the reception to Queen Liliuokalani in the Wailuku court house.

From a distance, as the crowded trains from the different villages of Central Maui approached it, the tall, massive mill structure with its myriad of electric lights blazing through numberless windows, resembled some illuminated winter palace in far away Canada.

But the transformation of the interior was the most surprising thing. Some kahuna from fairy-land must have used his magic art for the huge mud-press room had completely vanished and in its place was a beautiful ball-room, ablaze with lights, aglow with many colors, and peopled—not by the usual grimy denizens of a sugar mill, but by fair women in elegant gowns and gentlemen in evening attire.

From high crossbeams hung a multitude of signal flags of many colors and designs, between which in festoons were ropes of greens in pretty contrast, and everywhere amid ferns and bunting, hundreds of electric lights—some colored, some and glittered, adding much to the brilliancy of the scene.

The walls of this spacious rectangular hall were adorned with the flags of all nations and conspicuous upon one of them was an exquisite center-piece of bright red geraniums, bearing the legend "1903—37000," which interpreted, is the record of the mill's grinding for the past season, as well as the reason for the evening's festivity.

Then the kahuna's power must also have touched the vacuum pan room, for in its stead, high up under the vaulted roof was a pretty supper-room in green and white—a veritable bower formed by a lanai-frame-work covered with palm branches, under which from long, white tables, ice cream and cake, punch, lemonade, and other light refreshments were lavishly served.

At 8:30 began the grand march and circle, led by Mr. H. P. Baldwin, manager of the Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar Co., and Mrs. J. N. S. Williams, the wife of the chief engineer of Puunene, and participated in by the three or four hundred dancers present.

Berger's band stationed in a gallery raised above the dancing floor discoursed sweetest music, the strains of which will linger long in the memories of the Mauiites.

At midnight after the two "extras" had been finished the band for a finale played the usual "Aloha Oe," "Hawaii Pono!" and "Star Spangled Banner," and the crowd listened attentively, sang "Aloha Oe" with the band, and last of all cheered. Thus ended a most enjoyable occasion, for which the officers of the Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar Co. and all the committees in charge should be heartily congratulated for surely they fulfilled their desire in making the event an epoch in Maui's social history.

WANT TO SELL LIQUOR.

The prospective shareholders of the Maui Wine and Liquor Association (or company) held a meeting on the 2nd and elected the following officers: W. T. Robinson, president; G. B. Schrader, vice-president; Henry Streubeck, treasurer; J. Garcia, secretary, and G. B.

Robertson, J. H. Raymond, J. J. Walsh and C. Hansen, directors. One hundred and fifty shares at $100 each have been subscribed for, in fact instead of the $15,000 capital asked for, $18,000 was offered. A premium of $25 per share can be now obtained at least for a few shares, so it is reported.

STRAY NOTES. On the afternoon of August 2nd, at Wells Park, the Morning Stars beat the Lahalnas at baseball, 15 to 9. For three innings the Lahaina boys played good ball and held their opponents in check, but then as has been their custom of late, they collapsed and were easy victims.

Some young men of Paia and Makawao went on a hunting trip to Lake Waiapanapa on the Koolau side of Haleakala on Monday of this week and returned on Saturday. They had excellent sport and shot many goats in the crater and out. In the party were D. T. Fleming, G. S. Aiken, A. McNichol, Sam. Baldwin and J. Robertson.

By the Claudine of Wednesday, Prof. Geo. Rebec of Michigan University arrived on Maui and is the guest of W. D. Lowell of Paia. Prof. Rebec and Mr. Lowell departed for the crater of Haleakala this morning.

At Kahului the schr. Sehome has discharged her cargo of coal and will clear for Astoria today.

D. B. Murdoch, formerly bookkeeper at Ewa plantation, entered upon his duties as auditor for the Alexander & Baldwin corporations on Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Murdoch are living in the pretty residence just mauka of the Paia Foreign church.

Miss Hart of Punahou Preparatory department is visiting Mrs. W. O. Aiken of Puuomalei, Makawao.

Mrs. Freeth and Miss MacGoun of Honolulu are at Erewhon Cattle Station, Kula.

Yesterday afternoon, the 7th, the Ladies' Reading Club met at the home of Mrs. George Wilbur, of Kalaheo, twenty were present. Selections from "Lovey Mary" were read.

Miss K. L. Snow of Virginia is the new matron at Maunaloa Seminary.

By the steamer of Thursday night, Messrs. W. C. Crook, L. P. Crook and Wm. Mann hurriedly departed for Honolulu having received news of a serious accident to Sylvia Crook who had been thrown and rolled on by a horse.

Weather: Warm, sultry, cessation of trade winds. Few showers during first of the week.

WIRELESS WITHOUT THE USE OF POLES

CHICAGO, July 31.—A new system of wireless telegraphy has just been put to a successful long-distance test on Lake Michigan. While Mrs. Emily Piggott, mother of the youthful inventor of this new system, ticked prearranged messages from her home in Garfield avenue, Chicago, the son, G. S. Piggott, stood with his father, S. Piggott, on the main deck of the whaleback Christopher Columbus and received the messages ticked out by his mother's hand.

In this new system, which the Piggotts hope to make commercially practicable, there is no pole at either the receiving or the sending station, and although in yesterday's tests the receiver was exposed on the deck of the vessel, the transmitter was in the room of a house. An intensifier makes the poles unnecessary. To prevent the interference of foreign currents, each instrument is "timed" to respond only to a current of a certain rapidity of alternation.

CHINESE HAD TO RETURN THE BABY

An amusing and characteristic incident of oriental type occurred on Maui, last week. A Japanese woman in Kula deserted her husband and infant child and the husband, not feeling able to cope with his increased parental duties, sold the babe for $30 to a neighboring Chinaman and his wife who had taken a fancy to the little tot. The deserting wife, learning that the babe had been disposed of, summoned the assistance of a number of her countrymen who went to Makena and found the husband just as he was on the point of embarking for Hawaii. He was compelled to return to Kula and tell what he had done with the baby. The party then accompanied him to the home of the Chinese where he was compelled to refund the purchase price of the child who was restored to its rightful mother, to the tearful regret of its new parents.—Maui News.

News Also Asks Credit.

The Advertiser justly claims credit for the long, single-handed fight which it has made in behalf of diversified farming, but evidently the Advertiser regards the efforts of the Maui News in this direction as nit, because ever since the News appeared in February, 1900, it has made one steady, continuous fight for small and diversified industries. It is true though, that the utterances of the Advertiser, as compared with those of News, have been like thunder of a cannon as contrasted with the puff of a pop-gun. However the News has kept steadily popping away, and instead of feeling jealous of the good work accomplished by the Advertiser in this direction, it lifts its hat in respectful admiration for what has been accomplished by its big neighbor. Nothing that the Advertiser has ever done has been of more benefit to the Islands than its advocacy of small farming, and may it continue its good work until our Islands are filled with thrifty and industrious small farmers.—Maui News.

The Maui News says:

On Wednesday's Claudine, Racine Murphy and Cyclone, two of Honolulu's fastest horses arrived and also Faro Bank, a noted goer. Lemps, Denny Healy, McKinley, Maui Rose, Jennie S, and Yokohama will represent Maui, and some of the fastest going will be witnessed on the 12th which has marked the history of the track for some years. D. H. Davis is handling Cyclone and McAuliffe is in charge of Racine Murphy and Faro Bank. The free-for-all trot for a purse of $450, in which Cyclone, Lemps and Faro Bank should start will be a great race. It will be more difficult to find competitors for Racine Murphy, but an effort will be made to make him run for his money.

The 2:30 trotting race should be a closely contested one, between Denny Healy and McKinley. There are also several good running races on the cards so that a rare day's sport will be witnessed.

Berger's band will arrive either on the Claudine at Maalaea Bay on Tuesday evening, or on Wednesday morning's Maui, and will remain till Thursday afternoon, unless the citizens provide for them remain over till Saturday and return on the Lehua from Maalaea Bay.

Owing to the fact that the Wilder Steamship Co. refused to reduce rates for the Elks' team of ball players, Cunha wrote that they are compelled to decline the liberal offer of the Maui Athletic Association to come over and play ball on race day.

NEWS NOTES FROM LAHAINA TOWN

Preparations are being made for the removal of the Wireless Telegraph Station to the point of land at Uuunoo, near the wreck of the steamer Kilo-hana. It is said that the new pole will be 200 feet in height, so that messages can be easily received from Honolulu direct. As the old pole is only 80 feet high, the superiority of the new arrangement will be seen at a glance.

The new wireless Telegraph pole consists of three sections; and according to the latest accounts, the entire height will be 216 feet. It is expected that the pole will be completed this week. The raising of the longest section of the pole was a difficult matter. It is 110 feet long. It was lashed to the side of the gasoline schooner Eclipse, and was thus transported from Honolulu to Lahaina.

It has been suggested that a wharf might be constructed at this point with comparatively little expense; as deep water is found only a short distance of the shoal.

The dedication of the Chinese Joss house did not take place according to announcement on Monday, as the preparations were not entirely completed on that day.

Mrs. S. D. Heapy was entertained last week at the homes of Mr. F. H. Hayselden and Mrs. W. Y. Horner. Mrs. Heapy has been appointed superintendent of a public institution in Honolulu.

A fine dramatic performance will soon be given, for the benefit of the Roman Catholic school.

The Hawaiian band came ashore on Friday evening last week, and gave a short concert in the Court house Park.

BALDNESS

is the result of a diseased scalp. Nine times out of ten it is dandruff. At first the hair falls very little, but gradually continues until one spot is bald, then follows baldness.

Pacheco's Dandruff Killer

applied at the beginning would have saved the hair, by cleansing the scalp, removing the dandruff, keeping the scalp in a healthy state, and the hair firm at the roots. A few days use will prove its virtue.
