AN EVENING OF MYSTERY

Zamloch Entertains an Enthusiastic House.

After an absence of over two months Zamloch, the wonder-worker, has returned to Honolulu from a tour of the other islands and is giving a series of three entertainments at the Orpheum. His program last night was certainly superior to any of his previous ones and he amply demonstrated that he is a master of the black art. On account of the bad weather and other attractions the audience was not what the performance merited but what it lacked in numbers it made up in enthusiasm and the various tricks were applauded with a heartiness that is seldom seen in Honolulu audiences.

Zamloch is an accomplished and versatile magician and his tricks are difficult ones so that he kept his audience guessing all the time. Several of the wise ones who are always present to doubt and try to expose the trick got the tables turned on them last night. At one time when an orange was to disappear from beneath a cone as Zamloch placed the cone he made a pass with his hand as if to take the orange and put it under his coat. Several persons were quick to shout, "Oh ho, we caught you then," but the magician instantly removed the cone and displayed the orange still in place while the smart ones subsided.

The opening tricks were more simple than those which came later. They consisted of handkerchief experiments, changing wine into water and the pouring of different liquids out of the same pitcher. The star trick of Zamloch's repertoire is one which is not so spectacular as some others but which successfully baffles all explanations that have been put upon it. It is the one in which a disk having a knob on one side is placed upon a table and made to answer questions by tapping on the table top with its edge. While this disk was answering questions from its station in the aisle of the theater a borrowed hat was answering other questions by jumping up and down on a tray placed on a chair on the stage and a clock hand was answering still others by moving to certain figures. During all this Zamloch himself was standing on the floor of the house where it seemed absolutely impossible that he was connected with any of the objects in any way.

Free access was granted to the audience to most of the apparatus so that Zamloch proved himself a first-class prestidigitator. Trick followed trick in bewildering succession. Yards of ribbon, bushels of playing cards, socks and finally three bird cages and two birds were extracted from a borrowed hat; a wand was made to remain suspended in the air without visible support and two men were allowed to drink port wine from a bottle which produced between each glass, ribbons, of various shades, cigars and as a climax flags of all nations. The Japanese, Hawaiian and American ensigns were enthusiastically cheered by the audience.

The first part of the program concluded with the production of hot coffee, sugar and cream from torn bits of red and white paper. "The cream," Zamloch explained, "is real thick cream like that served at the hotel where I broke a spoon this morning trying to stir mine." This sally brought out considerable laughter and applause which was heartily joined in by a party, evidently from that popular hostelry, which occupied front seats. The performance closed with "Aga," the lady who is raised out of her coffin and floats in the air, moving at the magician's will, yet without visible support.

There will be only two more chances to see Zamloch's performances. There will be a matinee Saturday afternoon at which the program will be specially adapted to ladies and children. Saturday evening the program will be a double one, being given in three parts.

SAVED FROM A BUCK.

Son of Brewer Busch Has a Narrow Escape.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 31.—With his eldest son, Gussie, lying prostrate on the ground and an infuriated wild buck deer standing over him ready to paw him to death, Adolphus Busch, the multi-millionaire brewer, fearlessly attacked the big deer, and, using a heavy rifle as a club, with a powerful blow stunned the enraged animal temporarily. This gave Augustus Busch time to extricate himself from the perilous position, seize another rifle and dispatch the animal.

Gussie Busch placed himself in a dangerous position while going to the rescue of his young friend, Master Frank Parriso, 15 years old, whom the buck had first attacked. The deer charged upon the boy, lowered his shaggy head and lifted him on his long and spreading antlers and had started to run through the woods with him. The terrific fight took place on the farm formerly owned by General U. S. Grant near Old Orchard, in St. Louis County, yesterday afternoon. Adolphus Busch and his son, "Gussie" Busch, had invited a party of thirty or more friends down to the farm. Nearly two years ago they had acquired ownership of the historic property and had converted it into a large game preserve. The farm is about 250 acres in extent, and it is stocked with nearly fifty wild deer collected from various States in the Union.

POLICE COURT HAPPENINGS

Although there were twenty-four on yesterday's police calendar, little money was taken in. The libel cases of Notley, Nakookoo and Umauma were postponed until next Thursday as their attorney, J. J. Dunne, was not able to be present. The case of Meekapu, charged with stealing oil lumber from a neighbor, comes up this morning. Five water rats paid $3 each for being present while a crap game was going. Three Chinamen, out Pawa way, were caught playing che fa, night before last and had to pay $10 each. The six Porto Ricans, arrested night before last on the charge of vagrancy, got a month each on the reef. One of them was the fellow arrested last Saturday for blackening his wife's eye, subpoenas are out for the bookkeepers and business managers of the Bulletin, Star and Advertiser to appear before the grand jury at ten this morning. It is in connection with the case of Harry Mossman.

During the day Ah See was arrested for having che fa tickets in his possession and Ah Sin, was caught playing that game a couple of hours after. Nabouchi was arrested for vagrancy. He has been up on that charge five or six times and only got out of jail about ten days ago. Fufafarto was arrested for investigation. It is claimed that he swindled a friend out of $600. The only drunk of the evening was Anchraki who was arrested late.

WHAT THIS MAN SAYS

Only Echoes the Sentiment of Thousands in Our Republic.

The Honolulu reader is asked to thoroughly investigate the following. This can readily be done as the gentleman whose statement is published below will be only too pleased to give minute particulars to anyone enquiring not out of idle curiosity but if the enquirer really suffers from any of the consequences which always attend weakened or inactive kidneys. Read carefully what this gentleman has to say:

Mr. J. D. Conn, of this city, is a carpenter by trade, and is employed at the Oahu railroad. "I was troubled," says Mr. Conn, "with an aching back. The attacks occurred periodically for years, and especially if I happened to catch cold. There were also other symptoms which plainly showed that my kidneys were out of order. A short time ago, I heard about Doan's Backache Kidney Pills and the wonderful things they were doing.

Proceeding, then, to Hollister & Co's drug store, I obtained some of these. Since taking these pills there is a great improvement in me. I always keep some of the pills on hand now so as to be provided for any contingency. I feel sure if anyone troubled as I was should give Doan's Backache Kidney Pills a fair trial they will not fail to be benefited by them."

Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are sold by all druggists and storekeepers at 50 cents per box $2.50 or will be mailed on receipt of price by the Hollister Drug Co., Honolulu, wholesale agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitute.

FOUND A FORTUNE.

Carpenter Discovers Hiding Place of Treasure.

SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 31.—A can containing amalgam valued at $10,000 recently stolen from the Cyrus Noble mine, in the Searchlight district, was found in a woodpile near the mine today. The can was accidentally found by a carpenter who was making some repairs, and he, amazed at its weight, took it to an assayer, who soon found out what it was. The name of the thief is known, but the company refuses to divulge it.

It has been discovered that soon after the disappearance of the amalgam the thief gave a small piece of the composition to one of the laborers at the mine, disappearing shortly afterward.

After the finding of the can a guard was placed over the wood-pile, but up to tonight the fellow had not appeared to take away his plunder. The authorities are looking for him and express the belief that he will soon be apprehended and that they will have no trouble making out a case against him.

A SURE CURE FOR CROUP.—The first indication of croup is hoarseness, and in a child subject to that disease it may be taken as a sure sign of the approach of an attack. Following this hoarseness is a peculiar rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, it will prevent the attack. It is used in many thousands of homes in this broad land and never disappoints the anxious mothers. We have yet to learn of a single instance in which it has not proved effectual. No other preparation can show such a record—over thirty years' constant use without a failure. For sale by all dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., agents for Hawaii.

GROCERS' NOTICE.

In accordance with our desire to give our customers the best possible service at the lowest prices, we have decided to discontinue the practice of allowing a discount of 5 per cent on retail monthly bills, and therefore give notice that on and after the 1st of November, 1904, no discount whatsoever will be allowed on any groceries sold in our stores. All groceries will be sold at net prices, on a basis of spot cash or thirty days' settlement, and there will be no exception made to this rule. Purchases made in our retail departments up to the 1st of November will, of course, be subject to the 5 per cent discount as heretofore. The discount question has frequently been the cause of disputes and dissatisfaction and we believe this arrangement will improve our relations with our patrons, while it will at the same time enable us to more adequately meet the keen competition prevailing in our line of business, and to give our customers the benefit of the closest prices.
