MARINE

Prosper on Ways.

The schooner Prosper went on the marine railway yesterday morning, and an examination was immediately started to determine where were her most important and dangerous leaks.

It is thought that the Prosper will be in shape to come off the marine railway again either tonight or tomorrow. The probabilities are, however, that she will not be put in the water again until Saturday.

No Profit in American Ships.

"It is impossible to operate an ocean steamship under the American flag at a profit," said Captain John Barneson at the regular weekly luncheon of the California Promotion Committee at the Fairmont in San Francisco a short time ago.

Shipping Notes.

The Inter-Island steamer Claudine reports that she towed the schooner James Rolph, loaded with sugar for San Francisco, out of Hana, Maui, on Wednesday.

The tanker Washtenaw, Captain Graham, sailed from Port San Luis, presumably for Kahului, on Wednesday. No definite information as to where the steamer is bound was received.

EVIDENCE BAD FOR PRISONERS

Candless, and Wetherill together at Mary McCandless' place shortly before twelve o'clock Monday night, thus corroborating the evidence given by several others. "Waikiki" lied like a trooper when he was first put on the stand, denying anything and everything that would have a tendency to connect him with the case.

The last story told by "Waikiki," and without doubt the true one, was to the effect that on Monday evening he had met George Harbottle and Dan Kaai, and after the three had consumed a bottle of gin in Aala Park and had a couple of drinks at a saloon, they went up to the place of abode of Mary McCandless.

"Waikiki" testified that he and George Harbottle had a row over the "drinks," they having taken a couple of bottles of palm-tree to the house with them, and that one of the women told him he would have to leave the place, his noise being too much to be borne.

ment from Hawaii comes private assurances to the planters that the Hawaii Japanese will not strike, neither will they encourage the Oahu strikers to persist in their efforts by furnishing them with any assistance to their strike fund.

On Wednesday the requests for higher wages were presented, the delegates in every case being referred to Honolulu.

The Hawaii Herald publishes the greater part of the news of the strike situation on Hawaii in an extra, issued on Saturday last.

List of Their Wants.

"Forty-five delegates of the Hawaii Japanese Labor Union, representing a total membership of 4390 laborers, on plantations extending from Kukuihaele to Puna, have been in session at the Kimura Hotel in Hilo for four days and nights, concluding their work last night.

"The first business considered, on Tuesday, was an interpretation of the bylaws of the union, this main point being unanimously determined—that they stood independent of other unions and had no alliance with the High Wage Association.

"Yesterday it was unanimously decided to make the following requests of the plantation managers.

"1. That ten hours be regarded as a day's work.

"2. That fifteen cents an hour be paid for overtime.

"3. That a day and a half's wages be paid for work done on Sunday.

"4. That the buildings for the use of Japanese be similar to those constructed for the Spanish and Portuguese laborers.

"5. That each plantation employ one man to keep the buildings clean.

"6. That the reservoirs be not placed too close to the camps on account of the mosquitoes that they attract.

"7. That one dollar be the minimum for a day's work.

"These requests will probably be presented to each plantation manager on Monday morning by representatives of the branch of the Union on each plantation.

"Should these requests be refused by the managers, two delegates will proceed to Honolulu to present them to Mr. W. O. Smith, secretary of the Sugar Planters' Association.

"Pending a reply from the managers and from Secretary W. O. Smith, there will not be any cessation of work, nor disorder, nor strike on any plantation. The men rely upon the fairness of the planters to discuss the situation with them, and the points raised.

"A further meeting of the men's representatives in the union will be held upon the return of the two delegates from Honolulu.

"The foregoing are the results of the sessions that are of most immediate concern and interest, verified by three interpreters independently from the records and resolutions of the session."

All Quiet Down the Line. So far as the local plantations are concerned, the strike for the past few days has proved to be without incident.

Japanese Still Content. The strikers in town are quite satisfied, outwardly, with the trend of events. At the kaukau camps at Aala, Moliili, Kakaako, and Waikiki everything is going along smoothly, with plenty of kaukau in sight.

Claim Six Months' Supply. The superintendent of the Aala depot yesterday stated that the strikers had a food supply assured for the next six months, if necessary.

BYRON O. CLARK DENIES LOS ANGELES STATEMENTS

Apologies of the statements attributed to Byron O. Clark about the local pineapple industry by the Los Angeles firm of Marston & Marston, Mr. Clark has written that firm as follows:

Gentlemen: The enclosed clipping, copied from the Los Angeles Express, is certainly a surprise to me. As you well know, I have not been in correspondence with your firm for some months and have not at any time written you any such statements as are attributed to me.

and when the grand jury went into session little time was consumed in finding the true bills. Editor Sheba was the most important witness called before the Grand Jury at its session yesterday.

Evidence Is Strong. The indictments returned yesterday are understood to have disposed of all of the important cases that are pending before the Grand Jury in connection with the labor agitation.
