MAKINO CROWD ABUSING UYENO

Signs of Irritation and Weakness Presage
the End.

Kahuku Japanese laborers who struck a few days ago express a desire to return to work, but fear to do so because of the attitude of the leaders of the agitation. This was the sentiment expressed at a meeting held Sunday evening, Kahuku plantation carried out its plan of last week to pay off fifty Japanese laborers, this being done yesterday, and the men were ordered to leave the estate. The plantation has just finished work on a big field and could easily dispense with the services of these men who include among their number some of the strike leaders.

There is absolutely no truth in the strike rumors from Hawaii, neither plantation agencies here nor Makino getting a response to wireless messages to confirm the report. The statement also that agents from the Japanese laborers on Hawaii had come here to confer with the agitators is incorrect, as it turns out that the so-called agents were priests of the Hongwanji Mission who came to attend a conference of the priests of that sect, and are in no way identified with the strike movement.

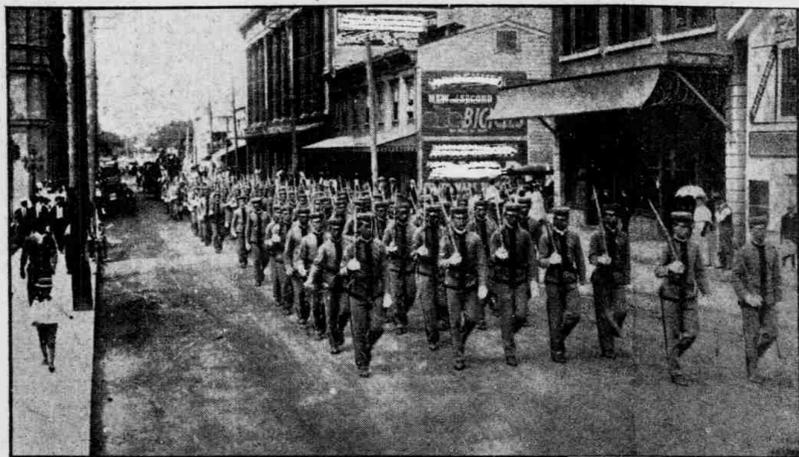

The agitators, particularly Makino, Negoro, Soga and Tasaka, have commenced attacking Consul-General Uyeno in their speeches and allude to him in not only uncomplimentary terms, but declare that he is incompetent.

There are many indications pointing to dissatisfaction among the strikers and there seems a likelihood that on Waiialua, Kahuku and possibly Ewa there may be an early return to work.

A dozen additional Japanese alleged to be implicated in the assault on Gichi, or at least in the conspiracy to attack him, were arrested yesterday afternoon, warrants having been sworn out in the forenoon.

FLOWERS FOR SOLDIERS' GRAVES

THE MEMORIAL DAY PROCESSION—THE KAMEHAMEHA BOYS PASS NG.

Memorial Day Observed by Military Parade, Band Music and Oratory.

Marching to the rata-tap-tap of the drum, blare of the bugle, and the inspiring music of national airs by Hawaii's band, federal and citizen soldiery as an armed guard of honor accompanied the local veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic to Nuuanu cemetery yesterday forenoon, where impressive exercises were held for the dead comrades lying there. It was a fine turnout of the military, but perhaps the sight which held the eye longest was that of the seventeen old men who had so blithely followed the flag on southern battlefields—the veterans of De Long Post. And it was a sign of the reunited country that the son of a Confederate soldier was the orator of the day.

The parade from town to the cemetery was a display of some of the military units, each typifying a source of arms upon which the nation depends.

"MONGOOSE JOE" MARSDEN DIED OF HEART FAILURE YESTERDAY IN BERKELEY

(Associated Press Cablegram.)

BERKELEY, California, June 1.—Joseph Marsden, formerly of Hawaii, died here yesterday of heart failure.

Joseph Marsden was for many years prior to 1900 a prominent figure in business and politics in Hawaii. He was a member of the Provisional Government and was one of the five commissioners to be sent to Washington in an attempt to arrange a treaty of annexation between Hawaii and the United States immediately following the overthrow of the monarchy. He left Honolulu in 1900 to engage in the steamship business on the Coast with J. S. Kimball & Co. He had paid Honolulu several visits since that time. Two years ago he married. The deceased was credited with having been the one to introduce the mongoose into Hawaii, bringing some of the animals here from the West Indies to combat the rats, which were working havoc in the cane fields. At that time he was Commissioner of Agriculture under the monarchy.

NICHOLS' DEATH WAS ACCIDENTAL

Coroner's Jury Finds That an Overdose of Drug
Was Used.

The inquest over the remains of Starr Hoyt Nichols who was found dead in his room at the Hawaiian Hotel late Saturday night was concluded at the police station last evening, and the following verdict rendered:

"Starr Hoyt Nichols came to his death on the 29th day of May, 1909, from an overdose of chloroform self-administered, accidentally, while in agony of pain."

The funeral was held yesterday at H. H. Williams' undertaking parlors, the remains being cremated at the Nuuanu cemetery. Rev. A. C. McKeever, of the Christian church, conducted the services. The ashes are being held by A. L. C. Atkinson, pending directions for their disposal from P. N. Bliss, a nephew of the deceased, who resides in Danbury, Conn. A sister lives in New York. A number of friends whom the deceased had made during his stay here attended the funeral.

After going over Mr. Nichols' effects A. L. C. Atkinson learned that at one time he had been a member of a banking firm on or near Wall street, New York City. He was also a member of the University Club of the same city. He is reputed to have had a fortune of $100,000.

CHINA DUE TODAY.

The Pacific Mail steamer China is due to arrive here this morning from the Orient. She is carrying about 500 tons of freight for this port, while her passenger space will not be overcrowded when she arrives. It is said that the China has only about twenty-five passengers on board. There is a large number booked to depart for the mainland from this port, however, so it is probable that she will go out this evening anything but empty. The China will probably continue her voyage to the Coast at five o'clock this evening.

SHOT SPOTTED DEER ON MOANALUA ESTATE

On Sunday one of the eight spotted deer on the Moanalua estate of Hon. S. M. Damon was shot and when found by persons connected with the estate was so badly hurt that it had to be put out of its misery. The deer are maintained on the estate as a part of the general park scheme carried on by Mr. Damon. There seems to be no doubt about the animal having been shot maliciously, and a reward of $25 has been offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the party guilty of such disregard of other people's property.

Very Lively Afternoon Blaze in the Business Section

The lumber on hand represented between $40,000 and $50,000 valuation including buildings in the yard, but the damage may amount to less than $2000.

BICKNELL'S RELATIVE KILLED IN ACCIDENT

Cabled word was received yesterday by J. Gribble, Kinau street, of the sudden death of his only son, John Ghanville Gribble, which occurred yesterday in Oakland, the result of an accident. No particulars as to the nature of the accident were received, but, as the deceased was a machinist, it is thought that the same occurred in connection with his work. The deceased was a brother of the wife of City Auditor Bicknell. He was a young man, only twenty-three years old, just entering upon what seemed would be a prosperous career in his chosen trade. Besides his father and mother and sister in Honolulu, the deceased leaves a sister, Mrs. John Coburn, of Emeryville, California. The remains will be buried in Oakland.
