MAY BUILD DOCK

Negotiations With Coast Firm to Secure Contract.

Should negotiations now under way bear fruit, the Hawaiian Dredging company will take over from the San Francisco Bridge company the contract for building the big naval drydock at Pearl Harbor. The deal has not yet been consummated, but it is understood that an agreement may be reached early this week.

The local representative of the San Francisco Bridge company is the Hawaiian Dredging company. The latter concern holds the contract for the dredging of Pearl Harbor, and the work is well under way. With a large force of men already on the ground, and all of the facilities at hand for taking hold of the drydock job, it is believed that the local concern can handle the proposition on a more profitable basis than could a company with headquarters further from the base of operations.

A representative of the San Francisco Bridge company is now here looking over the ground, and it is understood that, through him, the negotiations are being carried on.

Walter Dillingham, manager of the Hawaiian Dredging company, when asked for a confirmation of the report last night, declined to make any statement other than that, under any circumstances, his company will probably exercise general supervision over the drydock work.

The drydock job is one of the most important items of the Pearl Harbor naval station project. Under the terms of the contract between the San Francisco Bridge company and the government, work must begin immediately.

HAWAIIAN BUILDING DRAWS BIG CROWD

Seven hundred and eight tins of canned pineapples served was the record in the Hawaiian building at the Seattle Exposition on July 5. Will J. Cooper, in the following letter to Secretary H. P. Wood of the Promotion Committee, gives some idea as to the popularity of the Islands exhibit:

My Dear Mr. Wood: Yesterday was observed here as the Fourth, and it was certainly a record-breaker for us. The normal attendance at the Exposition has been 18,000 or 20,000 daily, but yesterday it was nearly 62,000, and we got our full proportion of it. From 8:30 in the morning until 6 in the evening our building was one crush of humanity. There's a slump today and everybody is cranky and out of sorts—reaction I guess. But the pineapple business boomed some—during the big rush, and last night the number of tins opened during the day amounted to 708, and the proceeds were about $350. Last Saturday's business was about double the normal, reaching something over 400 tins sold; so you see pineapples are a live proposition with us.

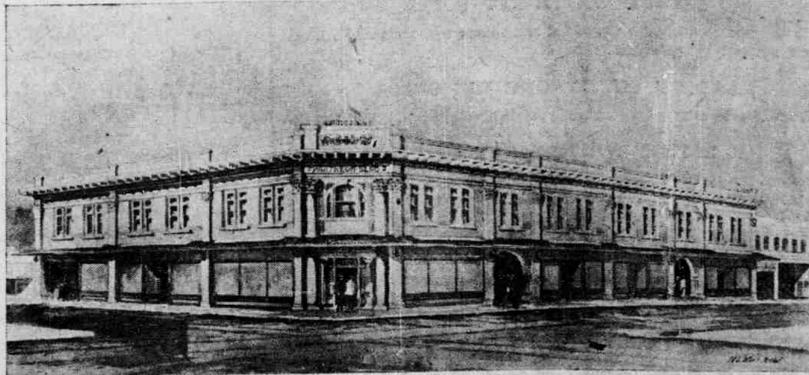

Yesterday was also a hard one on our literature supply. I handled it as carefully as I could, but there was a big hole made in our stock at night. We are almost out of the Hawaii folder. We haven't any Aloha post cards, and only a handful of Primers, which I am holding for special distribution.

I was much pleased to see the new Hawaii folder, of which we received two bundles by the last Alameda. I think it looks very well, and the cuts worked up better than I had hoped.

Miss De la Nux and her mother arrived here Sunday evening, and appear to be enjoying themselves. There are over two hundred newspapers sending contest parties to the Exposition, or at the rate of about two per day, and the publicity department has one man who does nothing else but entertain these visitors.

Sam Kalilikane and Washia Kealahe were brought here from Hilo on the Mauna Kea yesterday morning by Deputy Marshal Irwin. They are charged with violating the Edmunds Act. Nishisaka Fusakichi was also brought in on the same charge.

NEW BUILDING FOR FORT STREET

THE PANTHEON BLOCK, TO BE ERECTED AT FORT AND HOTEL STREETS.

Work Soon Will Commence on Handsome Two-Story Structure.

Within the next two weeks, bids for the erection of a two-story, reinforced concrete building at Hotel and Fort streets will be called for. The plans for the proposed structure have been completed by Architect H. L. Kerr, and as soon as negotiations for the taking over the leases on property which the building will occupy have been completed, construction work will begin. The structure, which will be a combined store and office building of the most approved type, will cost about $100,000.

The structure will be known as the Pantheon building and will be erected by the Pantheon Building Company, of which Mrs. J. M. Dowsett is the principal stockholder. It will occupy the Ewa-mauka corner of Hotel and Fort streets.

The plans contemplate a structure with a frontage of 177 1/2 feet on Fort street and 120 feet on Hotel. This extends from the site occupied by the Club Stables on Fort street around to the Fashion Saloon on Hotel. Owing to the fact that the Art Theater, holds a long term lease on its property, the new block will only be built to the theater boundary line at present, giving a frontage of ninety feet on Hotel street.

The Pantheon building will be two stories in height, but the style of construction will be such that, at any time in the future, when it may seem advisable, two or more stories can be added. The framework will be entirely of steel and the walls and floors will be of reinforced concrete, placing the building in what is known as Class A.

The ground floor will be divided into twelve stores, each eighteen by forty-four feet. As the building will not be dependent on the partitions for support, any or all of the store rooms will be capable of being thrown together. The partitions will be so constructed that the moving of one will not in any way interfere with the stability or appearance of the interior of the structure.

There will be a basement, ten feet in height, under the entire structure, each store being allotted a portion equal to its floor space.

The basement will be lighted by glass prisms in the sidewalk above, and also from a light area in the rear. There will be three hydraulic elevators, giving access to the front sidewalk, for the convenient handling of heavy freight.

BLIND PIG RAIDED BY INSPECTOR

Another arrest for illicit liquor selling was made last night by Inspector Fennell, who gathered in Nancy Joseph on the charge of being the keeper of a blind pig located near the corner of River and Beretania avenue. Other arrests today are not improbable, as since the Sunday closing regulation went into effect, some of the more venturesome are willing to take a chance on making a good profit, even over and above the probable amount of their fines, if they are caught with the goods. Judge Andrade's dislike of informers and spies makes it more difficult than ever to obtain a conviction in the police court.

Morishigi neglected last night to keep his lamp filled and burning and his negligence secured him lodgings at the Police Station, he being arrested by Officer Meek on the charge of riding a bicycle without a light.

Wong Ping and Jennie Ah Mai were arrested yesterday by the police for having forgotten to go through the formality of a marriage ceremony before setting up housekeeping. They will appear before Judge Andrade tomorrow morning and tell him all about it.

THE RIOT JURY IS LOCKED UP

Impossible to Reach a Verdict Is Statement of Foreman.

After being out since six minutes past four in the afternoon, the jury in the Waipahu riot case was called into court from its room in the Judiciary building at ten o'clock last night by Judge Robinson and ordered to be taken to the Young Hotel for the night, in the custody of Bailiff Harrison.

When the twelve jurors filed into the jury box, Judge Robinson asked if they had been able to reach a verdict, and Foreman Goadie replied:

"Your Honor, we have not decided upon a verdict in this case, and I do not believe that it is possible for us to do so."

Attorney Lightfoot for the defense made an immediate request that the jury be discharged, but it was denied by Judge Robinson, who declared that it had taken sixteen days for the trial of the case and that an immediate discharge could not be reasonably expected.

"It is the duty this jury owes to the people of the Territory," said Judge Robinson, "that it should exhaust every possible effort to reach a verdict, and until it is certain that this is done it is its duty and my duty to insist that the jury continue its deliberations."

Lightfoot Talks.

Attorney Lightfoot referred to the recent death of Mr. Jones' wife and suggested that the juror be excused for the night so as to be with his children.

Attorney Prosser, who was present in court as the representative of the prosecution, objected to the tenor of Lightfoot's remarks before the jury. Mr. Prosser declared that he would be perfectly willing to have Mr. Jones excused if it was possible, but he declared with emphasis that when Lightfoot made the suggestion he well knew that it would be in violation of the law and could not be countenanced by the court.

Lightfoot disclaimed any intention of desiring to influence the jury, and Judge Robinson then proceeded with the details of arranging for the accommodations of the twelve jurymen overnight.

MERCHANTS WILL NO LONGER ACT

Japanese Stop Endeavoring to Bring About Strike Settlement.

The Japanese Merchants' Association has washed its hands of the entire strike problem. Yesterday afternoon the Association held a meeting and finally decided to stop all efforts toward securing a settlement of the labor quarrel.

For some time past the Japanese merchants of the city have been endeavoring to induce the strikers to return to work, and many meetings have been held to discuss the matter. But little progress was made, and yesterday it was finally decided to let matters take their course and right themselves.

The presidents of several of the Japanese organizations have been urging the strikers from their provinces to return to the plantations, and it is understood that, to a certain extent, their efforts have been met with success. Now that it has been demonstrated that the law will not tolerate any interference with men desiring to return to work, it is believed that more strikers will desert the standards of the Higher Wage Association.

There was a rumor current last night to the effect that a large number of men would return to Waipahu today in order to be on hand to commence work tomorrow morning.

The Nippon Jiji states that Editor Yokokawa of the Maui Shinbun, the organ of the Higher Wage Association on the southern island, had been arrested on a charge of publishing obscene literature. Yokokawa was in trouble about two months ago, being arrested on a charge of misusing the United States mails.

THINKS HE IS THE MESSIAH.

A man named Dennis has reappeared in Kona, Hawaii, claiming to be Christ. He has set two women frantic, one of whom claims to be Eve. Both are now under surveillance. A rumor came down in the mail that Dennis had been tarred and feathered and ordered out of the county. He is a disciple of Dr. Yoakum's Los Angeles school of New Thought.

ATCHERLEY TELLS JUDGE OF THE MAN IN THE GARRET

Dr. John Atcherley yesterday morning in the police court told to Judge Andrade during the course of his examination virtually the same story that he has repeatedly told and which he published in the Advertiser—the story which was directly the cause of his arrest as an insane person dangerous to the public safety.

The witnesses who testified in the case yesterday morning expressed the unqualified opinion that Dr. Atcherley is mad, his insanity taking the form of paranoia.

Except for the assistance of his wife, Dr. Atcherley fought his own battle in court yesterday. Attorney Magoon was nowhere in evidence.

Except for the delusion of persecution, Atcherley appeared to be fairly clear-headed and his cross-examination of the witnesses was characterized by a certain shrewdness and cunning.

The four doctors of the Lunacy Commission, Dr. Emerson, Dr. Collins, Dr. Sinclair and Dr. Mackall, were witnesses for the prosecution, which was conducted by the County Attorney. Each testified that he had examined Dr. Atcherley since the latter's arrest, and each unqualifiedly pronounced him insane, the victim of paranoia. Each one, furthermore, stated that he believed Dr. Atcherley a dangerous man to be allowed at large, as he was liable at any time to attempt to shoot one of those whom he believes to be persecuting him. His form of insanity, they said, is absolutely incurable.

UNITED STATES SECOND.

PARIS, July 7.—The Temps takes issue with M. Michel, who declared yesterday in the Chamber of Deputies during the debate on the naval inquiry commission's report that Germany stood second among the naval powers. The Temps points out that second place is held by the United States, which with a fleet of sixteen battleships "accomplished an admirable feat in the circumnavigation of the globe."

The paper adds that all English authorities class the United States second among the naval powers, Germany, therefore, would be third and France fourth.
