

FARMERS' INSTITUTE TO MEET TODAY

Because the Farmers' Institute is a business body that does not do things twice, it did not meet yesterday afternoon and last night, but will meet this afternoon and tonight, as it originally announced that it would do. The meeting this afternoon will be for the transaction of business merely, and will be held at the United States Agricultural Experiment Station at three o'clock.

The meeting this evening will be at Y. M. C. A. Hall at 7:30, and all interested are invited to be present. Jared Smith, Director of the United States Experiment Station, will read a paper on "Plant Diseases and their Treatment," illustrated by lantern slides; T. J. Crawley will read a paper on the "Nitrogen Problem," and J. F. Higgins will read a paper on the "Care of Milk," which paper he will illustrate by lantern slides.

Don't go home feeling played out.

Drop into the CRITERION while waiting for the car.

A bite of lunch and a glass of the CRITERION'S incomparable beer will pull you together after a hard day's work as nothing else can.
