Decide To-Day

Make your decision as the result of your best judgment, but be prompt. The natural impulse of some will be to wait. Caution to a degree is commendable, but has killed many a man's big opportunity. It will kill yours if you wait now.

GOOD SHOWS AT ORPHEUM THEATER

The Elleford company will present "The Unwritten Law," tonight and tomorrow night at the Orpheum, with a matinee Thursday afternoon, Thanksgiving day. There is a big advance sale and the attendance is expected to be large at each performance. Kendall Fellows will appear in his clever Chinese impersonation act as a feature of each show. On Thursday night the play will be changed, "The Scout's Revenge" being the bill. This is a strong melodrama of Western life, the scene being laid in Texas, among the cattle ranches. On Monday next the bill will again be changed, and "The Lost Paradise" will be played.

AUTO CASE TOMORROW.

J. A. McLeod, automobilist, accused of furious and heedless driving, will appear before Judge Andrade tomorrow for trial. His case was called yesterday morning but was continued. The charge against him is that of running down a Chinese boy some weeks ago, the boy having been riding a bicycle in front of the auto. The case will be hard fought, the defense being that ample warning of the approach of the machine was given by the horn, in spite of which the bicycle rider dived in the path of danger. It will be contended by the prosecution that it was the part of the overtaking machine to do the turning out, and the law of the road will be much quoted by both sides.
