RECEPTION GAY AFFAIR

A Brilliant Gathering Throws Throne Room.

The throne room of the Executive Building, for so long closed so far as social affairs of the Territory are concerned, was the gathering spot of society once more last night at the reception given by Governor and Mrs. Carter to Mr. and Mrs. Longworth and Secretary and Mrs. Straus, at which several hundred citizens were presented to the distinguished guests. The grounds were brightly illuminated by hundreds of colored incandescent lights, under which, to the music of the Royal Hawaiian Band, some thousand more citizens strolled, despite the dampness of the evening. The Capitol was decorated along the balconies with more colored lights, in the center of which blazed the Stars and Stripes. Within, flowers had been lavishly used for decorations, white daisies and ferns being massed with splendid effect on the main stairway, and potted ferns, palms and other plants transforming the landings and alcoves into green bowers.

In the throne room, where the presentations were made, an aisle had been partitioned off around the room by wreaths of malle and fern, the receiving party standing on the Ewa side of the room. On the balcony behind them was stationed the Ellis Quartet, which played during the reception.

In the receiving line, in the order named, were Governor Carter, Mrs. Carter, Secretary Straus, Mrs. Longworth, Congressman Longworth and Mrs. Straus, the introductions being made by Secretary Atkinson. The ladies of the party were gowned. Mrs. Carter wore white satin, embroidered with roses and real lace, and carried a bouquet of white and pink roses. The costume worn by Mrs. Longworth was a most becoming creation of steel blue satin, and Mrs. Straus' gown was of white lace.

The officers of the National Guard assisted in the reception, their uniforms giving a touch of color to the groups of the members of the sterner sex which gathered in the main hall. National Guardsmen were stationed also at the doors to see that the lines of those to be presented were duly marshaled before entering the throne room.

Before nine o'clock the automobiles and carriages began to arrive at the Capitol with the members of Honolulu society, a solid lane of people extending from the King street entrance to the palace steps to watch the arrivals. The automobile bringing Mr. and Mrs. Longworth and Secretary Atkinson was a few minutes late and drove up at a speed that made people shiver as it spun around on the wet flags before the steps. It seemed to the watchers that the machine must skid and crash into the steps, but the driver handled his machine most skillfully and nothing unfortunate occurred.

Among those who had the honor of being presented were Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Cooke, Consul General Saito and Mrs. Saito, Chinese Consul Chang Tso Fan and Madame Chang Tso Fan; F. A. Schaefer, Italian Consul, and Miss Irmgard Schaefer; Count Canavaro, Portuguese Consul; Dr. Marques, French Consul; W. F. Pfothenhauer, German Consul, and Mrs. Pfothenhauer; Chief Justice and Mrs. Frear, Justice Hartwell and Miss Hartwell, Prince and Princess Kawananakoa, Bishop Gilbert, Father Valentin, Canon Mackintosh, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Breckons, Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Wilder, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. A. Wilder, F. M. Hatch and Miss Harriet Hatch, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Kimball, Mr. and Mrs. Jack London, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Hatch, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Olson, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. P. Davies, Mr. and Mrs. Ivers, Mr. and Mrs. Kanakani, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Lowrey, Sherwood Lowrey, Allan Lowrey, Mr. and Mrs. C. Rhodes, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Hawes, Jr., Senator John C. Lane, Sheriff Iauka, Joseph Fern, S. M. Dwight, E. R. Stackable, Mrs. Gunn and Miss Edna Gunn, Miss Waltz, Miss Alice Moore, Misses Rose, Rev. Hiram Bingham, Miss Walker, Miss Angus, Miss Sturgeon, Miss Kaufmann, J. H. Fisher, Lloyd Conkling, James Holt, C. S. Holloway, George Beckley and John Lucas.

The members of the three Hawaiian societies, the Hui Kaahumanu, Hui Kaulikeouli and Hui Oihwi, to the number of nearly four hundred, were presented, the guests of honor having pleasant greetings for the native sons and daughters of Hawaii.

Much credit is due Miss Dwight and Miss Crewes, of the government service, who had charge of the floral decorations of the Capitol and whose artistic arrangement of the materials was much admired.

Following the reception, the guests of honor and a few other invited guests were the guests of the Governor and Mrs. Carter at dinner at the Young Hotel.

JOEL C. COHEN IS DEFAULTED

Ellis Recovers Wages--Robinson Guardianship--Other Court News.

Judgment by default was given in favor of John S. Ellis and against Joel C. Cohen by Judge De Bolt on Saturday morning. It was for $400.50 as balance due on contract in connection with the Hawaiian band's tour last summer. Ellis was to receive $2.50 a week and traveling expenses. The account came to over $700, on which credits ranging from twenty-five cents to $100 appeared on the claim. Other members of the band are likely now to pitch in for recovery of balances of wages due them. Cohen is absent on the Coast and made no defense to Ellis' suit.

THE ROBINSON MINORS.
M. P. Robinson, guardian of J. L. P. Mark A. and Allen C. Robinson, minors, has filed his final account with petition for discharge. He charges himself with $12,355.22 and asks to be allowed $1340, making a balance due the minors of $11,015.22. The inventory of securities and cash turned over by the guardian foot up $23,015.22. The guardianship was originally instituted to protect the minors as heirs of the late A. Campbell. In the meantime legacies of $500 each were left them by the late S. C. Allen. Credits of interest on income in the final account amount to a tidy sum.

COURT ITEMS.
In the foreclosure suit of James D. McInerney v. Kaulohia, Ihaaialihii, Antonio Teikira and John Thomas it is stipulated that two minor heirs of Kaulohia, who has died, may be substituted for her as parties defendant so that the cause may not abate.
Judgment of Honolulu District Court in favor of Gilbert J. Waller and against R. W. Holt in the sum of $253.12 has been docketed in the office of the clerk of the First Circuit Court.
Testimony in the Loch Garde salvage case was still being read to Judge Dole in the Federal Court on Saturday.
L. Ah Pau enters a general denial to the complaint of Oahu Lumber Co.

The Young Men's Research Society will be entertained on Monday evening at the house of C. J. Hutchins, on Thurston avenue. The principal feature on the program will be readings from his own works, by Jack London, the noted author now visiting this city.

SPECIAL INVITATIONS FOR THE HAWAIIANS

Regardless of the fact that it was stated that there would be no special invitations to the reception held last night, Chief Clerk Conkling spent the larger part of his time on Friday and Saturday in extending a special invitation of the Executive to the Hawaiian societies, which have been organized recently. Among those who were recognized in this manner were the Kaulikeouli society, through Supervisor Joseph Fern and William Ringer; the Kaahumanu society, of which Mrs. F. S. Pratt is president, and the Oihwi society, of which Supervisor Sam Dwight is the leader.

CONCERT AT THE SEASIDE HOTEL TODAY

There will be a concert at the Seaside this afternoon and evening in honor of Col. Robertson and the officers and ladies of the Ninth Infantry. The band of the Ninth Infantry will probably play at the Seaside during the afternoon in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth.

NATIONALISTS WIN ELECTION IN PHILIPPINES

Independence Party Has Safe Majority in the First Legislature--The Morocco Situation Alarming.

(Associated Press Cablegrams.)

MANILA, August 4.—As a result of the first election held in the Philippines yesterday the Nationalist party has a safe majority. Ninety per cent of the registered voters exercised their franchise right.

The Nationalists, who have won a victory at the polls in the Philippines, is the party opposed to the occupation of the islands by the Americans and reactionary in all its principles. Copies of the Manila papers received last week state that a Nationalist victory will mean the disturbance of the country, as the elected representatives would not be in sympathy with the three appointed commissioners, which will result in a deadlock in attempts at legislation.

"These three Filipino Commissioners must know what independence would mean to these islands," says the Cablenews, of Manila. "If nothing else, they must realize it would mean anarchy, and evil to those who were pronounced Americanists during the former regime. They will have to decide, though, on a momentous question. For it may be that just at this time an apparently strong desire to get rid of the Philippines will develop in the United States, and the anti-imperialists leading the band, it may look as if pretty near everybody in America and the Philippines were anxious to grant independence or to get it. There will be mass meetings to denounce these commissioners if they do not coincide with the lower house; there will be threats, influence and cajoling used. All the land will be in turmoil over the single subject—Independence."

FIFTEENTH AMENDMENT NOW OUT OF DANGER

JACKSON, Mississippi, August 4.—Williams wins the Senatorial election in the primaries by a majority of two thousand.

The contest for the Democratic nomination for the Senate in Mississippi, which is tantamount to election, has been bitterly fought between Williams and Governor Vardaman, the contest having been in progress for months. On the Fourth of July they gave a joint entertainment before a throng of ten to fifteen thousand people in Meridian. Governor Vardaman, in discussing the necessity of the repeal of the Fifteenth Amendment, on which he fought his campaign, attempted to strengthen his argument by painting a picture of a brutal outrage committed by a negro. Mr. Williams had sufficient confidence in his audience to assert that his opponent's proposal was futile. That Mr. Williams, however, is distinguished from Governor Vardaman, not in spirit, but merely in intelligence, was made manifest during the performance. His strongest argument against agitating for the repeal of the Fifteenth Amendment was a statement of his fear that the only consequence would be the enforcement of the Fourteenth. And that he too wished to gain favor by arousing race antagonism was evident by his statement that although the negro was now cut out of the franchise, "it is he we fear and not his vote."

PEOPLE FLEEING FROM MOROCCAN MARAUDERS

TANGIER, Morocco, August 4.—A panic exists at Casa Blanca, where the native inhabitants rose last week and massacred a number of Europeans, after defeating the government guards. The Europeans are leaving the town and four hundred refugees, who had come in from the surrounding country for protection, are also leaving. The Christian cemetery at Casa Blanca has been pillaged by the marauders and the bodies have been exhumed and burned. France and Spain, who have agreed to police the country, according to the terms of the Algeiras conference, are sending troops into Morocco.

CELEBRATED SCULPTOR DEAD.

CORNISH, New Hampshire, August 4.—Augustus Saint Gaudens, the sculptor, is dead.

Saint Gaudens, although Irish by birth, had lived since infancy in the United States and was regarded as one of the greatest of American artists. The figure of Diana, on the Madison Square Garden, New York, is by him, among his other best known work being the statues of Lincoln and John A. Logan, in Chicago, Admiral Farragut, Peter Cooper and a figure, "Adoration of the Cross," in New York, the latter in the St. Thomas church. He was an officer of the Legion of Honor, of France.

WEBB WINS WORLD ROWING CHAMPIONSHIP

SYDNEY, Australia, August 4.—Webb defeated Towns in a race for the rowing championship of the world on the Paramatta course yesterday by two lengths.

George Towns, of England, won the championship of the world some years ago by defeating Jake Gaudaur at Rat Portage, Ontario. In 1904 he defeated R. Tressider, of Australia, on the Paramatta course by twenty lengths.
