Y. M. C. A. TEAM WALLOPS CLUB

The Association Boys Pile Up Mighty Score of 29 to 2.

It was all Y. M. C. A. last night in the indoor baseball game played at the gymnasium of that institution between the lads of the Kawaihau Boys' Club and a picked team from the Association. The final score was 29 to 2, and the long end of the tally did not count for the Boys' Club team.

There was a large crowd in attendance at the game, for it is not often that the local fans are treated to an exhibition of the indoor variety of the national game, and they were right royally amused, even if the game was not exactly a classy performance. It was simply a walk-over of the genuine, Simon-pure, unadulterated quality for the veterans of the Y. M. C. A. team, the only thing, apparently, that kept them from scoring all the time being the valiant efforts of the gamey little pitcher for the Boys' Club. He was in a class by himself, so far as the rest of his teammates were concerned, and he ranked well up with the star players of the Association.

Captain Herbert of the Boys' Club also took all kinds of chances in order to score, but his work was of small avail against the cracks of the Y. M. C. A. The latter team simply scored at will on their younger opponents. There is plenty of fun in this indoor game, and never was this fact proven more conclusively than it was last night. The game lasted an hour and ten minutes. Jim Nott captained the winning aggregation.

BASKETBALL GAME BEING ARRANGED

Basketball is now coming to the front, and it may be that a game will be arranged between the team of the Y. M. C. A. and the Fort Shafter throwers. Dr. Hand has taken the matter up, and will get into communication with the basketball management out at the Fort some time today to learn if a contest can be arranged. Monday night is the date mentioned on which the game may be played in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. The soldier lads have an all-round star bunch of players, and the town team does not much expect to carry off the honors in the first game, though it may be that they will spring a surprise.

Sport Notes

The U. S. Engineer Corps baseball team was defeated by the Fort Shafter nine last Saturday by the score of 12 to 9.

It may be that a practise game will be arranged among the big League ball-players for next Saturday as a sort of tryout.

More fans should turn out to the baseball practise held at the League grounds each afternoon. There is a goodly turn-out of players, but the right kind of enthusiasm is sadly lacking. The boys are getting into shape rapidly and will work out every night until the professionals arrive here. Come on out, you fellows, who want to see the best kind of baseball in the Islands!

ENTRIES CLOSE THIS WEEK

Saturday Is the Last Day for Walkers to Enter Names.

Entries for the elimination race next Sunday afternoon close Saturday evening at six and no post entries will be permitted. Enter now and you'll be sure to be a contestant; if you put it off to the last minute you may be detained somewhere and fail to get your name in. With the exception of the ones who covered the course in December in the necessary nineteen minutes, no one can compete in the cup and prize event of the 17th without competing in this elimination race.

If you happen to be out on the Waikiki road these fine evenings and here and there note a flitting whiteness, don't think of ghosts and such for it's only one of the many interested ones trying out for time. The splendid moonlight evenings of the past week has brought many out "just to see if I could really walk that far." Some surprising results have been obtained though one's walking without competition or a peacemaker is apt to be much slower than in a race. It's a safe bet that if you can cover the course in twenty minutes unpaced, you can finish around seventeen in competition.

The wireless news that Ayres had defeated Sullivan in Hilo in a one mile walk was in line with most predictions around town of those who have a line on their forms. Ayres is in a class all by himself in the mile or shorter distances, while his weight and age tell against him in longer contests. Sullivan is still looked upon as a winner in the cup race of the 17th though there's always a chance of the dark-horse showing up and upsetting all calculations. By the way, a Honolulu man who was connected with many of the great walking events in the 80s in New York and elsewhere, in which world's champions were made and unmade says that without doubt Ayres is the cleanest and fairest heel-and-toe walker he ever has seen compete. This taken in connection with Ayres' records made here and elsewhere place him pretty well up to the top in the walking game.

Ayres is expected back from Hilo Thursday morning and by Friday afternoon or Saturday morning at the latest, the committee in charge will announce the list of prizes. The original plan was to have prizes only in the main event of the 17th, but this may be changed and some of the many prizes offered will be put up for the elimination event next Sunday. Jack Densham of the committee is still laid up with a bad knee and his friends are afraid that he will not be in shape to compete for the cup in the race of the 17th. His showing in the last race was such that with a little training, he would finish pretty well up with the winner.

MRS. WIGGS NOW ON THE BOUNDING DEEP

"Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" will arrive on the S. S. Aorangi January 7.

Seldom does a play possess one fresh and striking type, but in "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," which comes to the Honolulu Opera House, are four that everyone who sees the play remembers with equal sharpness of pleasurable mental definition. Around them are gathered a score more characters and types, however, and each role is fastidiously cast. In casting the Australian company great pains were taken to make the players fit their roles as though moulded to them, and the success attending these endeavors is sufficiently attested by the fact that the play is now in its fifth year of enormous business in America, past its 300th performance at Terry's Theater in London, England, and the company to appear here made an instantaneous and most emphatic success at the Princess Theater, Melbourne, during a six weeks' season just concluded there.

Book plays as a rule are not long lived, but "Mrs. Wiggs" bids fair to run on for a generation. It is already an American humorous classic, and the public waited long for a great woman humorist, as to, it will cling long to such a striking conception as that of "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," and the satellites of good humor and innocent jollity around her. The play is as clean and fresh and morally uplifting as possible. After the average problem play it is as refreshing as a breath of morning air after a night of champagne. Dear old, kindly Mrs. Wiggs, is the Arch-Deaconess of American fun. Moreover she has the approval of the Rev. Charles Wagner, who says that here is "the simple life lived humorously." CITY AUDITOR IN MAELSTROM
Lawyers May Test Garnishee Opinion of City Attorney.

There may be trouble ahead for County Auditor Bicknell because of the opinion of County Attorney Cathcart, that all garnishees of employees of the county lapsed at 12 o'clock noon, Monday, January 4. That opinion was to the effect that all pending garnishments became null and void with the ending of the official existence of the County of Oahu.

However, attorneys prepared new garnishee papers on employes holding over and filed them as soon as possible after learning of this disposition of the old garnishee cases. Attorneys have intimated to the County Auditor that they may take the matter into the courts to determine whether or not the County Attorney's opinion is valid.

COUNTESS OUTWITTED BY ADDISON MIZNER

Although Addison Mizner has made his home in New York and Europe for years, those who have seen him say that he retains the same exuberant mode of thought and action which characterized his behavior in his San Francisco days and made him the subject of endless discussions. Last summer Addison was in the country in France and stayed at the same little inn where he abode for the time being a French countess and her four children. Chickens was always a part of the menu, and by reason of her rank the countess was always served first. She would help herself liberally to the choicest bits, and then call upon her offspring, "Louie, pass your plate to mama; Jean, your plate for some chicken." "Marie," "Gaston"—and the four little counts and countesses were given of the best of the platter contained, leaving a choice collection of necks and legs for the other guests, including Addison. He accepted his portion meekly for several days, and then he rebelled. Half rising in his chair as the chicken was carried past him en route to the voracious nobility, he applied his tongue hastily to his forefinger and tapped a particularly tempting bit of white meat, saying in audible tones and his best French, "This piece is mine." —San Francisco Bulletin.

W. H. Taft's glass remained turned down throughout the little dinner that he gave recently at Hot Springs to some political visitors, and this fact aroused comment. "Yes, and it is going to stay turned down," said the President-elect. "I am not going to drink anything again, ever." "You never did drink enough so that any one could notice it," said a boyhood friend present. The remark was as superfluous as the boy's indorsement of his grandmother's neatness: "Grandma can take snuff when she is making bread and not get a bit in the dough," he asserted to the circle of visitors. "Why, how can you say such things?" cried the old lady, in distress. "Well, you may have dropped a little," was Johnnie's compromise. "But not enough to make any difference."

ALL IS VANITY.
 Sentimentalist—"And is that the pretty little pig I saw frolicking before my window yesterday?"
 Farmer's Wife (cutting up the pork)—"Yes, miss."
 Sentimentalist—"Alas, such is human life!"—Fliegende Blätter.

At the meeting of the Hawaiian Association football players last night, it was definitely decided to have a match game between the champion Maile team and a team picked from all the rest of the teams in the league. This should be a corking good fight.

Court Lunalia No. 6900, A. O. F., will meet in Pythian Hall this evening at 7:30.
