BIRTHDAY OF METHODIST PASTOR IS CELEBRATED

REV. JOHN W. WADMAN, IN CHARGE OF THE METHODIST WORK IN HAWAII.

The grounds of the Methodist parsonage were ablaze with electric lights Friday night and a big surprise party was tendered Pastor Wadman on the occasion of his birthday. The affair was given by the Ladies' Aid Society, and Mrs. Alexander Lyle was in charge. As an evidence of the esteem and respect in which Mr. Wadman is held by the members of the congregation of the First Methodist Church, he was made the recipient of a gift of $150 in gold. The money was in a beautiful box lined with silk. The presentation was made by Miss Edith Lyle. The ladies of the society desire to express their thanks to those who contributed to their gift.

There was a large attendance at the entertainment and the greatest enthusiasm pervaded the meeting, as was evidenced by the splendid manner in which the program was carried out and the manner in which it was greeted by the audience. Mr. Trent opened the program with a bright and eloquent address, in which he gave many compliments to Pastor Wadman. Miss Florence Cassidy gave an appropriate recitation and Hugh Davis played a violin solo. Miss Edith Lyle accompanied him. Miss Ray Bell gave a recitation in a charming manner and Mrs. Reedy gave a reading. Mr. Anderson of the U. S. S. Bennington played in the most charming manner a violin solo. Miss Lyle playing the accompaniment. Mr. Tosh gave a most eloquent and interesting address and John M. Martin closed the program with one of those characteristic "Martinesque" talks, full of humor, that always delight his audiences.

The members of the Boys' League presented Mr. Wadman with a beautiful Morocco-bound Testament as a token of their esteem. At the close of the program refreshments were served and the guests then had a social time until it was time to go home. Mr. Wadman has been in charge of the Methodist church's work in Hawaii less than a year, but he has made himself popular not only among his own people, but in the community at large, so that many were anxious to say "Aloha" to him on his birthday anniversary.

HIS FIRST DISCOURSE

the oracles of the Most High. Through this nation God spoke to men, by signs and wonders, through the mouths of the prophets, and finally by the gift of His Son, our Saviour. The scripture says that God at sundry times and in divers manners spake in times past unto the fathers by the prophets. So came that dream and stay-ay of angelic messengers in patriarchal time, so the divine tabernacle in the midst of Israel, so the prophetic visions of great and minor prophets, so could the Psalmist say, 'The Lord leadeth as a shepherd, he is as a high tower, my deliverer.'

'The demand that Philip made of Christ was that he should reveal the Father to him. That was exactly the mission of Christ. That was what his whole life was—a revelation of God. Philip had been too dull to recognize it, but Christ was not angry with him or grieved. He had come to proclaim the pardon of God, to interpret Him and to reveal His character. As it is written, 'No man hath seen God at any time; the only begotten Son, who is in the bosom of the Father, he hath revealed Him.' Such was the mission of Christ.

'In contrast to the demand made upon Christ is the demand made upon Philip, the disciple. Christ has revealed the Father to him, now he must reveal Christ to his fellow men. The Greeks had heard of Jesus as His fame had spread abroad. They were not satisfied with the inferior things in life, they had an aspiration to attain the highest and best, so they sought Jesus. Philip had been favored with an opportunity to know Christ and to know the Father with Him. Now it was his duty and privilege to share His blessing with others. Such a privilege has come to many a man in the world's history. It is the duty of us who have the Christ to show Him forth to others who are living without Him. Every heart needs the love of Jesus. Shall we not with tongue and better still, with spirit, bring them to Jesus?'

Stein-Bloch Full Evening Dress Clothes and Dinner Suits

More pains must be put into the making of this black society garb than into any other clothes worn of masculinity (excepting the frock) for, being severely plain and the eye un hypnotized by color and pattern, they positively shout it when botched. The Stein-Bloch tailors make them the year round, and have held hard to high art in their love of their work for many years. Materials, fine undressed worsteds woven especially for this purpose. If you are invited out and haven't the clothes, get into these, silk lined, graceful patrician. It is valuable to know that, the materials of these evening clothes being identical, you can buy the coat and waistcoat you lack to go with the trousers you have, and thereby at light expense be full wardrobe for the social calendar.
