THEY CLUNG TO A CAPSIZED BOAT

Samoan Swam Ashore to Get Aid for His Comrades.

With two men clinging to the bottom of a capsized boat off Barber's Point yesterday, a Samoan fisherman swam in four miles for assistance, and launches were immediately despatched from Watertown, Pearl Harbor, but up to a late hour last night the men had not been brought in.

The Samoan, whose name is Eolola, went out in the boat with two Porto Ricans. When off Barber's Point the vessel overturned and the men were thrown into the water. They managed to gain the bottom of the boat and clung there. The Samoan found that the only thing to do was to swim to the shore, but the Porto Ricans could not swim. The Samoan thereupon decided to swim in alone and get boats to bring his comrades in. He landed at Keaha point and walked overland to the dredging camp. The launch Pearl was sent out but she returned last evening without having found any trace of the men, and the larger launch Hukihuki, owned by Young brothers, was despatched seaward.

It is understood also that launches from the warships at anchor off port have been ordered to look out for the boat and its unfortunate men.

The accident occurred about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon and it was after 5 before the Samoan reached the camp.

COUNTY FATHERS HOLD MEETING

POST HOLES WILL COST BUT FIFTY CENTS UNDER LAW

Post holes will cost fifty cents each, not one dollar. At the suggestion of Deputy County Attorney Milverton, the street excavation ordinance was last night amended, that there might be no question of revenue raising involved should the matter ever be brought into courts. Also the permit fee for continuous excavations, such as pipe trenches, was made a little more definite. As the ordinance originally stood, each excavation cost one dollar; now for a ditch a permit must be secured for every 300-foot stretch, and each permit will cost fifty cents.

It was explained that, as there is every likelihood that the ordinance will be tested in the courts, it is desirable that no loopholes be left whereby some unimportant item may invalidate the entire law. The deputy county attorney explained that a fee of one dollar for each permit might be considered in the light of a tax levied for the purpose of raising revenue, a thing which the county has no authority to do. He therefore recommended that the permit fee be reduced to a figure commensurate with the amount of work necessary on the part of the county to supervise and inspect the excavations.

Aylett wanted to pass the ordinance in its original form, and then take the amendment up later, in order to avoid re-advertising the whole law. This plan did not meet with favor and finally the amendments were incorporated as recommended by the county attorney.

CONSULS WILL WEAR TOP HATS

Honolulu to Have an International Fete.

This is top-hat week, for many of the consuls accredited to Hawaii have to play host for the next ten days, owing to the presence in port of warships of the countries which they represent. Yesterday the Netherlands cruiser Noordbrabant arrived from Java, en route to San Francisco, to participate in the Portola festival. On Friday or Saturday His Imperial Japanese Majesty's cruiser Idzuma will arrive from Yokohama and the German cruiser Areona will arrive about the same time from the China station, both bound for the Coast for the Portola festival. Then the English cruiser Bedford may drop in about October 1 from Yokohama, bound for the same port on the same mission.

With eight cruisers of Admiral Seebree's fleet, the American gunboat Concord, the supply ship Glacier, the U. S. tug Iroquois, the Netherlands cruiser Noordbrabant, the British cruiser Bedford, the Japanese cruiser Idzuma and the German cruiser Areona all in port, Honolulu will have a little international fete all by herself. For several months, even years, Count A. de Souza Canavaro, the Portuguese consul, has been expecting a Portuguese man-of-war to come here, and it would not be a great surprise if a boat arrived here from Macao on the way to San Francisco. There is little hope for a Chinese cruiser, for the Chinese navy is only in the making just at present, although a Far Eastern newspaper recently stated that a Chinese warship might be despatched to the Coast to participate in the big festival.

Herr Harry von Holt, consul for the Netherlands, and therefore the personal representative in Hawaii of the good Dutch Queen Wilhelmina, is the man of the hour just at present. He blossomed out yesterday in top hat and will receive the customary salute when he goes aboard the cruiser. On Saturday it will be the turn of the German, British and Japanese consuls to don top hats, or uniforms.

V. L. BOECK IS CHIEF CLERK

Maui Man Chosen From Among Many Applicants for Position.

V. L. Boeck, of Puunene, Maui, private secretary to H. P. and F. F. Baldwin, has been selected to succeed Roderick C. Matheson as chief clerk of the Executive Department of the Territory. An announcement of this effect was made by Secretary Mott-Smith yesterday, thus settling definitely the question that has been asked ever since the news was made public that Mr. Matheson was to succeed Walter G. Smith as editor of the Advertiser.

Mr. Boeck was only one among a large number of applicants for the position, but his backing and his reputation were sufficient to secure him the coveted place. He has been the private secretary for the Baldwins for some time and is said to be a very efficient man. He has been anxious for some time to come to Honolulu with his family to give his children the advantages of the public schools here. The vacancy in the Secretary's office gave him the chance he wanted, and he promptly applied for it.

There were a large number of other applicants, among them two Honolulu newspaper men. Considerable surprise was felt about town when it became known yesterday that Senator Palmer Woods of Kohala was an applicant for the position. Henry O'Sullivan, first assistant clerk of the Territory, was very favorably considered for the place, and had he been a little older, there is no doubt but that his faithful services would have been rewarded by merited promotion.

When the Alameda is laid up for repairs this winter the Sierra may be placed temporarily on the San Francisco-Honolulu run, according to W. M. Giffard of William G. Irwin & Co. Mr. Irwin states that no definite decision has been arrived at, but he admits that there is some talk of placing the Sierra on the run at least during the time that the Alameda is on the shelf.

GOVERNOR HUGHES YESTERDAY LAID THE CORNERSTONE OF THE HUDSON MONUMENT IN THE PRESENCE OF A CROWD OF RECORD-BREAKING PROPORTIONS.

GOVERNOR HUGHES.

HUGHES LAYS CORNER STONE OF THE HUDSON MEMORIAL MONUMENT

Grandstand Seats for Parade in Great Demand ---President Taft Inspects Montana Mine ---Earthquakes Forecast.

(Associated Press Cablegrams.)

NEW YORK, September 28.—Governor Hughes spoke yesterday at the dedication of the new Palisades park. The ceremony of laying the cornerstone for the Hudson memorial monument was performed by the Governor in a drizzling rain. Despite the inclement weather, the attendance at the ceremony was enormous. The crowd was the largest that has ever turned out in New York for such an occasion.

Tickets for seats from which to witness tomorrow's parade are in unprecedented demand. Single seats in the grandstands are selling at $25, while rooms with windows fronting on the line of march are in big demand at $100. Persons owning buildings on the streets along which the parade will pass are reaping a rich harvest.

Despite the efforts of those in charge to provide ample accommodations, it will be impossible to supply seats to all applicants. Many persons who purchased their tickets early are disposing of them at a handsome profit, relying on catching a glimpse of the parade from walls and curbs.

PRESIDENT DESCENDS INTO BOWELS OF THE EARTH

BUTTE, Montana, September 28.—Clad in a linen duster and a slouch hat and swinging a lantern as though he had been accustomed to such things all his life, President Taft yesterday descended twelve hundred feet into a copper mine. The President was accompanied by Secretaries Ballinger and Hitchcock. After the party returned to the upper levels and emerged into the light of day, the President expressed his appreciation of the unique experience underground in enthusiastic terms.

Perret says that the unusual relative positions of the earth, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn and the moon during the next three days will be most favorable to earthquakes and like disturbances.

JURY SPENDS NIGHT AT MOANA

Not a Downtown Hotel With Available Room.

The jury in the riot trial is locked up at the Moana Hotel. Last night when the jurors found that there was no immediate hope of reaching an agreement, inquiry was started for hotel accommodations. There was not a room to be had in a downtown hotel, so the Moana was communicated with.

LIQUOR REGULATIONS MAY BE MADE MORE STRINGENT SUNDAYS

As a result of the free circulation of liquor on Sunday, steps will probably be taken to put a quietus on the Sunday deliveries of beer and other intoxicants. As far as could be ascertained yesterday, the brewery stopped delivering on saloon orders soon after 4 o'clock. This was about the time the Advertiser began investigating the state of affairs.

More or less damage was done late Sunday night and early yesterday morning. Several plate glass windows were smashed, while others were disfigured, evidently with diamonds.

The evident evasion of the spirit of the Sunday closing regulation has stirred up considerable feeling, and steps will probably be taken to see that a repetition of Sunday's performances does not occur. Whatever may be the legal status of the case, there is general condemnation for the saloons which sold orders for Sunday delivery of beer and the brewery is being severely arraigned for honoring the orders. The whole affair is likely to result in far more stringent regulations than those now in force.

PEARY SAYS HE HAS SPENT $500,000 REACHING POLE

BATTLE HARBOR, Labrador, September 14.—Commander Peary estimates his total expenditures in polar explorations, roughly speaking, at $500,000. He said today that the first and smaller portion of this was his own and his wife's fortunes, and the contributions of friends. The proceeds of his lectures and books also went in, said Commander Peary. Of the total outlay about $350,000 had been supplied by members of the Peary Arctic Club and other citizens. He had always lived on his salary, and until 1900 was in debt for money advanced for his Arctic investigations.

MILK MUST BE MILKED BY RULE

Ordinances Pass Third Reading Despite Opposition.

Dairymen must buy white coats, paint their milk houses, patch up their fences and avoid watering their milk. Ordinances Nos. 12 and 13 will soon be law.

The much discussed, much maligned, much condemned milk and dairy ordinances have passed third reading and just as soon as the Mayor attixes his signature, and the statutory ten publications have been made, the milk inspector will descend upon the unlucky individuals whose dairy plants do not comply with what the county fathers believe to be the right and proper rules governing the handling, storage and sale of lacteal fluid, and will hale them into the police court, that they may be mulcted of many hard-earned dollars. Last night the ordinances came up on third reading, and they passed four to three.

Supervisor Cox objected to the provisions of the milk ordinance; so did also Supervisor Kane; likewise did Supervisor McClellan. McClellan said that he had had a conference in San Francisco with the Hon. D. P. R. Isenberg, who had told him that, though he himself could observe the terms of the proposed ordinance without any great difficulty, the small dealers would be forced out of business.

The suggestion was made that there were milk dealers present who would like to speak, and the opportunity was given them. Only one took advantage of the opportunity, and he did not seem very certain just in what respect he opposed the ordinance—though he opposed it strongly enough. When pressed for some specific instance, he cited the section requiring white aprons.

Finally the question was put and the ordinance carried, Cox, McClellan and Kane voting against it. The dairy ordinance, No. 13, was then put to a vote and passed, the same gentlemen voicing their disapprobation.

KEIO UNIVERSITY TOO MUCH FOR WISCONSIN

For the second time in a week the Wisconsin baseball team went down in defeat before the lads of the Keio University of Tokio Saturday, according to a cablegram received yesterday by the Hawaii Shinpo. The score was Keio University 2, Wisconsin 1. On the occasion of the first game, the Keio University players won by a score of 3 to 2.

The swamp land at Waikiki between Saratoga and Lewers streets, belonging to the Bishop Estate, will be drained. Walter Dillingham, on behalf of the Hawaiian Dredging Company, has closed a deal with the estate. Ten thousand dollars is involved in the transaction, which will make some nine acres of land, now practically worthless, very valuable.
