NO RIGHTS IN FISHERIES

Senator Lane Says Law Conflicts With Organic Act.

From the special committee appointed to consider the bill to protect fishing rights, Senator John Lane Saturday submitted the following minority report:

The undersigned, a member of the committee to whom was referred House Bill No. 129, being "An Act to Protect Vested Fishing Rights," herewith submits findings and recommendations as follows:

"Prior to the establishment of a Territorial form of Government for these Islands, the sea fisheries thereof were in the exclusive possession of private parties and corporations. The policy of rights of this kind being vested in others than the Government is opposed by the traditions and customs of the country to which we have become annexed, and it was for this reason that Congress, in framing the Act for the government of this Territory, made provision therein for the control of such rights in the sea waters of this Territory by the Government, in like manner as the shore line on the mainland is so controlled. Therefore we have, in sections 95 and 96 of the Organic Act, the edict of the Congress of the United States. Section 95 opens with the declaration—'That all laws of the Republic of Hawaii which confer exclusive fishing rights upon any person or persons are hereby repealed.' Section 96 provides the method of procedure for those having had such rights, to establish their claims, and directs the manner in which 'The Attorney General of the Territory of Hawaii may proceed'—in the manner 'Provided by law for condemnation of property for public use, to condemn such private right of fishing to the use of the citizens of the United States' * * * 'which compensation, when lawfully ascertained, shall be paid out of any money in the treasury of the Territory of Hawaii not otherwise appropriated.'

"The conclusion must be obvious, from the language used in the last of the above quotations, that Congress never seriously contemplated any very great drain on the Territorial exchequer in the final quieting of these 'claims.' "House Bill No. 129 seeks to nullify the provisions of Section 95 of the Organic Act repealing exclusive rights in sea fisheries, by permitting the control of such fisheries to rest indefinitely with those who have established their 'Claims' pending the arrival of an unappropriated surplus in the Territorial Treasury.

"The object of the bill being thus in direct conflict with the purpose of Congress in framing Sections 95 and 96 of the Organic Act, the undersigned respectfully recommends that said House Bill No. 129 be laid on the table. Respectfully submitted, JOHN LANE.

FORMER HONOLULAN HAS BEEN VERY ILL

The Examiner says of Mrs Dixon, formerly Miss Jones of Honolulu, daughter of Mr. and Mrs Pierre Jones:

It will be with great regret that the many friends of Mrs. A. F. Dixon, both in San Francisco and throughout the service, will learn of her recent severe illness, from which she is only now recovering. Since Commander Dixon's detachment from the Mare Island Navy Yard and assignment to Washington Mrs. Dixon has been staying in San Francisco as the guest of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John A. W. Dixon. Last month, however, Mrs Dixon was obliged to enter Lane's Hospital to undergo an operation, and although now quite convalescent it will be a week or more before she will be able to be moved. As soon as she can leave the hospital Mrs. Dixon will go to Sausalito, where she and her son have taken a house for the summer, and where it is hoped the climate will prove beneficial to her. When Mrs. Dixon's health sufficiently improves she will join Commander Dixon at Washington, D. C., where he is on duty at the Bureau of Steam Engineering. Until last August Commander Dixon was on duty at Mare Island, and during the three years he and Mrs. Dixon were residents of the navy yard their home was ever noted as one of the most hospitable at the station.

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

The ORIGINAL remedy that "kills the Dandruff Germ."

GOING! GOING!! GONE!!!

A WOMAN TO BE PRETTY must have pretty hair. Beautiful locks have a subtle charm, for the poet says, "fair tresses man's imperial race ensnare." The unpoetic and intensely real dandruff microbe makes the hair dull, brittle and lusterless with later dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair. Newbro's Herpicide destroys this enemy of beauty and enables the hair to resume its natural luster and abundance. Almost marvelous results follow the use of Herpicide. An exquisite hair dressing. Overcomes excessive oiliness and makes the hair light and fluffy. No grease or dye. Stops itching instantly. Drug Stores, $1.00. Send 10c. stamps, to HERPICIDE CO., Dept. H, Detroit, Mich., for a sample.
