THE LOST PARADISE FOR MONDAY NIGHT

The Scout's Revenge pleased another good-sized audience last night at the Orpheum, opinion being unanimous that it is one of the best melodramas ever presented here. It will be played this afternoon at the matinee, the curtain rising at 2:15 o'clock, and the final performance will be given tonight.

Between the acts Albert Marco is presenting a clever Hebrew monologue and getting plenty of applause from all parts of the house. His singing of Italian grand opera selections is particularly good.

Monday night will be presented one of the most beautiful dramas of the American stage, The Lost Paradise. This differs from The Scout's Revenge in that it is not so melodramatic, but is richer in depth and feeling. It still contains sufficient lively action to be pleasing to everybody, and Mr. Elleford, who selected it for performance here, felt sure that local theatergoers would find it entertaining. Special scenery will be used, the company's scenic artist having arrived on the Hilonian. The Lost Paradise will be followed by A Deserted Bride, a problem play that will set everyone to thinking.

AHAHUI IOLANI.

The Ahahui Iolani will hold its regular annual meeting at 2 p. m. today at the residence of Mrs. E. T. Simpson, 1754 Fort street, when the officers' reports will be read and officers for the ensuing year elected. This guild of Hawaiian ladies was organized by Queen Liliuokalani four years ago, for the purpose not only to assist in the work of, but also in maintaining, the Hawaiian congregation of St. Andrew's cathedral. All members are expected to be present.

1908 VIEW CALENDARS.

R. W. Perkin's beautiful Hawaiian souvenir calendars for 1908 are now ready. They're the prettiest yet.

Chan Yan Yong, the proprietor of a saloon on Hotel street, and D. H. Lewis, proprietor of the Mint saloon, were arrested yesterday on warrants charging them with having supplied liquor to interdicted persons. The cases are the same as those in which employees of the saloon keepers were arrested and their cases not-prossed a few days ago.
