

Pure blood makes the skin clear, smooth, healthy. Impure blood blanches the skin with pimples, sores, boils, eruptions, Mr. G. W. Bartner, Keeletown, Va., tells of the bad condition he was in, and how he was cured by

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"Shortly after leaving college, I was troubled with a skin disease which showed itself first at the ankles. Physicians pronounced it eczema, and treated me for that complaint. The eruption crept slowly up my limbs, and on the body, until it enveloped the whole frame. It gave me infinite trouble, with constant itching, casting off of dry scales, and a watery liquid which would exude from under the scales. I treated it for over three years unsuccessfully, and was unable to check it until I began using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I used three bottles of this medicine, and was completely cured—my skin becoming as smooth and clear as before."

There are many imitation Sarsaparillas. Be sure you get "AYER'S."

PROFESSOR J. E. DUERDEN ON HAWAIIAN ZOOLOGY

Last year Professor J. E. Duerden spent several months in Honolulu, studying and collecting the live corals of Hawaii, under the auspices of the Carnegie Institute. Professor Duerden was then connected with the University of Michigan. He is now located at the Rhodes University College at Grahamstown, Cape Colony.

The June number of "Science," the organ of the American Association for the advancement of science, contains the following pleasant and appreciative notice of the Professor's sojourn in Honolulu:

MARINE ZOOLOGY IN THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS.

To the Editor of Science: At a time when zoologists are making their plans for summer vacation work it seems opportune to direct attention to the advantages offered even in such a distant territory as the Hawaiian Islands. During a visit to the islands last year, under the auspices of the Carnegie Institution, for the purpose of studying the living corals, I was afforded the privileges of the public aquarium recently established near Honolulu, and the directors of the institution desire it to be known that they will be prepared to accord a similar courtesy to other zoologists visiting the islands for purposes of research.

The aquarium is a modest structure, erected a little over a year ago, and is under the control of the Rapid Transit Company, though the funds were largely provided by the generosity of different gentlemen interested in the welfare of the islands. It is most advantageously situated at Waikiki Beach, a suburb of Honolulu, and the adjacent coral flats constitute most favorable collecting ground. Though no special appliances beyond exhibition and experimental tanks are available, yet the advantages of these and a constant supply of sea-water appeal to any student desirous of carrying out investigations on living forms. Moreover, with a generosity which is very praiseworthy, the directors are prepared to make whatever reasonable adaptations may be required.

Our knowledge of the marine fauna of the Hawaiian Islands is becoming rapidly extended, mainly through the reports on the collections made by the U. S. Fishery Bureau, under the direction of President D. S. Jordan, during two successive seasons, 1901 and 1902. The large addition to the number of species of fishes alone shows how very desirable was such faunistic work, and other groups are yielding a corresponding number of new forms. The physical conditions of the coral reefs have been studied in part by Professor A. Agassiz. Though the luxuriance of the life on the reefs does not equal that in the more distant Tahiti, Samoa, or the Philippine Islands, yet there is sufficient, particularly in such places as Kaneohe Bay, to satisfy the most ardent investigator.

For the student of terrestrial forms the islands are particularly interesting on account of the influence of introduced animals and plants upon an indigenous fauna and flora. Representatives from the east and from the west, from temperate and from tropical regions, here flourish, and against the pests a strong corps of entomologists is engaged in further introduction of possible remedial forms. The fact that the land shells of the islands served to supply the Rev. J. T. Gulick with material for the theory of isolation adds an interest to the evolutionary biologist. The ethnology and various departments of natural history are well cared for by Professor T. H. Brigham, of the Bishop Museum, and his staff of assistants.

As a last word of attraction regarding the situation of the aquarium one may quote from the "Report on Collections of Fishes made in the Hawaiian Islands" by Professor O. P. Jenkins:

"Of all situations about the island of Oahu, the submerged reef which extends from the entrance of the harbor of Honolulu to some distance past Waikiki furnishes the most prolific supply of fishes, both as to number of species and amount of the catch. This reef at low water is from a few inches to a few feet under water and extends from one mile to two or three miles from the shore, where the water abruptly reaches great depths. Over the surface and along the bluff of this reef may be found representatives of most of the shore fauna of the Hawaiian Islands. This reef, so favorably situated, so accessible, and so rich in material, can not fail to be of increasing interest to naturalists who may have the good fortune to devote themselves to the study of its wonderful life."

BOY STEALS COPPER.

The naval authorities have been bothered for some time past by unknown persons ripping off the copper sheathing on the piles of the naval wharves, between the high and low water marks. This allowed the teredos, which destroy piling, to get in their deadly work, and there was danger in a short time that the piles would not only have to be resheathed, but new ones. He will probably be prosecuted, as he has been.

Yesterday a young native boy was caught stealing copper by the naval authorities and turned over to the police. He will probably be prosecuted as Captain Lyon is resolved to put a stop to the thieving which has caused so much bother and worry.

RELATED OF ROYALTY.

The czarina recently gave her little son his first toys, a couple of little manikins possessing the properties of the multiplying eggs and the nests of boxes long familiar to American children.

Prince Oscar Bernadotte of Sweden and Norway, who recently made the opening address at the world's conference of the Young Men's Christian association at Paris, and was afterward elected vice president, is the second son of King Oscar.

Former Archduke Leopold has become a private in the Swiss army. He supported his father, ex-Crown Princess Louise of Saxony, in her sloping escapade, and subsequently married an actress, which caused a severance of his connection with royalty. He assumed the name of Herr Woolfing.

The king of Spain has inherited his father's remarkably sure eye and steady hand and he is already one of the best shots in his kingdom. Alfonso XIII. is rich in great sporting estates and he enjoys nothing better than entertaining a party of friends in those of his country palaces which are within easy reach of Madrid.

The empress dowager of China is feeling the weight of years and is anxious to have her last resting place made ready before she is "invited to become a guest of Heaven." The Shanghai North China Herald says that something like $5,000,000 has already been spent on the proposed mausoleum, west of Peking, designated "the happy land of a myriad years."

English newspapers declare that Kaiser Wilhelm's visit to Gibraltar left a decidedly bad impression. He was received with marked coldness and was not invited to visit the fortifications, though in conversation with the governor of the port he pointedly expressed his interest in the works. It is said also that his majesty looks worn and thin, though active and energetic as ever. He is evidently in a state of high nervous pressure, but members of his staff carefully refuse to discuss his condition.
