SWELL IRON BEDS.

The steamer Hawaiian brought us a big shipment of beds—all the way from the manufacturers in Chicago. Some are all brass, and some colored with heavy brass trimmings. These are high class beds, similar to the iron beds seen in the swell suites of the hotels. They are much superior to the iron beds usually sold here.

We have fine beds in the Vernis Martin finish. Cribs, with high sides, and all brass.

DINING ROOM RUCS.

By the Alameda we received a large shipment of grass rugs. They are of all sizes, all colors, and of many figured designs. We got them in such quantity and at a price that will permit them to be sold low. They are just the thing for the dining room or den, are artistic, and, although cheap as regards price, are not cheap in appearance.

WIRE MATTRESSES.

This climate rusts some kinds of wire mattresses. Then the rusty wires spoil the ticking of your nice mattresses. New wire springs are inexpensive and save you lots of trouble. We sell a number of different makes and as we put them together in our own workshops we can guarantee that they will not warp our break up easily.

LANAI FURNITURE.

Warm weather is approaching. Are your lanai rockers weather-worn and useless. We have a nice line of these.

LARGEST DREDGER WEST OF MISSISSIPPI FOR HARBOR

Lord & Belser are Having Great Scow Built at Oahu Ry. Yards--Monster Stick of Wood for Scoop.

Lord & Belser, the dredging contractors for the new Alakea street slip in Honolulu harbor, will construct this spring the largest dredger west of the Mississippi River.

On the steamer Nevada the contractors received a stick of wood, thirty-six inches square, fifty-two feet long, and weighing twelve tons. On the next incoming trip of the Nevada from San Francisco two similar sticks of wood will be received. One of these will be used as the handle to the gigantic steel scoop and the other two will be held in reserve in case of an accident. The stick is a monster and is said to be the largest ever brought to Honolulu.

The scow for the dredger is now being constructed at the railroad yards by John Hughes of the Oahu Railroad, and, when launched, it will be seen to be of massive build throughout. The contractors are putting 150,000 feet of lumber into the scow.

A shipment of machinery will also be made shortly from Marion, Ohio, to be erected on the scow.

GREAT CROWD WATCHES FLAG BEDECKED BOATS MANEUVER AT WAIKIKI

The surf-boat meet at Waikiki Beach yesterday afternoon brought to the sandy shores at the Hawaiian Hotel Annex and the Moana Hotel a great throng of people, who spent an enjoyable afternoon under the shade of the trees at both hostleries, watching the maneuvers of the native canoes and the bathers and listening to the melodies which floated over the water. There may not have been very much to the surf-boat fiesta side of the entertainment, but the motive served to draw to the beach hundreds of people, and the mere fact that they came and sat along the sandy shore was an outing in itself, such an outing that aids the social side of Honolulu life.

At the end of the Moana pier the Hawaiian Government Band under the direction of Kapellmeister Berger, played from 3:30 to 5:30 o'clock and the inspiring music, now a quick-step, now a creamy waltz and again a ragtime, caused the majority to keep time with their feet, heads and hands. The lawns fronting on the Annex property were filled with people, mostly of the feminine gender. Children were present en masse, and to them it was a great holiday. They played in the sand, tumbled into the water, built frail castles which were ruthlessly swept away by the inrush of the surf. There was life from one part of the beach to the other.

Unfortunately Father Neptune seemed to be taking a nap, for the sea was placid, almost mill-pond, and the surf-boat enthusiasts had to search for billows on which to race toward the shore. But the surf-boats had plenty of fun. One great canoe was filled with young people who wore red carnation leis. The prow of their boat was resplendent with flags. Another bore an American flag. There were canoe races, sometimes half a dozen being in line on the same billow. One of the most interesting features of the day was the surf-board riding of some young men who came in on their boards standing upright.

There was one thing which for a time threatened to mar the afternoon's sport. A lawyer astride a horse rode into the surf and rounded the Moana pier, with bad results to the animal which could barely keep its nostrils above the water. The rider's actions caused Deputy Sheriff Rawlins and Lieut. Leslie to order him out and off the beach. The rider went into the water in his street suit.

During the afternoon a soldier who was in swimming had a narrow escape from drowning. He was seized with cramps when beyond his depth and went down. A near-by bather caught him and carried him ashore. He was unconscious for some time, but later recovered sufficiently to go home.

ENGINEERS IN SESSION

Elect Officers and Have a Good Time Last Night.

The wizards who compile building specifications, the men who erect buildings from them and those who make and supply the materials, met in annual session last evening, elected officers for the ensuing term, and then adjourned to the Elks' Hall, where they enjoyed a smoker.

The Honolulu Engineering Association showed by its numbers present that it is a growing and well organized institution, the reports for the year indicating a healthy condition of affairs. At the business meeting held in the Symphony Society's rooms, Vice-Chairman Howland presided, and the following officers were elected:

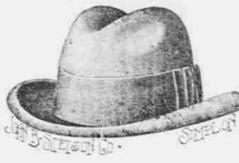

A. Gartley, chairman; J. H. Howland, vice-chairman; E. G. Keen, secretary; J. H. Peters, treasurer. The directors were chosen as follows: E. Kopke, R. J. Pratt and G. R. Ewart. The officers and three directors form the directorate.

The following new members were elected to membership: James Cummins, E. J. Chapin, J. G. Croft, A. H.

Gunderson, J. W. Waldron, C. V. E. Dove, W. E. Wall, A. R. Gurrey, Jr.

Shortly after 9 o'clock the festivities in Elks' Hall began. The room was set with tables and cigars and pipe tobacco passed around to the guests. Then came steins of beer, and of these there was a continuous line passed into the hall until the hour of adjournment. F. W. Beardslee was the master of ceremonies, introducing those upon the program with short and spicy small talks.

The entertainment was opened with music by Rosen's Hungarian Orchestra, a musical organization which bids fair to become one of the most prominent in the city. Then J. F. Dick ("Tam O'Shanter") gave two recitations which took the house by storm. Stanley Livingston sang a couple of ballads and so did W. H. Hoogs, the Elks' present joining in chorus. F. W. Beardslee told some funny stories, likewise E. M. Boyd. Frank Thompson made a witty speech, telling how he once narrowly escaped being an engineer—that is, a shoveler of coal for a saw-mill engine. Isaac Dillingham, Jack Howland, Clarence Waterman and Hugo Herzer contributed to the musical portion of the program, while Mr. Cutting was the accompanist.
