WIDE TIRE ACT HURTS Not Liked a Bit By the Maui People.

Saloons Being Frozen Out In Different Villages.
Wells' Park Lease for Baseball Expired—Large Pineapple Crop.

MAUI, Nov. 26.—Thanksgiving Day was passed quietly on Maui. The various plantations allowed no holiday, so there was no celebration in the way of sports. Family dinners alone marked the day.

AN UNPOPULAR LAW.
Among several obsolete laws to be enforced on Maui is the so-called "wide-tire act." The tires of all wagons must be 1 1/2 times the diameter of the axle, and the hind wheels must not run in the same track as the front ones. The three-year time limit for changing the running gear of wagons expired three years ago and Sheriff Baldwin has ordered his deputies to enforce the regulation. This law is most unpopular among the owners of carts and wagons. They state that the expense to be incurred by the change will be excessive, and that wide-tired wagons on narrow roads are always slipping into the gutters. As to cutting up the roads with narrow tires they say that they are willing to pay an additional tax of $2 per cart annually to keep public thoroughfares in repair.

SALOON DEPRESSION.
The saloon on Maui as an institution seems to have been losing its popularity recently. In Lahaina the only licensed place for the retail sale of liquors is the Pioneer Hotel, where formerly, in addition to the hotel, licenses to sell intoxicating beverages were held and used by Matt McCann, John Richardson and Wm. White. In Hana the only saloon has recently been closed. In Kula the license of its only liquor dispensary has been allowed to run out, and has not been renewed.
In Waikuku there is no apparent diminution in the retail liquor trade and the rivalry between "The Aloha" and "Borbas's" is as keen as ever.
Why Maui saloons are being closed is a question for the sociologist.

BASEBALLISTS WORRIED.
Baseball enthusiasts are wondering what the police department will do concerning Sunday baseball games. At the present time the baseball season is over. It is probable that league baseball games on Maui will in the future be said Lord Chatham, "is a plant of slow growth." People believe in things that they see, and in a broad sense they are right. What is sometimes called blind faith is not faith at all. There must be reason and fact to form a foundation for trust. In regard to a medicine or remedy, for example, people ask, "Has it cured others? Have cases like mine been relieved by it? Is it in harmony with the truths of modern science, and has it a record above suspicion? If so, it is worthy of confidence; and if I am ever attacked by any of the maladies for which it is commended I shall resort to it in full belief in its power to help me." On these lines WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION has won its high reputation among medical men, and the people of all civilized countries. They trust it for the same reason that they trust in the familiar laws of nature or in the action of common things. This effective remedy is palatable as honey and contains the nutritive and curative properties of Pure Cod Liver Oil, extracted by us from fresh cod livers, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites and the Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry. It quickly eradicates the poisonous, disease-breeding acids and other toxic matters from the system; regulates and promotes the normal action of the organs, gives vigorous appetite and digestion, and is infallible in Prostration—following Fevers, etc., Scrofula, Influenza, Asthma, Wasting Diseases, Throat and Lung Troubles, etc. Dr. W. A. Young, of Canada, says: "Your tasteless preparation of cod liver oil has given me uniformly satisfactory results, my patients having been of all ages." It is a product of the skill and science of to-day and is successful after the old style modes of treatment have been appealed to in vain. Sold by all chemists.

played on the Kahului polo grounds instead of Wells' Park as in the past. It seems that on the 10th of the present month the four years' lease (a verbal one) of the Waikuku grounds known as Wells' Park expired and that Manager C. B. Wells of the Waikuku plantation will not consent to renew it. However, no authoritative action has yet been taken by the Waikuku Athletic Association, which doubtless will endeavor to induce Mr. Wells to reconsider his decision.

JAPANESE PATRIOTISM.
The present war has aroused Japanese patriotism to a high pitch. At all the Japanese laborers' camps throughout Central Maui tall flag-poles have been erected and braced up with wire guys. From these masts large flags with white field and red disc in center are often seen floating in the breeze.
Every Saturday from Kahului a number of Japanese reserves depart in the Claudine for Honolulu and Japan. They come in from plantation camps in a wagon decorated with four or five large Japanese flags mounted on bamboo poles. Surrounding the wagon there is always an escort of fifteen or twenty friends on horseback.

GOOD MAN LEAVES.
George H. Baldwin, who has been a well-known resident of Hamakua for the past five or six years and who was the engineer who recently completed the construction of the Hamakua extension ditch, has permanently removed from Maui and will engage in business in Berkeley, California. He will be much missed by his Makawao friends.

THE PINEAPPLE CROP.
The estimated pineapple crop at Hailuku from both plantation and lands belonging to the Fruit and Packing Co. for 1905-1906 is 200,000 pines. The company found no difficulty in disposing of the fruit packed in tins by it during the past season—in fact people at the Coast stated that they would take all that the Hailuku company would ship them.
The H. F. & P. Co. is now busy planting out pines.

NOTES.
The Republican district committee has notified the different precinct clubs to hold meetings for the purpose of making recommendations to the Maui delegation to the legislature of 1905.
Manager James Kirkland of the Kahului store is expected to return from California today. He went to the Coast to select a large stock of Christmas goods.
Matt McCann, the Lahaina hotel keeper, is at the Coast.
On Wednesday Maunaloa Seminary closed until after the holidays.
A new one-room school house is soon to be constructed at Peahi. The people residing in that vicinity will appreciate a new building, which is much needed.

Miss Clara Wight returned to Kohala by the steamer Kinau. She has been visiting Mrs. L. von Tempsky of Makawao.

G. S. Aiken, acting as "temporary deputy port collector" at Kahului in the absence of his brother, W. O. Aiken, on Kauai.

The steamer Nevada arrived in Kahului from Honolulu early Friday morning and will depart on Monday or Tuesday of next week.
Last Sunday a steamer landed fifty Japanese laborers at Kahului for East Maui plantations.
The Ladies' Reading Club met at Mrs. S. E. Taylor's at Hamakua on Friday afternoon.
Weather: Extremely cold the latter part of the week.

ITEMS FROM MAUI OF THE PAST WEEK

The following paragraphs are from the Maui News of Saturday:
Some of the material for finishing the front and side steps of the new schoolhouse arrived on Thursday evening's Nevada, and it is now thought that the building will not be occupied until after the Christmas vacation.
The auto in various forms has made its appearance on Maui, and notwithstanding preliminary mishaps, it is destined to put the livery stables out of commission before many years, as well as to stimulate good roads on Maui.

The report is current in Honolulu that Attorney John Richardson is to start a Democratic paper in Waikuku shortly. Please start it at Lahaina, John; we fight better at long range.
Turkey was very scarce for Thanksgiving dinner on Maui this year, which is another strong appeal for the small farmer. There is good money in a successful poultry farm on central Maui.
Unpaid taxes are now delinquent, and it is thought at present that there will be an unusually long delinquent list on Maui.

Within the next week or two all the mills on Maui will start on the coming season's run, with a prospect of five cent sugar.

COULD HARDLY HAVE BEEN ONE

A man, while wandering in the village cemetery, saw a monument and read with surprise the inscription on it:
"A Lawyer and an Honest Man."
The man scratched his head and looked at the monument again. He read the inscription over and over, then he walked all around the monument and examined the grave closely. Another man in the cemetery approached and asked him:
"Have you found the grave of an old friend?"
"No," said the first man, "but I was wondering how they came to bury those two fellows in one grave."

ISLANDS OF VOLCANOES

Visitor Tells of Some In Sumatra and Java.

L. Hundeshagen, a Hollander, residing at Loeboc, Sikaping, Sumatra, arrived on the Gaelic and is a guest at the Hawaiian Hotel. It was the intention of Mr. Hundeshagen to visit the volcano, but owing to a lack of time he is compelled to forego this pleasure.

The visitor is from a group of islands which fairly bristle with volcanoes. On Java he says there are a score or more craters, many active to a certain extent. On Sumatra there are a large number of volcanoes, several being wreathed in smoke nearly all the year. Some have never been visited or explored by white men.

Mr. Hundeshagen anticipated exploring the one which has attracted the most attention and of which absolutely nothing is known, but owing to the length of time it would take to make the round trip, which would have interfered with his duties as a mining engineer, he gave up the project. After leaving the coast Mr. Hundeshagen calculates it would take about two weeks to make the ascent and nearly the same amount of time would be required to return. The great difficulty lies in cutting through jungles and afterward getting into a region of extreme cold.

"On Sumatra there is also considerable gold and copper mining," said Mr. Hundeshagen. "What is needed is more outside capital. If American capital were invested there, the returns, I am sure, would be great. The people there make no exertion to work the mines up to what they should. That gold has long been known to be in Sumatra lies in the fact, or tradition, that Chinese worked the deposits hundreds of years ago."

MOTHER AND CHILD

Scott's Emulsion is cod liver oil made almost as palatable as milk. It is easy and soothing to the weak stomach; it checks the tendencies of children toward thinness.
Scott's Emulsion gives strength to weak mothers because it creates healthy flesh and new blood.

Nursing mothers will find a special value in Scott's Emulsion because it insures a flow of rich, nourishing milk for the baby. More and better than a medicine; Scott's Emulsion is a food.

Scott's Emulsion is not a mere extract, containing imaginary "active principles" which do not exist, but is full of actual nourishment which sustains vital force and builds up the body tissues more rapidly than any other known remedy.
