SON OF POLYGAMIST SEEKS CONVERTS HERE ON POLYGAMY DOCTRINE

One of Joseph F. Smith's Many Boys Arguing Beauty of Multi-Marriage With Women at Waikiki.

The Mormon doctrine of polygamy is being industriously preached and taught in Honolulu at this very time and by no less a personage than one of the twenty-one sons of Joseph F. Smith, head of the Utah Mormons. The fact that his father paid a fine a year or two ago, after the birth of his forty-third child, the sixth or seventh from his sixth wife, does not deter this chip of the old block from informing all who listen to him that it is a holy and righteous thing to have a harem.

Smith, Junior, is carrying on missionary work for his church in Waikiki, just now, and there is a considerable amount of indignation from the fact that he times his domiciliary visits just at the times of day when the men are away from home and the women are available. The son of the prophet, seer and revelator of Salt Lake City, Utah, will receive a welcome some morning at one of these houses that will astonish him, making him wish that his muchly-married parent had had just one son less and that one himself.

This missionary of glad tidings to womankind is not content with pointing to the brilliant example set the world by his respected parent on the male side, but brings into his discussions the name of the Savior and of the Almighty to bolster up his claim to the divine origin of the blessed state of multimaternity, while he declines to accept the statement of the fact that Adam found Eve helpmeet enough for his home in Eden.

A respectable woman of Waikiki, who does not wish her name used in connection with the matter, states that Smith of the antirace-suicide family has made more than one call at her house, decidedly more than one call too many. She is a member of the Reorganized Church, a church which has fought polygamy from the inception of the degrading system by Brigham Young. Her statement is:

"On Monday afternoon last I was visited at my home by two elders of the Utah church. One of them said that he was the son of Joseph F. Smith, president of the Church. The purpose of their visit was evidently to find out what church I belonged to and to teach all about their church. Upon entering the house they asked if there were any Mormons here. On my replying no, they then asked to what church I belonged. After telling them

THEY THOUGHT HIM DEAD, BUT HE BEGAN SINGING

With the patrol wagon running at top-speed to get him to the Queen's Hospital before he died, Buffalo Kahikina, a Hawaiian who had fallen from his horse and sustained injuries that appeared serious, suddenly came to himself and began singing. "Now you like me, an' I like you, and we both like the same." The police officers were, to say the least, astonished. They had fully believed that Buffalo was about to cross the Great Divide, and the old patrol wagon was speeded up in the direction of the hospital.

But Buffalo didn't let a little thing like a fall from a horse bother him. He had imbibed well, but not too wisely, during the day, for he realized that the action of the License Commissioners the other day would prevent his quenching his mighty thirst on the Sabbath. And it was in a very demoralized condition that Buffalo mounted his trusty pony and started in the direction of Kewalo, where he lives. But once on the country roads, Buffalo's exuberance got the better of his discretion, and he spurred his steed. The consequences were that either Buffalo or his jag had to quit riding horseback. A compromise was effected, and the two went off the horse at one and the same time. The jag got considerable of a shock, as did also Mr. Buffalo.

HILO MARATHON WON BY JAPANESE RUNNER

Jackson Was Beaten by Three Hundred Yards--- Fahy, III, Finishes Last---Jackson Was the Favorite.

(Special by Wireless to the Advertiser.)

HILO, July 3.—Marathon results: Tsukamoto, Jackson, Ah Fook, Canario, Fahy. Winner led by three hundred yards.

The Rising Sun rose in a great burst of glory in Hilo yesterday. The Kangaroo Marathon Champion bit the dust raised by the brown heels of a ricksha man from Yokohama, finishing three hundred yards in the rear, with a Chinaman pressing him hard for second place. Fahy, looked upon as Jackson's nearest rival, finished last, the reason being that he was off his feed and out of condition for the ten-mile stretch.

Such is the wireless news received by the Advertiser from its representative in Hilo. Tsukamoto, the Japanese entry, won by three hundred yards. This is the dismal tidings.

By mail yesterday came the following, which presaged no such dire announcement that followed at noon by the aerial route:

Jackson Regarded as Sure Thing.

HILO, July 2.—The Marathon will be run tomorrow, and Nigel Jackson should win it hands down. Dal Fahy has been under the weather since arriving. Jackson ran a mile yesterday at the track in 5:37, the last of eight. His unique and unparalleled line of hot air is creating a sensation among the natives.

MAN SUICIDES IN KAKAOKO

George Tietzen Hangs Himself With Curtain Cord in an Unusual Manner.

George Tietzen, a man who has been acting as bartender at the Germania saloon in Kakaako for some time past, committed suicide yesterday afternoon about one o'clock by hanging himself with a curtain cord. Very little is known about the man, and no reason has as yet been assigned for the act. It is presumed that he took his life while in a fit of despondency. Tietzen brought about his end in an unusual manner, hooking the cord to the side of the wall a couple of feet above his head, fastening the end tightly around his neck, and then leaning to one side so that his weight came upon the small rope. This sufficed to suffocate him.

The room in which Tietzen hanged himself is near the Honolulu Brewery, and it was from this place that the police got the first intimation regarding the occurrence yesterday. Tietzen was a German and was single, so far as is known at the present time. A coroner's jury will be drawn on Tuesday next, and an inquest will be held. The following is the verbatim report of the officer who first went to the scene, which gives an almost humorous turn to the tragic event: "A telephone message was received about 1:10 p. m. from the Honolulu Brewery that a man has committed suicide by hanging himself and on my arrival I found the man laying on his bed, dead, fifteen minutes before I appeared he naturally hung himself with a curtain cord which cause his sudden death near the bed. The cause of his death is unknown to me."
