Vogelssang Makes Records.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Lieutenant Vogelssang, who commanded the turret on the battle-ship Wisconsin, which attained the highest merit of any 12 or 13 inch electrical turret, winning the prize for that class of turret in the last annual target practice, has been commended by the Navy Department for the zeal and ability displayed as turret officer.

BUZZING FLY.

"One of the greatest heroes that I ever heard of was a fly." The speaker was a traveling man and his listeners were traveling men. "Oh, let's not develop this sitting in to a liar's session. The story that I told was the truth," said one of the group. "This fly story is truth," went on the first traveling man. "I know that this fly was a hero and a genuine hero. One of the modest kind that didn't wait for a reward."

"Well, that is indeed remarkable in a hero." "Yes, I was sitting in a Northwestern coach one Saturday night. I had been out to the track that afternoon and won about $2,000. I had it safely stored in the inside pocket of my coat. I was sleepy and was just dozing off when that hero came along. Well, he danced up one side of my face and when I swiped he flew away. Then he danced on the other side of my face and when I swiped again he flew away again. Then he tackled my ear and jumped up and down like fury. I was thoroughly awake by that time, and when I arose what do you suppose I saw?"

"The fly flying away?" "Not at all. There was a man in the aisle and he was reaching for that wad on the inside of my coat. A minute more and he would have had the money. Of course he ran when he saw that the fly had given the alarm, and when I returned from the chase I looked for the fly." "And didn't find him?" "I said he was a sure enough hero. Of course I didn't find him. He had done a heroic act, but he was too modest to wait and receive the applause of the galleries. He flew away."—Chicago Chronicle.

BETTER NOT TO KNOW.

It was their first meal at a Chinese restaurant. "George," asked Mrs. Ferguson, "what is chop suey made of?" "Well, it's a mixture of several things," said Mr. Ferguson, evasively. "Isn't the ornamentation of this room the queerest thing you ever saw?"—Chicago Tribune.
