SETTLED A WONG WAR

Judge Lindsay settled a Wong war in the police court in short order yesterday by fining one of the Wong clan $10 for assault and battery on a Kong man and committing another Wong to the Circuit Court for trial on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. The Wong and Kong clans make up the Wong Leung Too Society, a Chinese organization, and internal strife in the society had brought on the trouble. A couple of weeks ago there was a row at a meeting of the society in its clubhouse in Liliha street. The Wongs wished to sell the Liliha street property and purchase another place which is farther from the center of the city. The Kongs objected. Several meetings were held between the belligerents. Finally an open rupture resulted. The Wongs decided to secure a decision regarding the issue by fighting. They were alleged to have attacked the Kongs in the clubhouse. The fight lasted for some time. One man had a rib fractured and the whole crowd were marked up in one way or another.

Warrants were secured by the Kongs for the arrest of Wong Tuck and Wong Kun, the only fighters who could be identified. Wong Tuck was fined ten dollars. His companion must face trial in the Circuit Court. The trial of Alfred Kane, the police officer charged with being unlawfully on the premises of another at night, was, on motion of the prosecution, postponed until Feb. 23. The following were fined three dollars and costs each for drunkenness: Kuaial, J. W. Bell, Brown, H. A. Chamber, and A. J. Capela.
